Carol Anne Marchetti, PHD, RN, PMHNP-BC, SANE

Dr. Carol Anne Marchetti is a Clinical Associate Professor at the Boston College Connell School of Nursing, and a board-certified, Family Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurse Practitioner. She served as the President of the New England Chapter of the American Psychiatric Nurses Association from 2013-2014 and she holds an appointment as Associate Clinical Adjunct Professor at Northeastern University Bouvé College of Health Sciences School of Nursing. Carol has been a Massachusetts Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) since 2004 and recently accepted a position as a Nurse Practitioner at Boston Medical Center in the Department of Psychiatry, Boston Emergency Services Team. Throughout her nursing career, she has cared for individuals across the lifespan in pediatric and neonatal intensive care units, emergency departments, psychiatric hospitals, and outpatient clinics. She earned a bachelor’s degree in Nursing from UMass Boston and received a master’s degree, nursing post-graduate teaching certificate, and PhD from Boston College. Her program of research is focused on trauma responses and decision-making, particularly regarding regret and the police reporting of sexual assault. Also, she has researched SANE attitudes regarding the possibility of cross training to care for younger children in emergency care settings. As an Assistant Professor at Northeastern from 2011-2015, she served as an advisor to baccalaureate, master, and doctoral students; and taught undergraduate and graduate nursing courses in pathophysiology, psychiatric-mental health nursing, the psychobiology of mental illness, and evidence-based research. Dr. Marchetti is excited to be back at BC where she will be teaching psychiatric-mental health nursing to traditional and master’s entry nursing students.
