Upcoming Events, Programs & Announcements:

- Appreciation Week: seeks to emphasize the contributions, impact and value of graduate and professional students on campuses throughout the United States.
- Recognizing the Pioneering Leadership of Women: asserted that women are "the companions, not the satellites of men"—experts who claimed either that females were incapable of intellectual development equal to "primary existences"—were confounded by women who were "able to express themselves and bring into being ideas and images that were the product of their own minds." Women are esteemed for their "capacity for understanding, for learning and teaching," by which they are "recognized as true equals." Among the women celebrated are:
  - Lesley Visser, author, radio contributor and filmmaker
  - Julianne Malveaux, author, journalist, activist and academic
  - Diane Wilkerson, author, editor, and radio host
  - Cheryl Jacques, co-founder of Take Action Now and executive director of Media Outreach for the National Alliance of Black Women's Entrepreneurial Development
  - Andrea Cabral, 1981, Sheriff of Suffolk County, Massachusetts state senator, and member of the United States House of Representatives
