FOREWORD

The Boston College Fact Book is a summary of significant statistics gathered from various sources throughout the University. Once again, we wish to extend sincere thanks and appreciation for the excellent cooperation and assistance received from these many sources.

The purpose of the Fact Book is to produce a single-source publication and reference document touching upon and integrating all aspects of the institution's people and its operations. We do wish to point out to all users that the information presented herein was compiled at a specific time - September-October, 1984 - to reflect the Academic Year 1983-1984, as well as the most current enrollment statistics for 1984-85.

The majority of the information is extracted from management reports produced on a regular basis by the various source offices. When reviewing the figures presented we advise you to always note the time frame referenced in the individual tables, and to contact responsible offices should you have further questions.

In the Year of the Library, it was difficult not to focus our attention on the completion and dedication of the new $O$ 'Neill Library, but during the academic year for which we are reporting data, the new library had not been officially completed. We did feel, however, that the photograph introducing the Library Section was in order.

With this 13th edition, we continue our efforts to make the Fact Book as current as possible, as well as an historical overview and welcome suggestions for additional data and improvements.

BOSTON COLLEGE

A Brief History

Boston College was founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863, and is one of twenty-eight Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States. With three teachers and twenty-two students, the school opened its doors on September 5,1864 . While it remained a small liberal arts college, the faculty was predominantly Jesuit, but today's full-time faculty is comprised of 40 Jesuits and 523 lay men and women. Part-time faculty positions are held by 18 Jesuits, in addition to 22 Jesuit members of the university administration.

Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, where it shared quarters with the Boston College High School, the College outgrew its urban setting toward the end of its first fifty years. A new location was selected in Chestnut Hill, then almost rural, and four parcels of land were acquired in 1907. A design competition for the development of the campus was won by the firm of Maginnis and Walsh, and ground was broken on June 19, 1909, for the construction of Gasson Hall. It is located on the site of the Lawrence farmhouse, in the center of the original tract of land purchased by Father Gasson, and is built largely of stone taken from a quarry which occupied part of the sites of Devlin, Higgins, and Cushing Halls. The foundations were blasted out of solid ledge. Because of its historic value, Gasson was completely restored in 1976 in order to preserve its familiar Gothic spires for future generations of students and alumni.

Later purchases doubled the size of the property, with the addition of the upper campus in 1941, and the lower campus with the purchase of the Lawrence Basin and adjoining land in 1949. In 1974 Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, a mile-and-a-half from the main campus. With fifteen handsome Georgian buildings standing in a park-like estate of forty acres, it is now the site of the Boston College Law School, as well as several academic departments, and dormitories housing over 800 freshmen and sophomores.

Though incorporated as a University since its beginning, it was not until its second half-century that Boston College began to fill out the dimensions of its University charter. The Summer Session was inaugurated in 1924; the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in 1925; the Law School, 1929; the Evening College, 1929; the Graduate School of Social Work, 1936; the College of Business Administration, 1938. The latter, along with its Graduate School established in 1957, is now known as the School of Management. The Schools of Nursing and Education were founded in 1947 and 1952, respectively. Weston Observatory, founded in 1928, was accepted as a Department of Boston College in 1947, offering courses in geophysics and geology to graduate students.

In 1927 Boston College conferred one earned bachelor's degree and fifteen master's degrees on women through the Extension Division, the precursor of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, the Evening College, and the Summer Session. Today's women students comprise 57 percent of the University's enrollment, and 40 percent of a total alumni body of over 82,000.

Now the fourth largest private university in New England, with full- and part-time enrollment of over 14,000, Boston College consists of eleven schools, colleges, and institutes offering thirteen degree programs and one certification program.

SPECIAL LIBRARY SERVICES

COMPUTER SEARCH SERVICE

The Boston College library system has access to more than 300 computerized databases. In 1974 the Nursing Library became the first in the United States to receive a contract from the National Library of Medicine for the MEDLINE database. Since then the Boston College libraries have added databases for the humanitites, social sciences, education, medicine and health sciences; business and economics; pure and applied sciences; and engineering. There are also many multidisciplinary databases as well as databases which cover specific types of publications (e.g., dissertations, government documents, patents).

The Law School Library has access to the LEXIS and WESTL.AW databases, as well as NEXIS and DIALOG. Access to some of these may be limited by contract to members of the Law School community.

