Foreword

The newly established Office of Institutional Research is pleased to present the Boston College Fact Book, 2004-2005, the 32nd edition of this publication.

This book is intended as a single, readily accessible, consistent source of information about the Boston College Community, its resources, and its operations. It is a summary of institutional data gathered from many areas of the University, compiled to capture the 2003-2004 Fiscal and Academic Year, and the fall semester of the 2004-2005 Academic Year. Where appropriate, multiple years of data are provided for historical perspective. It is not all encompassing but will provide pertinent facts and figures valuable to administrators, faculty, staff, and students alike.

Sincere appreciation is extended to all contributors who offered their time and expertise to maintain the greatest possible accuracy and standardization of their data. We are indebted to IR staff members Jessica Greene, Carol Pepin, and Margaret Ryan for their assistance and input. A special thank you is also extended to graduate students, Jackie Gould and Thomas McGuinness, for their diligence and attention to detail.

A concerted effort is made to make this publication an increasingly more useful reference, at the same time enhancing your understanding of the scope and progress of the University. We welcome your comments and suggestions toward that goal.

This fact book, as well as those from previous years, is available in its entirety at http://www.bc.edu/factbook.

The Mission of Boston College

Strengthened by more than a century and a quarter of dedication to academic excellence, Boston College commits itself to the highest standards of teaching and research in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs and to the pursuit of a just society through its own accomplishments, the work of its faculty and staff, and the achievements of its graduates. It seeks both to advance its place among the nation's finest universities and to bring to the company of its distinguished peers and to contemporary society the richness of the Catholic intellectual ideal of a mutually illuminating relationship between religious faith and free intellectual inquiry.

Boston College draws inspiration for its academic and societal mission from its distinctive religious tradition. As a Catholic and Jesuit university, it is rooted in a world view that encounters God in all creation and through all human activity, especially in the search for truth in every discipline, in the desire to learn, and in the call to live justly together. In this spirit, the University regards the contribution of different religious traditions and value systems as essential to the fullness of its intellectual life and to the continuous development of its distinctive intellectual heritage.

Boston College pursues this distinctive mission by serving society in three ways:

- by fostering the rigorous intellectual development and the religious, ethical, and personal formation of its undergraduate, graduate, and professional students in order to prepare them for citizenship, service, and leadership in a global society;
- by producing nationally and internationally significant research that advances insight and understanding, thereby both enriching culture and addressing important societal needs; and
- by committing itself to advance the dialogue between religious belief and other formative elements of culture through the intellectual inquiry, teaching and learning, and the community life that form the University.

Boston College fulfills this mission with a deep concern for all members of its community, with a recognition of the important contribution a diverse student body, faculty, and staff can offer, with a firm commitment to academic freedom, and with a determination to exercise careful stewardship of its resources in pursuit of its academic goals

A Brief History of Boston College

Boston College was founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863, and is one of twenty-eight Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States. With three teachers and twenty-two students, the school opened its doors on September 5, 1864. At the outset and for more than seven decades of its first century, the college remained an exclusively liberal arts institution with emphasis on the Greek and Latin classics, English and modern languages and with more attention to philosophy than to the physical or social sciences. Religion, of course, had its place in the classroom as well as in the nonacademic life of the college.

Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, where it shared quarters with the Boston College High School, the College outgrew its urban setting toward the end of its first fifty years. A new location was selected in Chestnut Hill, then almost rural, and four parcels of land were acquired in 1907. A design competition for the development of the campus was won by the firm of Maginnis and Walsh, and ground was broken on June 19, 1909, for the construction of Gasson Hall. It is located on the site of the Lawrence farmhouse, in the center of the original tract of land purchased by Father Gasson, and is built largely of stone taken from the surrounding property.

Later purchases doubled the size of the property, with the addition of the upper campus in 1941, and the lower campus with the acquisition of the Lawrence Basin and adjoining land in 1949. In 1974 Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, a mile-and-a-half from the main campus. With fifteen buildings standing on forty acres, it is now the site of the Boston College Law School and residence halls housing 800 freshmen.

