Administrative Program Review

OVERVIEW

Administrative Program Review (APR) was launched in 2006 as part of BC’s Strategic Plan and the University’s commitment to continuous improvement and Ever to Excel.

Our Mission is to foster among the University’s administrative departments a culture that values self-examination, quality improvement, strategic thinking, mission-aligned planning and the continuous pursuit of excellence.

APR supports the realization of the Strategic Plan by providing a system to ensure that our current work is efficient and effective and to assess the strategic alignment of departments’ activities with the overall BC mission and Strategic Plan.

WHAT IS APR?

- A set of activities designed for managers and employees to:
  - Examine their department’s current operations
  - Make adjustments
  - Develop plans for continuous improvements

- A developmental process of on-going reviews

- Creates systematic assessment, planning, & improvement across administrative units at BC

APR STEPS AND PROJECTED TIMELINE

APR involves a self-assessment conducted by members of the department, a campus visit by peer experts from other universities, the implementation of an action plan for changes based on recommendations and ongoing monitoring and follow-up. While an overall timeline and general milestones are suggested, departments have the flexibility to establish an individual timeline that integrates their APR activities with the nature and schedule of the department’s work.
