4.0 CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

Being a member of the Boston College community is a privilege, which comes with the responsibility to act in accordance with all institutional rules and policies. The Code of Student Conduct exists to provide information on these behavioral expectations and to articulate the process of addressing violations of these expectations.

As a Jesuit Catholic institution, Boston College is committed to the holistic development of our students, and part of this commitment is instilling integrity, encouraging right decision-making, and fostering self-accountability. Each student is expected to grow and develop during their time here, to be more than when they began their journey at BC. The goal of the Code of Student Conduct is to facilitate this growth by educating and fostering the civility, communality, and social decorum required of an educational institution.

4.1 STATEMENT OF RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

4.2 GENERAL PROVISIONS

4.2.1 Academic Policies

Students are expected to maintain high standards of integrity in their academic work and comply with the University’s academic policies and procedures. See the University’s Academic Integrity Policy within the Academic Policies and Procedures.

4.2.2 Complicity

A student shall not, through act or omission, assist, facilitate or encourage a violation of the Code of Conduct.

4.2.3 Conditions of Residency

Students residing in Boston College residential facilities are held by the policies and procedures of the Student Guide as well as the Conditions of Residency, which includes the Fire Safety and Security Policies. These documents can be found at Residential Life Community Expectations.

4.2.4 Guest Policy

Any student who hosts a person on campus is responsible for ensuring that such person knows and adheres to all regulations of the Code of Student Conduct and all University policies and procedures. Students are responsible for the behavior of their guests and may be held accountable for violations committed by their guests, including restitution for damage to University facilities or other restitution as necessary. Responsibility under the rules may occur even if the host is not a participant in the activity or has left the guest(s) alone. Students residing in Boston College residential facilities must follow all policies regarding guests, as listed in the Conditions of Residency.

4.3 SUBSTANCE USE AND ABUSE POLICIES

Boston College abides by all local, state, and federal laws with regard to alcohol and drug use. The University prioritizes the health, safety, and wellbeing of every member of the community and requires that individuals who choose to use alcohol and drugs do so in a responsible manner.
All members of our community have the right to an academic and residential environment free from the abusive effects of alcohol and drug use.

4.3.1 Alcohol Policy

Students under the age of 21 years are prohibited from possessing, using, purchasing, transporting, selling, and/or distributing alcohol.

Regardless of legal drinking age, all students are prohibited from:

- possessing or consuming an open container of alcohol in on- or off-campus public or common areas (e.g., Campus Green, outdoors, lounges, hallways, etc.).
- engaging in drunkenness and disorderly conduct.
- possessing, furnishing, consuming or serving from a large quantity or common source of alcohol (i.e. kegs, beer balls, punch bowls).
- Hosting or participating in the rapid consumption of alcohol, including high-risk drinking games.
- Enabling underage alcohol consumption. A student will be considered to be enabling the underage consumption of alcohol if he/she possesses or has alcohol present in their residence for use by others, regardless of who purchased or acquired the alcohol. The student is also responsible for misconduct if he/she passively allows illegal alcohol or drug use to occur within his/her residence hall room or off campus residence, or otherwise provides a setting that allows for the underage consumption of alcohol. For information about social host liability, please visit www.socialhostliability.org.

Alcohol consumption resulting in the need for medical attention is a threat to the safety and wellbeing of the individual and the larger community and is strictly prohibited regardless of whether the individual is of legal drinking age. Situations where an individual seeks medical attention for him/herself or for another Boston College student will be handled according to the Seeking Help for Alcohol and Drug Related Medical Emergencies policy.

For specific guidelines pertaining to alcohol use and abuse within the residence halls, refer to the Conditions of Residency.

4.3.2 Drug Policy

The University prohibits the possession, use, consumption, manufacturing, sale or distribution of drugs, as well as the possession, use, manufacturing or sale of drug paraphernalia. Additionally, the possession of drugs with intent to deliver, sell or manufacture is prohibited.

The term “drugs” broadly includes, without limitation, any stimulant, intoxicant (other than alcohol), nervous system depressant, hallucinogen, or other chemical substance, compound or combination when used to induce an altered state, including any otherwise lawfully available product used for any purpose other than its intended use (e.g., the misuse of prescription drugs, over the counter drugs, or household products).

The institution classifies drugs into three broad categories:
- marijuana,
- illicit drugs, and
- misuse of prescription drugs

Marijuana: The federal government regards marijuana as a Schedule I Controlled Substance, and possession of marijuana remains illegal in Massachusetts. However, society currently has a complex and rapidly shifting relationship with marijuana, and perspectives around the dangers and potential medical uses for marijuana are evolving. While Boston College prohibits the possession and use of marijuana, the University’s response is reflective of the particularly complex and changing societal view of marijuana.

Illicit Drugs: Cocaine, heroin, ecstasy (MDMA), amphetamines, methamphetamines, hallucinogens (i.e. LSD, psilocybin mushrooms), and similar substances are considered to be illicit drugs due to the severe negative health and safety outcomes associated with their use. Illicit drug use is illegal and can lead to serious harm to physical and mental health, emotional wellbeing, and relationships; it can also lead to dangerous physical and psychological withdrawal symptoms, and put individuals at high risk for tolerance and dependence.

Misuse of Prescription Drugs: Misuse of prescription drugs, including opiates/pain-killers (i.e. morphine, oxycodone), stimulants (i.e. Ritalin), sedative-hypnotics (i.e. barbiturates, anxiolytics) and other psychoactive drugs, is prohibited. This includes taking a medication that is not prescribed to you, taking more than the prescribed dose of a medication, or taking a prescription medication for a reason other than the intended use (i.e. to produce a “high”).