Though incorporated as a university since its beginning, it was not until its second half-century that Boston College began to fill out the dimensions of its charter. The Summer Session was inaugurated in 1924; the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in 1925; the Law School, 1929; the Evening College, 1929; the Graduate School of Social Work, 1936; the College of Business Administration, 1938. The latter, along with its Graduate School established in 1957, is now known as The Wallace E. Carroll School of Management. The Schools of Nursing and Education were founded in 1947 and 1952, respectively and are now known as the William F. Connell School of Nursing and the Carolyn A. and Peter S. Lynch School of Education. Weston Observatory, founded in 1928, became a department of Boston College in 1947, offering courses in geophysics and geology.

The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences began programs at the doctoral level in 1952. Now courses leading to the doctorate are offered by twelve Arts and Sciences departments. The Schools of Education and Nursing, the Carroll Graduate School of Management, and the Graduate School of Social Work also offer doctoral programs.

In 1927 Boston College conferred one earned bachelor's degree and fifteen master's degrees on women through the Extension Division, the precursor of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, the Evening College, and the Summer Session. By 1970 all undergraduate programs had become coeducational. Today women students comprise more than half of the University's enrollment.

In 1996 the Evening College became the College of Advancing Studies, offering a master's degree as well as the bachelor's degree; in 2002 the College was renamed the Woods College of Advancing Studies. In July 1996, the University's longest presidency, 24 years, came to an end when Father J. Donald Monan became chancellor and was succeeded in the presidency by Father William P. Leahy.

During the decade of the nineties, the University completed several major construction projects, including the expansion and renovation of Higgins Hall, the updating of residence halls on the upper campus and Newton campus; and the construction of a new office building for faculty and administration on lower campus. These projects provided oncampus housing for more than 80% of the college undergraduates.

In recent years, major advances have also occurred in student selectivity, as well as faculty research. Between 1996 and 2003, freshman applications increased from 16,501 to 22,424, and the middle range SAT scores of admitted students increased from 1200-1340 to 1260-1390. During this same period, the dollar amount of sponsored project awards received by the University more than doubled.

Since 1996, the University's endowment has grown from $590 million to approximately $1.2 billion, the result of successful investment strategies and the Ever to Excel campaign, which surpassed its original $300 million goal and raised more than $440 million in gifts from approximately 90,000 donors. A milestone in the history of the University took place on June 29, 2004, when Boston College acquired 43 acres of land and five buildings in Brighton previously owned by the Archdiocese of Boston, making it possible for Boston College to expand its campus well into the future.

THE JESUIT COMMUNITY AT BOSTON COLLEGE

With 112 members, the Jesuit Community at Boston College is one of the larger communities in the Society of Jesus. Fifty-six Jesuits serve in the University as members of the administration, faculty, or staff, working either full-time or parttime. A number of Jesuits in the community also offer Ignatian retreats and spiritual direction to faculty, staff, and students. Also part of the community are 26 Jesuits from 16 different countries who are studying for graduate degrees at the University or are visiting scholars from other various parts of the world.

The main community residence is St. Mary's Hall, but there are also five smaller communities around the perimeter of the campus. Eight Jesuits live in the residence halls. The Jesuits who staff St. Ignatius Parish are also part of the Boston College Jesuit Community. For further details, including a list of courses taught by Jesuits at Boston College, see the Jesuit Community Web page at http://fmwww.bc.edu/SJ.

Digital Library Services

Quest: The Library Information System

Quest, the Libraries' web-based integrated system, provides convenient access to the Libraries' collections, digital resources, and services from www.bc.edu/quest. It offers a variety of methods for finding books, periodicals, media resources, microforms, newspapers, and electronic materials.

