

Gregory F. Walsh

Curriculum Vitae

Boston College
Department of History
140 Commonwealth Avenue
Chestnut Hill, MA 02467
walshgc@bc.edu

Education

Bachelor of Arts, (Summa Cum Laude), History, Providence College, May 2000

Ph.D. American History, Boston College, May 2011

Dissertation: "Splintered Loyalties: The Revolutionary War in Essex County, New Jersey"

Advisor: Dr. Alan Rogers

- Major Fields of Study: Revolutionary America and Early Republic, Antebellum America and Reconstruction
- Minor Fields of Study: Twentieth Century America and Foreign Policy, Early Modern Europe (concentration on Russian History)

Teaching Experience

Visiting Assistant Professor, Boston College, 2011-2012

- American Civilization I and American Civilization II

Teaching Fellow, Boston College

- Evolution and Expansion of Europe, 1300-1801 – Fall 2007, 2008, 2009
- Revolutions Realized? Legacies of the Dual Revolutions, 1800-2000 – Spring 2008, 2009, 2010, Fall 2010, Spring 2011

Teaching Assistant (Boston College)

- Early Modern and Modern European History: Fall 2003-Spring 2007

Instructional Assistant, Office of Learning Resources for Student Athletes (Boston College), 2003-2010

- Provided development instruction to student athletes
- assisted student athletes with historical analysis and writing skills in either one-on-one or group settings

Conference Papers

- "Living with Loyalists: Crimes Against Revolutionary Allegiance and Legal Procedure in Essex County, New Jersey" – Bertoti History Conference, Virginia Tech University, March 17, 2007 (paper accepted, unable to present)

- “‘Mistresses of Infinite Craft and Subtlety’: Gender, Tory Behavior, and Judicial Proceedings in Revolutionary Essex County, New Jersey” – Peace History Society Conference, Engendering War, Peace, and Justice, Georgian Court University, October 19-20, 2007.
- “‘We Want Men, Not Money’: Local Warfare and Military Service in Revolutionary Essex” – New England Historical Association Conference Fall Conference, Endicott College, October 25, 2008.
- “‘Incorrigible Animals’: Loyalist Prosecution and Estate Seizure in Essex County” – New Jersey Historical Commission Forum, November 20, 2010.

Publications

- “Nativism and the Know-Nothing Party,” The Encyclopedia of the Early Republic & Antebellum America, edited by Christopher Gates
- “The Citizen-Genet Affair,” The Encyclopedia of the Early Republic & Antebellum America, edited by Christopher Gates

Honors and Awards

- Donald J. White Teaching Excellence Award, 2011
- Summer Research Stipend, Clough Center for Constitutional Democracy, 2010
- Summer Research Fellowship, Boston College History Department, 2006 and 2008
- New Jersey Historical Commission, Research Grant, June 2006
- College Reading and Learning Association, Advanced Tutor Certification, 2006
- Teaching Fellowship, Boston College, 2007-2010
- Teaching Assistantship, Boston College, 2003-2007
- Valedictorian, Providence College, May 2000
- Phi Alpha Theta Undergraduate Scholarship, Providence College, February 2000

Organizational Affiliation

Massachusetts Historical Society, Early American History Seminar
 New England Historical Association
 American Historical Association

References

Dr. Alan Rogers	alan.rogers.1@bc.edu	(617) 552 - 3782
Dr. Cynthia Lynn Lyerly	cynthia.lyerly.1@bc.edu	(617) 552 - 3783
Dr. Robin Fleming	fleminra@bc.edu	(617) 552 - 8484