The Price Family Foundation has generously agreed to provide support for the highly successful “Keys to Inclusive Leadership in Nursing” (KILN) program. Founded in 2009 with funding from a Nursing Workforce Diversity grant from HRSA (Health Resources and Services Administration), the KILN program assists students to maximize their leadership potential and prepare for the challenges of providing nursing care in our increasingly multicultural society. The Price Family Foundation funds have allowed expansion of the program, which provides financial support, faculty mentorship, and leadership development opportunities for 50 undergraduate and graduate students.

KILN Awards Winners for the 2011-2012 Academic Year:

The Key Award was awarded to Sandra Dickson for demonstrating noteworthy scholarship.

The Inclusivity Award recipient was Terry Bustos for embracing all and engaging others in nursing and health care.

Anna Diané received the Leadership Award for demonstrating outstanding leadership in the nursing community.

The Rising Star in Nursing Award was awarded to Chenille Morrison, who has demonstrated significant potential for the future contributions to nursing.

The Outstanding Scholar Award was bestowed upon Paulina Miklosz for exemplifying the mission of KILN.
Mentoring

KILN scholars gathered with faculty mentors on November 7, 2012 to discuss the KILN program and set goals for the upcoming year. Twenty CSON faculty members volunteered to serve as mentors to the 40 undergraduate and 10 graduate student KILN scholars. Faculty mentors will guide students through leadership and scholarship activities and provide networking opportunities with nurse leaders. The KILN team and the CSON faculty are grateful to the Price Family Foundation for making the continuation of KILN a reality.

Faculty Mentor Viola Benavente with KILN protégés Amanda Barbosa and Sang Mi Jeon

Faculty Mentor Luanne Nugent with protégés Jie Wen Lei, Jasmine Curet, and Stephanie Seo

KILN Alumni: Where Are They Now?

- Tiara Alston – Boston VA Medical Center Cardiac/telemetry Unit
- Sania Beckford – Bridgeport Hospital Cardiac/telemetry Unit
- Morine Cebert – Bridgeport Hospital
- Selina Chan – Tufts Medical Center Adult Medical Surgical Unit
- Myriam Charles-Pierre – Innovative Senior Care
- Nguyet Chau – Fairlawn Rehabilitation Hospital
- Sabianca Delva – Massachusetts General Hospital Surgical Unit
- Anna Diané – UCLA Hospital
- Jennifer Etienne – Boston Children’s Hospital Cardiology Unit
- Jessica Fenty-Scotland – Brigham and Women’s Hospital Cardiac Stepdown Unit
- Nicole Joseph – Boston Children’s Hospital OR
- Djerica Lamousnery – New York Presbyterian Hospital Neuroscience Intensive Care Unit
- Paulina Miklosz – Boston College Family Nurse Practitioner Program
- Shiva Moshtagh – North Shore Long Island Jewish Health System
- Tiffany Otto – Saint Mary Home
- John Sok – Bayridge Hospital

Want to know more about the KILN program? Visit bc.edu/kiln, where you can read more about the scholars, meet the KILN team, and link to our blog.