Quest can easily be searched from any web browser regardless of platform or location 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Users can interact with the system and receive immediate feedback on the status of requests; they can place a hold, recall or request rush processing for a new book right from their desktop. Users can also initiate and track requests for document delivery and interlibrary loan transactions, and may renew materials that are currently charged to them. The web interface and expanded cataloging capabilities allow unprecedented access to thousands of web accessible scholarly resources, to full text journals and to digital collections of photographs and other material.

Digital Resources

The Boston College Libraries offer access to a rich collection of electronic indexes and databases. A growing number of these databases include full text access to thousands of books and journals directly from the researcher's desktop. See the list of Online Databases on the Libraries' home page, <code>www.bc.edu/libraries.html</code>to get a sense of the range of resources. The list includes groupings by subject and an alphabetical listing by title. Databases range in coverage from very general to very specific and cover a wide range of research areas in the humanities, social sciences, sciences, health sciences, business law, and public affairs. Most databases can be reached directly by clicking on the web links. Others can be accessed in the O'Neill Library Reference area or the Law Library. An expanding number of links to electronic journals may also be found by selecting Electronic Journals from the Libraries' home page. The libraries have also introduced technologies that provide links between the databases and e-journal collections, http://www.bc.edu/libraries/resources/databases/s-sfxfaq/. Most databases available through the Boston College Libraries are restricted to the Boston College community. Your BC username and password are needed to access these databases from off campus.

The Libraries also support an expanding digital collection of special and rare materials such as the Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr. Photographs, the Liturgy and Life Artifacts collection and the Boston Gas Company Photographs via the John J. Burns Library Rare Books and Special Collections web page: http://www.bc.edu/libraries/centers/burns/resources/digitalcoll/

Librarians offer classes in how to search databases effectively, by arrangement with professors, and also provide individual coaching at various library services points or by appointment. Researchers who cannot locate resources needed may contact a librarian to develop a search strategy to locate relevant information. See the list of Subject Bibliographers to know which librarian to contact. http://www.bc.edu/libraries/services/ref-instruc/s-subjectspec/

Interlibrary Loan

An Interlibrary Loan Service is offered to students, faculty, administrators, and staff to obtain research materials not available in the Boston College Libraries. Books, journal articles, microfilm, theses and government documents may be borrowed from other libraries. Except for unusual items, the waiting period is from one to three weeks; some materials arrive within a day or two. Requests are made by using online forms available on the Libraries' web site or in the Your Account function of Quest.

The Boston College Libraries are part of the Boston Library Consortium, a group of area libraries which includes Brandeis University, Boston University, Brown University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Northeastern University, Tufts University, University of Massachusetts System, Wellesley College, Williams College, as well as the Massachusetts State Library, the Boston Public Library, and the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole. Faculty and students may apply for a Consortium borrower's card at the Reference Department in O'Neill Library in order to borrow directly from the member libraries. Choose MetaQuest from the Libraries' home page to search several of the library catalogs simultaneously. Ask at the O'Neill Reference Desk for more information about the Consortium, including the 24/7 virtual reference service in which the Boston College Libraries participate.

Association of Research Libraries

The Libraries are a member of the Association of Research Libraries, a distinction limited to 124 research institutions sharing common goals, interests, and needs. The mission of ARL is to shape and influence forces affecting the future of research libraries in the process of scholarly communication. Membership is by invitation upon the recommendation of the ARL Board of Directors and approval of the membership.

United State Government Publications

O'Neill Library at Boston College is a member of the Federal Depository Libraries system. As a member of the depository system, O'Neill Library receives government documents in print, microfiche, and electronic formats and makes them available to the general public as well as Boston College students, staff and faculty. Patrons can locate government documents in Quest, the library catalog. Many government publications are also available via the internet. Further information may be found at http://www.bc.edu/libraries/centers/govdocs/. Questions about the O'Neill collection and the availability of government documents should be directed to the Reference staff in O'Neill Library and staff in the Documents and Microforms department.

