Theology Teacher/ Saint Joseph Prep, Boston, MA

Saint Joseph Prep, a Catholic, independent, co-educational, college preparatory high school sponsored by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Boston, seeks an exceptional educator to join its Theology Department. This is a full-time position comprised of all Theology courses or, potentially, a mix of Theology and Psychology courses. A passion for teaching and learning is essential. The successful candidate will demonstrate an ability to engage students with a thoughtful, creative mix of dynamic, rigorous, and student-centered instruction. Strong interpersonal skills, along with excellent oral and written communication skills, are critical. The position requires knowledge of curriculum planning and course mapping. The candidate will embrace the core mission of the School, share in the School’s campus ministry and community service initiatives, contribute to the extracurricular life of the School, and serve as an Academic Advisor for a small group of students. Interested candidates should email a cover letter and resume to Tom Nunan, Jr., Head of School, at thomas.nunan@saintjosephprep.org.