The University takes the use of illicit drugs, misuse and abuse of prescription drugs, and possession and distribution of drugs very seriously and will respond accordingly.

The term “drug paraphernalia” broadly includes any material, product, instrument or item used to create, manufacture, distribute, use or otherwise manipulate any drug and includes, but is not limited to hypodermic needles, syringes, bongs or pipes.

4.3.3 Seeking Help for Alcohol- and Drug-Related Medical Emergencies

The health and safety of Boston College students is of paramount concern. As a result, all students are expected and encouraged to seek immediate assistance for themselves or others in situations where help is needed due to intoxication or drug ingestion.

Students should actively seek assistance for themselves or others, as a result of impairment due to alcohol and/or drug use. Boston College will support and encourage this help-seeking behavior by treating the situation as a health and safety matter, rather than a conduct matter, when students contact emergency responders or university officials (e.g., Resident Assistant, Boston College Police). Additionally, anyone who seeks help or calls for help on behalf of another student will not be subject to action through the conduct system.
Students who seek and receive medical attention in such situations will be required to complete certain educational and/or counseling interventions and will also be subject to all fees related to their medical care. Failure to complete these referrals would be treated as a conduct matter.

Students who demonstrate consistent and repeated patterns of seeking help for alcohol and drug related medical emergencies may require further medical review and/or treatment up to mandated medical leaves of absence.

Regardless of help-seeking behavior, students will be held accountable for misconduct accompanying or incidental to the use and/or abuse of alcohol or other substances. For example, disorderly behavior, violence, property damage, or distribution or intent to distribute will be treated as conduct violations and will be responded to accordingly.

For immediate medical assistance, contact the BC Police at (617) 552-4444.

4.4 RESPECT FOR PERSONS

To foster the sense of communality that is vital for an educational institution to function as a marketplace of ideas, to foster student development, and to encourage cognitive growth, all members of the campus community must respect the rights and contributions of other members of the community. Students are expected to be open to learning, meaningfully engage with difference, and care for others. Boston College expects its members to honor the inherent dignity of other members of our community by being considerate, sensitive, understanding, and concerned for the welfare of others.

Threats are prohibited and are any action that insults, stigmatizes, threatens, or endangers another individual’s emotional or mental well-being or causes another to reasonably fear for his/her safety.

4.5  RESPECT FOR PROPERTY

The efficient and mutually beneficial functioning of an educational community requires the responsible use of all property, including buildings, green spaces, tangible goods intellectual property, technology, and equipment. Respect for property also involves helping to foster a positive and supportive environment. A sense of security, tranquility and accomplishment are all essential to the learning endeavor. This principle requires students to respect personal and institutional property, inside and outside the Boston College community.

4.5.1  Property Damage

Damage or destruction of property is a very serious offense. Instances of deliberate or malicious damage will be referred to the Student Conduct System for conduct action and appropriate sanctions.

4.5.2  Theft

Theft is prohibited and is the unauthorized taking, misappropriation, or use or possession without approval of property belonging to another person or entity. Additionally, theft is also comprised of failing to tender payment for services rendered (e.g., taxi fare evasion, sneaking into a ticketed event, etc.).

4.6.1 Community Disturbance

Boston College imposes an obligation upon all its students to demonstrate responsible citizenship and to not create conditions, which disrupt the educational environment (e.g., excessive or unreasonable noise, excessively large parties, or rude and abusive language or behavior). This policy applies to all students while on-campus, off-campus, studying abroad, etc.

4.6.2 Disorderly Conduct

4.6.3 Failure to Comply

Students must comply with the requests of University officials, law enforcement, fire, or other public officials acting in the performance of their duties, and they must identify themselves to these persons when requested to do so. Additionally, students are expected to comply with published and/or distributed departmental policies or directives not specified in the Student Guide. Students are also required to complete all sanctions issued as part of the conduct process by the specified due dates.

4.6.4 False Information

Students may not intentionally provide false or inaccurate information or records to the University or local authorities. This includes, but is not limited to providing a false report of an emergency, crime, or code violation; providing false statements during a University investigation or proceeding; or falsely activating a campus Emergency Blue-Light Call Box.

4.6.5 Fire-Related Misconduct

Any conduct having a foreseeable risk that a fire will result is unacceptable, even if no fire is intended or does occur. Deliberately setting a fire on the campus such as burning trash, starting a bonfire, igniting door decorations or materials on a bulletin board, or possessing/using fireworks of any sort will be treated as deliberate attempts to start a fire. The misuse or tampering with fire protection devices such as extinguishers, smoke detectors, and alarms is unacceptable. Setting off a false alarm may result in University Suspension.
Candles and burning incense are absolutely prohibited in the residence halls. The Office of Residential Life assigns certain minimum sanctions for violations of the fire safety policies at Boston College, which occur in residence halls. A complete and current list of Safety and Security Policies for the residence halls, as well as sanctions for violations, is available on the Office of Residential Life's website at www.bc.edu/reslife.

4.6.9 Student Demonstrations

To ensure that public demonstrations of opinion do not violate directly or indirectly the rights of others by preventing the ordinary operation of the University, applications for permits for all activities in the nature of a public speech, rally, demonstration, march, or protest must be submitted a minimum of 48 hours in advance to the Dean of Students. If approved, the activities must be conducted in accordance with the rules set forth below and not violate any policies set forth in the Code of Student Conduct. The Dean reserves the right to determine the time, place and manner of any public demonstration in order to safeguard University operations and the rights of the University community.