Media Center

The Media Center on the second floor of the O'Neill Library houses information in many non-print formats: videocassettes, DVDs, laserdiscs, compact discs, audiocassettes, LPs, and CD-ROMs. Patrons within the Center, in individual carrels, may use all media. Faculty may conduct classes using media in either of our two classrooms. There is a Preview Room where faculty and/or students may meet in small groups for discussing or previewing media materials used in coursework. Loans of videos are restricted to BC faculty.

New England Library Information Network/OCLC

Through membership in the New England Library Information Network (NELINET), our users have on-line access to publishing, cataloging, and interlibrary loan location information from the data bank of OCLC, Inc. which contains over 56 million bibliographic records from the Library of Congress and other national libraries, and from over 50,000 other libraries worldwide.

John J. Burns Library of Rare Books and Special Collections

The University's special collections, including the University's Archives, are housed in the Honorable John J. Burns Library, located in the Bapst Library Building, north entrance. These distinguished and varied collections speak eloquently of the University's commitment to the preservation and dissemination of human knowledge. The Burns Library is home to more than 150,000 volumes, some 15,000,000 manuscripts, and important collections of architectural records, maps, art works, photographs, films, prints, artifacts, and ephemera. These materials are housed in the climatecontrolled, secure environment of Burns either because of their rarity or because of their importance as part of a special collection. While treated with special care, these resources are available for use at Burns to all qualified students, faculty, and researchers. Indeed, their use is strongly encouraged, and visitors to Burns are always welcome, either simply to browse or to make use of the collections.

The Language Laboratory

The Boston College Language Laboratory, serving all the language departments, students of English as a foreign language, and the Boston College community at large, is located in Lyons 313. In addition to its 32 listening/recording stations and teacher console, the facility includes 20 workstations (16 Macs, 2 Dell desktops, 2 Dell wireless laptops), 4 Mac wireless laptops, 2 laser printers, a Web server, a materials development workstation, 2 TV/video/DVD viewing rooms, 2 individual carrels for TV/videocassette/DVD viewing, a CD listening station, and portable audio and video equipment. The Lab's media collection and print materials directly support and/or supplement the curriculum requirements in international language, literature, and music.

The Lab's collection is designed to assist users in the acquisition and maintenance of aural comprehension, oral and written proficiency, and cultural awareness. Prominent among the Lab's offerings that directly address these goals are international news broadcasts and other television programming available through the Boston College cable television network and made accessible to lab users via EagleNET connections and/or via videotaped off-air recordings. These live or near-live broadcasts from around the world provide a timely resource for linguistic and cultural information in a wide variety of languages.

Students (undergraduate and graduate), faculty and B.C. community members who wish to use the Language Laboratory facility and its collection will find the Laboratory staff available during the day, in the evening, and on weekends to assist them in the operation of equipment and in the selection of appropriate materials for their course-related or personal language needs. Digitized audio programs from the Lab's collection are also available on the Boston College network 24 hours/day, 7 days/week to students officially enrolled in courses in which these programs have been adopted as curricular material. For more information about the Language Laboratory, visit its Web site at http://www.bc.edu/langlab.

The McMullen Museum of Art

The Charles S. and Isabella V. McMullen Museum of Art aims to increase understanding of the visual arts, to encourage inquiry, and to enrich learning through the display of a notable permanent collection and special exhibitions of international importance. The Museum occupies two floors of Devlin Hall. Spacious galleries with movable walls provide flexible exhibition spaces that rival venues in larger museums. The Museum maintains an active special exhibition program, bringing outstanding works from around the world to Chestnut Hill. The Museum organizes public lectures, symposia, workshops, film series, and gallery tours to accompany current exhibitions. Begun in the nineteenth century, the University's permanent collection contains works that span the history of art from Europe, Asia, and the Americas. Outstanding among them are Gothic and Baroque tapestries, Italian paintings of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, American landscape paintings of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, and Japanese prints. The collection is displayed on a rotating basis in the Museum's galleries. In keeping with the teaching mission of a university museum, accompanying text explains the significance of each work in its historical context and addresses questions from the current scholarship. Fernand Khnopff: Inner Visions and Landscapes

