Courses Offered Spring 2015

LAWS79701 Advanced Legal Research (Spring 2015: 3 credits) Monday, Wednesday 8:30-9:50 am
Instructor: Karen Breda and Sherry Xin Chen

LAWS79702 Advanced Legal Research (Spring 2015: 3 credits) Tuesday, Thursday 1:30-2:50 pm
Instructor: Joan Shear and Susan Vaughn
Prerequisites: None
This course is designed as an in-depth look at the process of legal research. Students are exposed to a wide range of legal materials and practical techniques and strategies for using these materials competently and effectively in the research process. The goal of the course is to create self-sufficient legal researchers, capable of analyzing a legal problem, and formulating and executing the appropriate and most effective research methodology. Particular attention is paid to types of legal sources and research not covered in the first year of law school (e.g. administrative law, legislative histories and legal practice materials). Both print and electronic sources are explored and critiqued. The course covers Westlaw, LexisNexis, BloombergLaw and other electronic sources. The grade is based upon several graded course assignments. Enrollment is limited to 20 students.

LAWS445701 Research for Criminal Law Practice (Spring 2015: 2 credits) Thursday 1:00-2:50 pm
Instructor: Laurel Davis
Prerequisites: None
This course is designed to provide an in-depth examination of legal research materials and techniques that will be useful for students who are interested in becoming prosecutors or criminal defense attorneys. Course will cover basic primary sources of criminal law such as the U.S. Constitution and state constitutions, as well as federal and state statutes, cases, and administrative law. Course will cover important secondary sources in the criminal law field; legislative history research skills; how to find and use jury instructions, sentencing guidelines, docket, and practice materials such as formbooks. Students will also learn how to find and work with criminal court rules. Both print and electronic sources are explored and critiqued. The course covers Westlaw, LexisNexis, Bloomberg Law and other electronic sources. Ungraded exercises allow students to track their progress in learning the materials. Grade will be based on one graded assignment and a take-home final exam.