Contact the appropriate reference librarian or service desk for more information.

AUTOMATED SERVICES

The Boston College libraries have an automated catalog providing access to almost half-million bibliographical records. The catalog can be searched by author, title, subject, call-number or keywords in subject headings and titles.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN

The Interibrary Loan Service is offered to students, faculty, administration and staff to facilitate obtaining materials not available in the Boston College Libraries. Books, photocopies of journal articles, microfilm, theses, and government documents may be borrowed from other libraries. Except for unusual items, the waiting period is from one to four weeks; for anyone willing to use the material at the holding library, a computerized system will provide locations within twenty-four hours of the request. Request forms and further information are available from the reference staff in each library.

BOSTON LIBRARY CONSORTIUM

The library is a member of the Boston Library Consortium, a group of area libraries which includes Brandeis, Boston University, Tufts, Wellesley, Northeastern, MIT, Massachusetts State Library, Boston Public Library, and University of Massachusetts. Faculty and graduate students may apply for a Consortium borrowers card at the reference department in $\mathbf{O}^{\prime}$ Neill. The Consortium maintains a central office at the Boston Public Library. Further information may be found in the User Guide and the Consortium Handbook, available in all libraries.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PUBLICATION

In 1963 Boston College was designated one of the two depository libraries in this congressional district. This status entitles Boston College Libraries to receive on a selective basis United States government publications at no cost with the stipulation they be made available to the general public. Most of the material circulates in the same manner as books. Inquiries related to the retrieval and use of government documents should be directed to the Government Documents Department at O'Neill Library.

NEW ENGLAND LIBRARY INFORMATION NETWORK

Through membership in the New England Library Information Network (NELINET), there is on-line access to publishing, cataloging, and inter-library loan location information from the data bank of OCLC, Inc. which contains over 10 million records from the Library of Congress and some 2,900 other contributing institutions in North America.

BOSTON COLLEGE ARCHIVES

Archives are the offical non-current papers and records of an institution that are deemed worthy of permanent preservation for their legal, fiscal or historical values. The Boston College Archives contain the office records and documents of the various University offices, academic and otherwise, copies of all University publications, including student publications, movie footage of Boston College football, some audio-visual materials, and a tape recording of the University Lecture Series. A significant collection of photographs documents the pictorial history of Boston College. Alumni, faculty, and Jesuit records are also preserved. A museum houses various ephemera and memorabilia that accompany the documents. In addition, the Archives are the repository for the documents of Newton College of the Sacred Heart (1946-1975); The Jesuit Education Association (1934-1970); the Catholic International Education Office (1952-1976); and the documents of the Jesuit Community at Boston College (1863- ).

    ${ }^{2}$ State scholarship funds to students from Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Maryland, Maine, New Hampshire.
    ${ }^{3}$ Students who are enrolled at least half-time in an undergraduate degree program are eligible to apply for these grants. Formerly Basic Educational Opportunity Grants, grants are awarded to students with need, and eligibility is determined directly by the Federal Government.
    ${ }^{4}$ Available to students enrolled at least half-time in an undergraduate degree program. These grants are awarded to students with exceptional need and are termed "last resort." The amount of the award must be matched by an equal amount of other aid.
    ${ }^{5}$ Available to undergraduates and graduates enrolled at least half-time. These loan funds are obtained by Federal Government contributions, Boston College contributions and collections of previous loans awarded. The loans have up to a 10 -year repayment period with an interest rate of $5 \%$ per year on the unpaid balance.
    -This is a duplicated total since some students receive more than one type of aid.
    NOTE: In an effort to minimize statistical detail, the above data does not include Boston College graduate student assistance (approximately $$ 2,034,087$ in 1983-84), administered by the various schools and departments. Also excluded are the Nursing and Loan Programs ($89,500 in 1983-84), a variety of government fellowships or scholarships from fraternal organizations and clubs ( $$ 1,062,514$ in 1983-84), and Higher Education Loans processed by the Financial Aid Office and disbursed by banks ( $$ 12,622,858$ in 1983-84), ail of which are open to both undergraduate and graduate students. (In addition to these programs, the Student Employment Office placed 4,080 students in summer and term jobs both on and off campus, and the university processed parental loans totaling $$ 2,512,702$ from banks and the Mass. College Student Loan Authority.)