September 19- December 5, 2004

Khnopff's striking compositions, marked by nearly photographic realism and enigmatic imagery stood out even in the bold avant-garde exhibitions of the late nineteenth century. This retrospective presented over eighty paintings and works on paper, many rarely exhibited and published, that span the career of this key figure in the European Symbolist movement. Included were Khnopff's most important works from the Royal Art Museums in Brussels and private collections in Belgium, Switzerland, France and the United States and well as two masterpieces that inspired Khnopff: James Ensor's The Russian Music and Dante Gabriel Rossetti's Rosa Triplex. Organized by Frederik Leen, the retrospective opened earlier at the Royal Museums of Fine Art in Brussels, where it attracted over 163,000 visitors and wide acclaim in the European media. Boston College was the only North American venue for the exhibition, which marked the tenth anniversary of the McMullen Museum. Accompanying the exhibition was an illustrated catalogue with essays by various scholars, including Jeffery. Howe of the Fine Arts Department, who is serving as curator at the McMullen.

Accommodations of Desire: Surrealist Works on Paper Collected by Julien Levy

January 16 - March 24, 2005

Surrealism, which dominated modern art in the 1930s and 1940s, attempted to reconcile the world of dreams and everyday reality into a radically creative superreality, or surreality Championing and representing this movement through its formative years, from 1931 to 1949 when the center of the cultural avant-garde shifted from Paris to New York, the Julien Levy Gallery in New York was a vital conduit for artistic exchange Levy gave several of the artists in this exhibition - Eugene Berman, Joseph Cornell, Salvador Dalí, Max Ernst, Léonor Fini, Man Ray, Dorothea Tanning, Roberto Matta, and Arshile Gorky – their first solo exhibitions in New York In presenting 115 works from Julien Levy's collection, Accommodations of Desire explored not only the dealer's historic role in the promotion of Surrealism, but also his zeal and affinity for the concepts and artists of the movement

Gone: Site Specific Works by Dorothy Cross

April 14 – July 12, 2005

Dorothy Cross was born in Cork in 1956, and has been creating sculpture, photography, and videos from her home base in Ireland for over 20 years. As the representative of Ireland in the 1993 Venice Biennale, and with her international solo exhibitions including venues in London, New York and Philadelphia, Cross has gained wide recognition for a body of work both local and global in its range of concerns as well as in its reception. Her interest in the complexities of place, in the poignancy of the abandoned and the ephemeral, has found expression in her temporary site-specific installations around the world. Coinciding with the major retrospective of Cross's career scheduled to open in June at the Irish Museum of Modern Art in Dublin, GONE: Site-specific Works by Dorothy Cross brings together for the first time documentary photographs, videos, and objects from nine of these projects. Presented as a whole, this body of work illuminates the double perspective from which Cross explores the local.

TREE A New Vision of the American Forest: Photographs by James Balog

April 14 - July 12, 2005

Transcending conventional nature photography, James Balog explores the changing character of the American forest in his photographs of "superlative trees" Often he focuses on a single concentrated frame, exposing complex and swirling details of ancient trees, "champions," as they are called by arboreal aficionados He shows sculpturally elegant trees that have survived by sheer hardiness or luck Borrowing from the cubist sensibility of Picasso and Braque and building upon the mosaic-assemblage technique pioneered by photographer David Hockney, his most recent photographs are produced using a digital multi-exposure method Balog captures a tree in thousands of tiny frames as he rappels down an adjacent tree; the composite image evokes the tree's titanic scale Individual photo shards—as many as eight hundred per assemblage—double as leaves on his digitally reconstructed tree This exhibit presents a geographically diverse selection of trees that span the United States and range in age from several hundred to two-thousand years Central to the exhibition is a monumental, color assemblage of a Giant Sequoia

University Research Institutes and Centers

Center for Child, Family, and Community Partnerships

The Center for Child, Family and Community Partnerships is an "outreach scholarship" program that fosters collaboration among Boston College faculty, students and community leaders in health care, social service, economic development, and education. The goal of the participants is to create stronger, healthier, and more economically sound communities. The Center offers technical assistance, program evaluation, needs assessment, training, and consultation to community organizations. Web site: http://www.csteep.bc.edu/ccfcp/.

