Forum on Ethics: Creating a World Beyond Poverty with Jacqueline Novogratz

5:30 pm in Robsham Theater

Jacqueline Novogratz is an American entrepreneur and author. She is the founder and CEO of Acumen, a nonprofit global venture capital fund whose goal is to use entrepreneurial approaches to address global poverty. Her book, The Blue Sweater: Bridging the Gap Between Rich and Poor in an Interconnected World, was inspired by an encounter she had while in Kigali, Rwanda. During a routine jog in her early 20’s, Novogratz spotted a boy who was wearing a distinct blue sweater that upon closer inspection, turned out to be the same blue sweater she had donated to her local Goodwill a decade earlier. That blue sweater, with its decorations of a snow-capped mountain, two zebras and stripes, had her name on it. This encounter led Novogratz to realize the interconnectedness of our world, which influences her work today. Doors open at 5:00 p.m. with priority seating for Portico, Jenks and Winston Ambassadors.

If you are going abroad in the spring, make sure you get courses approved before you go!

You must get courses approved before you leave for study abroad. Getting approval will require you to bring a course syllabus to the home department at Boston College and have it approved on a Study Abroad Course Substitution Form (available in Fulton 315.) The deadlines for submitting course substitutions to Student Services are September 29th for spring and summer courses and March 1st for fall courses.

Tips for course approvals:

- The only two Carroll School core classes that may possibly be approved are Organizational Behavior and Operations Management. It is not a guarantee, but a possibility.
- You can only obtain concentration elective approval from the department after completing the core classes (e.g. Basic Finance or Marketing Principles.)
- To obtain approval for Cultural Diversity, students should visit www.bc.edu/core/for-students and click on the “Cultural Diversity Substitution Request Form” on the left. Students can submit their request for approval using that form.

Students accepted will be placed with nonprofit organizations, government agencies, and mission-driven firms across Boston, and are entrusted with high levels of responsibility and independence within their organizations. Example placements include the Boston Planning and Development Agency, the Boston Impact Initiative, and Next Street Financial. The Center will also host professional development workshops throughout the summer, which will give students the opportunity to learn tangible and useful skills from experienced professionals. This opportunity is ideal for candidates interested in helping revitalize communities throughout Boston, particularly neighborhoods with historically minority, impoverished, and marginalized populations.
The internship is open to current first years, sophomores, and juniors from all schools and majors. Students receive a stipend and are eligible to apply for BC summer housing.
