A Message from the BAIC

Dear Student,

Welcome to the 2017 fall semester! Whether you are new to this community or a returning student, I want to encourage you to stop by the Thea Bowman AHANA and Intercultural Center (BAIC), located in Maloney 455 so that we can personally welcome you into your “home away from home”. The Center provides programs and services to support your academic success, build your intercultural competence, and holistic formation. We support you through college counseling, mentoring opportunities, financial support and educational and community building programming.

We receive our inspiration from Thea Bowman and her unwavering commitment to build bridges between people from different communities. We strive to maintain her legacy and teachings alive and to share with you the beauty of her message.

This year, we are expanding the Campus of Difference First Year Program and will be facilitating additional conversations for First Year students on identity and culture. We will also open the Center during the evenings for conversations on current issues and are working on an event called Crossroads, which is scheduled for October 5th, where will look at the intersections of race, socio-economic class, gender and sexual orientation at BC. We are excited about these initiatives and hope that you will find them helpful.

My colleagues and I are looking forward to connecting with you, stop by the Welcome BBQ on Thursday, August 31st from 12-3pm, come by the Center in Maloney 455 or follow us on facebook In the Spirit of Academic Success!

Ines Maturana Sendoya, Ed.D.