Center for Corporate Citizenship at Boston College

The Center for Corporate Citizenship at Boston College engages with companies to redefine business success as creating measurable gains for business and society. Our vision is that business will use its assets to help assure economic prosperity and a just and sustainable world. The Center achieves results through the power of research, education and member engagement. The Center offers publications including a newsletter, research reports, and white papers; executive education, including a Certificate program; events that include an annual conference, roundtables and regional meetings; and a corporate membership program. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/corporatecitizenship

Center for East Europe, Russia, and Asia

The Center's programs encourage faculty and students to participate in interdepartmental endeavors on both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Participating faculty come from the Departments of Fine Arts, History, Philosophy, Political Science, Slavic and Eastern Languages, and Theology and offer over eighty academic courses connected with the study of the culture, history, and political life of East Europe, Russia, the Balkans, and Central Asia.

Center for Ignatian Spirituality

The Center for Ignatian Spirituality is a university operation that offers faculty and staff a resource to carry on the needed dialogue between the values that constitute Boston College and the pluralism that characterizes our contemporary culture. The Center initiates its own programs, inviting faculty and staff to pursue a particular topic; gives support to the Ignatian Society, a student group committed to integrating Ignatian spirituality into the lives of its members and offering other students opportunities to do the same; sponsors retreats and reflection opportunities for faculty and staff; and has a wide range of national and international commitments to other institutions in their efforts to integrate Ignatian spirituality into their educational endeavors. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/igspirit.

Center for International Higher Education(CIHE)

Established in 1995 and housed in the Lynch School of Education, CIHE is a research and service agency providing information, publications and a sense of community to colleges and universities worldwide. The main focus of the Center is on academic institutions in the Jesuit tradition, but other universities receive its publications and are part of an informal network. There is a special concern with the needs of academic institutions in the developing countries of the Third World. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/bc_org/avp/soe/cihe.

Center for Nursing Research (CNR)

The CNR's central purpose is to serve as an institutional resource for faculty and students in the School of Nursing, the Boston College community, and the greater Boston nursing and health care community. Three interrelated but separate goals support the purpose of the CNR: (1) to strengthen the research productivity of faculty in the School of Nursing, (2) to increase intradisciplinary and interdisciplinary research and scholarship, and (3) to communicate research findings to facilitate research utilization in nursing practice and in educational settings. The Center serves as a repository for the Cathy J. Malek Research Collection as well as books and other materials related to quantitative and qualitative research methods, data analysis, grant seeking and grant writing. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/bc_org/avp/son/ctrnsgresearch/nsgresearch.html.

Center for Retirement Research

The Center for Retirement Research at Boston College was established through a 5-year $5.25 million grant from the Social Security Administration in 1998. The goals of the Center are to promote research on retirement issues, to transmit new findings to the policy community and the public, to help train new scholars, and to broaden access to valuable data sources. The Center is the headquarters for researchers and experts in affi liated institutions including MIT, Syracuse University, the Brookings Institution, the Urban Institute, and the National Academy of Social Insurance. The Center is structured around a research team of interdisciplinary backgrounds in actuarial science, demography, economics, economic history, finance, political science, sociology and social work, and possesses a breadth of knowledge on retirement issues and institutions virtually unmatched in the field. As the nation confronts the myriad issues surrounding how best to ensure adequate retirement income for an aging population, the Center's researchers and experts explore possible policy changes related to Social Security, private pensions, and other sources of retirement income. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/crr.

