To Whom It May Concern,

Thank you for posting past openings for our school. We have several positions that may interest your students and graduates. Please consider posting or sharing the following with them:

St. Ignatius College Preparatory is hiring several full time positions for the Fall of 2016 that include Religious Studies, Campus Ministry and a Director of Community Service and Social Justice. St. Ignatius is a Catholic, Jesuit coeducational school in San Francisco that seeks to form students in a faith that does justice while respecting the conscience formation of adolescence.

A successful candidate for this position will:

- have a Master's degree or equivalent in Catholic Education or related field;
- possess a lived experience of the Catholic faith tradition;
- understand Ignatian spirituality and pedagogy;
- be prepared to make significant contributions to the larger co-curricular and Campus Ministry areas of the school community;
- have significant experience with educational technology;
- have 3+ years of previous secondary-level teaching experience;
- possess a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion;
- thrive in a collaborative, dynamic and faithful learning community.

More information can be found about the school and how to apply for various openings on the school's employment page.

Thanks,

Patrick Lynch
