APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Eligibility requirements. Applicants must have either (a) graduated from a U.S. law school that is approved by the American Bar Association, (b) obtained a full degree in law from a non-U.S. university or (c) be admitted to practice law in a country other than the U.S. Apart from this, we seek applicants from a variety of backgrounds and with a variety of legal and career interests. We are most interested in applicants from other countries who have completed their prior legal studies with high rank and who intend to return to their home countries to contribute to the legal profession. We also welcome applications from experienced U.S. lawyers who may uniquely benefit from advanced work here.

Application for Admission. Your complete application is to include:

• Completed application form
• Resumé or c.v.
• Statement of purpose
• Two signed letters of recommendation
• Official transcripts with certified English translations
• TOEFL or IELTS results
• Application fee $75.

Which application to use. There are two possible ways to apply to the LL.M. program: on paper, or electronically through the Law School Admission Council (LSAC) web site, www.lsac.org. We encourage you to submit the paper version of the application (using the pdf document you are currently reading), as long as (a) you plan to submit original paper recommendations and transcripts directly to us, and (b) the relevant testing service is sending your TOEFL or IELTS score report (if required) directly to us. Further information on these conditions appears below.

If either of these conditions does not apply to you, please submit your application electronically through the LSAC web site. The electronic application (e-app) should be available beginning on October 15. If you use the e-app, you must also use the LSAC LL.M. Credential Assembly Service, including the International Transcript Authentication and Evaluation Feature. NOTE: the LSAC charges applicants $200 for this service, plus $28 for each school to which you wish to send an application. These charges are in addition to Boston College Law School’s $75 application fee.

The instructions below apply only to applications submitted in paper form. Comparable instructions for submission of an e-app are available at the LSAC web site.

Application Deadline. If you are applying for enrollment for Fall 2015, the application deadline is April 1, 2015. We will consider applications received after this date, but only on a space-available basis. We will begin making admissions decisions in January 2015, so we strongly encourage you to submit your application well before the stated deadline. We expect to have made most admissions decisions by May 15, 2015.

All materials should be sent to:

LL.M. Office
Boston College Law School
885 Centre Street
Newton, MA 02459
U.S.A.

Application Fee. A nonrefundable payment of U.S. $75 must accompany the application; this is not deductible from tuition. The fee may be paid in the form of a postal money order, traveler’s checks or check drawn on a bank located in the U.S. All payments should be denominated in U.S. dollars and made payable to Boston College Law School. If none of these forms of payment is available to you, please contact the LL.M. Office.

Official Transcripts. You must submit original or certified copies of official transcripts from all colleges, universities and graduate and professional schools you have attended. These transcripts should show all courses taken, marks earned, and degrees or certifications received from each institution. If the transcripts are not in English you must also include a certified English translation. Transcripts may be either (a) sent directly by the educational institution to the LL.M. Office, or (b) provided by the educational institution to you in a sealed envelope, then sent to us with your other paper application materials.

English Language Skills. Boston College Law School course work and related academic activities require strong English language skills. Students must be able to express themselves fluently in both spoken and written English and must read the language with ease. Consequently, you must submit evidence of your English language ability unless either (a) English is your native language, or (b) English was the language of instruction for your entire legal education. We accept the following tests as evidence of your English ability:
• Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). You must achieve a score of at least 100 using the Internet-based test (IBT). For more information regarding TOEFL, please visit www.toefl.org. Our TOEFL score reporting code is 3083, department code 03.

• International English Language Testing System (IELTS). You must achieve an Overall Band Score of at least 7.5. For more information regarding IELTS, please visit www.ielts.org. For IELTS score reporting, please contact the test center where you took the exam and request that your official test scores be sent directly to Boston College Law School. An institutional code is NOT required.

Please arrange for an official score report of the test you have taken to be sent directly to Boston College Law School as soon as possible. Faxes or photocopies of score reports are not acceptable, nor will we accept scores that are more than two years old.

Letters of Recommendation. Two letters of recommendation must be submitted from faculty members acquainted with your work in law study or persons for whom you have worked in a professional capacity. Letters from professors who have taught you personally are most useful. Forms for recommendations are provided with the application materials. You can photocopy the forms if necessary. You should ask each recommender to enclose the recommendation form in an envelope, seal the envelope, sign it across the seal, and return it to you to be submitted, unopened, with your other application materials. Alternatively, the recommender may send the letter directly to the LL.M. Office.

Resume or Curriculum Vitae. Please attach a resume or curriculum vitae describing your academic and professional background. Educational information should include schools, dates of attendance, degree(s) awarded, activities and organizations, academic honors, awards, scholarships or fellowships, and any original research including publications. Employment history should include employer, position, nature of work and dates of employment.

Statement of Purpose. This statement of two to three pages seeks information about your experience in legal practice and other law-related activities, your reasons for pursuing an LL.M. degree at Boston College, and the legal fields in which you would like to focus your LL.M. studies. This statement should also discuss your professional goals, and how the completion of the LL.M. could help you achieve your goals.

Financial Matters. The estimated cost of study for a single student during the 2014-15 academic year is $66,231. This figure consists of tuition and fees of $46,890 and estimated living expenses of $19,341. It does not include the expenses of travel between the student’s home country and the Boston area. The comparable figures for the 2015-16 academic year are likely to be higher.

Applicants requiring financial assistance should investigate funding sources in their home countries well in advance. Examples of such sources include employers, government agencies and foundations. The United States embassy or consulate in your home country may have information on U.S. government grants under the Fulbright Program (www.fulbrightonline.org) and other information on fellowship opportunities. A partial list appears on our website at http://www.bc.edu/schools/law/admission/lmprogram/Applying.html. In addition, loan funding may be available from organizations such as Sallie Mae.a If you are not a United States citizen or permanent resident, however, these lenders generally require a United States citizen or permanent resident to guarantee the loan. Loan funding may also be available from private sponsoring organizations in other countries.

Boston College Law School has a limited amount of financial aid available to LL.M. students. The scholarship application form is available for download from our web site, and may be submitted either with your application for admission or after you receive an offer of admission. We review your application for admission without regard to your financial situation, so submitting a scholarship application will have no effect on whether or not we offer you admission to the LL.M. program.

Admitted applicants who are not citizens or permanent residents of the United States will need to provide evidence that they have sufficient financial resources to meet the cost of study in order to obtain a visa to enter the United States. Information concerning the visa application process will be provided to admitted applicants separately.

Important Note. Your application and all attachments (other than letters of recommendation and official documents) must be solely the product of your own efforts. Boston College Law School reserves the right to deny admission to any applicant, and dismiss any student, who has received external assistance with his or her application.

Further Information. If you have questions about the application form or the application process, please contact the LL.M. Office by email at llm@bc.edu, by telephone at (617) 552-1002, or at the above address.