Center for the Study of Testing, Evaluation, and Educational Policy (CSTEEP)

CSTEEP is an educational research organization located in the Lynch School of Education. Since its inception in 1980, CSTEEP has conducted national and international comparative research on educational achievement and testing, evaluation and public policy studies to improve school assessment practices. CSTEEP researchers work on both small and large scales - individual schools, districts, and states - to advance educational testing practices and policies and to improve the quality and fairness of education. CSTEEP researchers also investigate the use of technology in assessment and its impact on instruction. The Scanning Services Center (SSC) at CSTEEP serves the needs of the Boston College community as well as outside clients. It provides scanning services for departments, individuals, and educational agencies, including scanning for course evaluations, course tests, and research surveys. Web site: http://www.csteep.bc.edu.

Center for Work and Family

The Boston College Center for Work and Family is a research organization within the Carroll School of Management that promotes employer responsiveness to families. The Center's guiding vision is to serve as the bridge linking the academic research community to the workplace. To gain increased understanding of the challenges faced by both employees and employers in meeting the goals of the individual and the enterprise, the Center conducts basic and applied research studies and analyzes secondary information sources. The Center's initiatives fall into three broad categories: research, employer partnerships, and information services. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/cwf.

Center on Wealth and Philanthropy

The Center on Wealth and Philanthropy (CWP), formerly the Social Welfare Research Institute, studies spirituality, wealth, philanthropy, and other aspects of cultural life in an age of affluence. CWP is a recognized authority on the meaning and practice of care, on the patterns and trends in individual charitable giving, on philanthropy by the wealthy, and on the forthcoming $45 trillion wealth transfer. CWP has published research on the patterns, meanings, and motives of charitable giving; on survey methodology; on the formal and informal care in daily life; and on financial transfers to family and philanthropy by the wealthy. Other areas of research include the "new physics of philanthropy," which identifies the economic and social psychological vectors inclining wealth holders toward philanthropy. New directions include developing and training fundraising and financial professionals in the use of a discernment methodology based on Ignatian principles for guiding wealth holders through a self-reflective process of decision-making about their finances and philanthropy; analyzing what key religious and philosophical thinkers understand and teach about wealth and charity; estimating wealth transfer projections for states and metropolitan regions, and analyzing the patterns of relative philanthropic generosity among cities, states, and regions in the U.S. Over the past twenty years CWP has received generous support from the T.B. Murphy Foundation Charitable Trust, the Indiana Center on Philanthropy, the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, the Lilly Endowment, Inc., and the Boston Foundation. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/cwp

International Study Center

The International Study Center at the Lynch School of Education is dedicated to conducting comparative studies in educational achievement. Principally, it serves as the center for international studies in mathematics, science, and reading--the Trends in International Mathematics and Science Study (TIMSS) and the Progress in International Reading Literacy Study (PIRLS). Web site: http://isc.bc.edu/.

Institute of Medieval Philosophy and Theology

The Institute is a center that unites the teaching and research efforts of the faculty members in the Philosophy and Theology Departments who specialize in medieval philosophy and theology. Doctoral degrees are awarded in the Theology or Philosophy departments and students matriculate in one of these two departments. The focus of the Institute is on the relationship between medieval philosophy and theology and modern continental philosophy and theology.

Institute for Scientific Research

The Institute for Scientific Research (ISR), established in 1954, boasts a highly proficient team of research scientists, engineers, mathematicians, and computer scientists. Over the course of its history, the Institute has utilized a diversity of knowledge to develop highly sophisticated techniques for analyzing raw scientific and engineering data and presenting it in meaningful and useful ways. Using state-of-the-art analytical tools and technology including computer-generated modeling, the Institute is a forerunner in scientific data analysis and interpretation using statistical data analysis, digital signal processing and image processing; mathematical signal modeling; animated visualization of real and simulated data; the manipulation and interpretation of scientific images; and the design of specialized databases, data management techniques and interactive scientific software. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/isr.

Institute for the Study and Promotion of Race and Culture

The Institute for the Study and Promotion of Race and Culture (ISPRC) was founded in 2000 at Boston College, under the direction of Dr. Janet E. Helms, to promote the assets and address the societal conflicts associated with race or culture in theory and research, mental health practice, education, business, and society at large. The ISPRC attempts to solicit, design, and disseminate effective interventions with a proactive, pragmatic focus. Each year the Institute addresses a racial or cultural issue that could benefit from a pragmatic scholarly focus through its Diversity Challenge conference. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/isprc.

Irish Institute

The Irish Institute is a division of the Center for Irish Programs at Boston College. The mission of the Institute is to support the peace and normalization process on the island of Ireland and to contribute to social, political, and economic stability through cross-border and cross-community cooperation. Professional development programming by the Institute introduces Irish and Northern Irish participants to successful models of best practices in the U.S., as well as offering an opportunity for cultural exchange that promotes mutual understanding among the U.S., Ireland, and Northern Ireland. Since its founding in 1997, more than 650 decision-makers from all sectors, including government, business, education, environment, policing, media, and nonprofits have participated in over 70 Irish Institute programs. Programs balance classroom seminars led by Boston College faculty with site visits to innovative and effective industry leaders in Massachusetts and across the United States. The Irish Institute is regarded as an honest broker by all parties on the island of Ireland, and its reputation for delivering quality programming in an inclusive environment attracts leaders from all communities and from across the political spectrum. In recent years, the Institute has applied its programming models and expertise in addressing the problems of divided societies to embrace participants from the Middle East and North Africa. The Irish Institute's 2005 programming will be in the areas of local government, journalism, nonprofit management and development, community policing, teacher education, education for cultural diversity, public policy, and business management and leadership. The Institute receives annual funding from Boston College, the U.S. Congress through the U.S. Department of State, and the Bureau of Cultural and Educational Affairs as well as through several other external partnerships. Jesuit Institute

The Jesuit Institute was established in 1988 to contribute towards the response to the question of identity. The Institute, initially funded by the Jesuit Community at Boston College, is not an additional or separate academic program. It is rather a research institute which works in cooperation with existing schools, programs and faculties primarily but not exclusively at Boston College. Within an atmosphere of complete academic freedom essential to a university, the Institute engages positively in the intellectual exchange that constitutes the University. Its overarching purpose is to foster research and collaborate interchange upon those issues that emerge at the intersection of faith and culture. Through its programs, the Institute does this in two ways: by supporting the exploration of those religious and ethical questions raised by this intersection and by supporting the presence of scholars committed to these questions. Lonergan Center

Studies related to the work of the Jesuit theologian and philosopher Bernard Lonergan (1904-1984) are fostered and advanced in the Lonergan Center at Boston College. Inaugurated in 1986, the Center houses a growing collection of Lonergan's published and unpublished writings as well as secondary materials and reference works, and it also serves as a seminar and meeting room. Boston College sponsors the annual Lonergan Institute, which provides resources, lectures, and workshops for the study of the thought of Bernard Lonergan, S.J. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/lonergan.

Mathematics Institute

The Boston College Mathematics Institute was established in 1957 as a unit separate from the Mathematics Department to assist in the effort to improve the content and instructional practice of mathematics at the school level. In the 1960's and 1970's the primary focus of the Institute was on providing veteran teachers with renewal programs and professional development opportunities to update and deepen their background in mathematics. The National Science Foundation was a major source of funding. Concurrently, Institute staff developed some supplementary instructional materials to use with students in the grades K-12. At present, the Mathematics Institute offers professional enhancement courses for teachers in the summers at Boston College and other sites. Other current projects include research studies and content development related to school level mathematics concerns. Web site: http://www.bc.edu/mathinst.

Boisi Center for Religion and American Public Life

The Center for Religion and American Public Life was founded to bring together high quality research and scholarship on religion to bear on issues of public policy in America. The Center's goal is not to advance any ideological agenda, whether liberal or conservative. The Center seeks instead to be the sponsor of dialogue and discussion which brings together people whose primary concerns are religious with people whose primary concerns are political, in the belief that they will find common ground. The main goals of the Center include the promotion of scholarship dealing with religion and public life, faculty and student development at Boston College, and outreach activities that contribute to a more robust public discussion of critical issues.
