

Official Transcript
Boston College's Global Proficiency Program

Jacob B. Stahl

I. International Experience

University of Sevilla - Sevilla, Spain

January-May 2005

- Attended 5 college courses taught in Spanish
- Traveled extensively throughout Spain, Morocco, Germany, Great Britain, France, and Austria
- Lived with host family

II. Academic Component

Major: International Studies

Languages: Spanish

- Proficient in Spanish
- 7 College Level Spanish Courses (including courses taken while abroad)

Humanities Courses:

- Ethics, Religion, and International Politics
- U.S. Foreign Policy I & II
- U.S. History and Latin America I & II
- America's War in Vietnam

Social Science, Business, Education Courses:

- Introduction to International Studies
- Politics and Society of Central Eurasia
- International Studies Seminar

III. Co-curricular Activities

Activity 1: 4Boston

September 2002-Present

- Description: Supervise, tutor, and mentor children between the ages of six and eighteen at an after school program for students of low-income families in a highly diverse inner-city community.
- Skills: Increased sensitivity for issues of racism and poverty throughout the United States and particularly in Boston, improved ability to communicate serious issues with people of all ages and backgrounds.
- Time Commitment: 4 hours each week

Activity 2: History and Culture Tour – Spain

January-May 2005

- Description: Participated along with a group of students on an educational tour of various historic cities in Spain and Morocco (Madrid, Toledo, Gibraltar, Granada, Extremadura, Fez, Marrakech, and others)
- Skills: Learned about Spain's rich and diverse history and the cultural and religious elements that have formed Spain today.
- Time Commitment: Several weeks over the course of a semester.

Activity 3: 5 Events and Lectures

January-May 2006

- Description: Attended a number of lectures involving issues such as global corporate responsibility, U.S. foreign policy implications, the Iraq war, and Genocide and Darfur.
- Skills: Greater understanding of issues surrounding globalization policy and the process and considerations central to formulating foreign policy.
- Time Commitment: semester long lecture series sponsored by the Globalization and Inequality Project

Service Project: Nicaragua Service/Immersion Trip

March 2004

- Description: Facilitated the daily operations of a Nicaraguan sewing cooperative and health clinic; Raised funds along with ten other Boston College students to finance our trip as well as for donation to a college scholarship fund for residents of the rural town, Miraflor.
- Skills: Deepened appreciation for the inclusion of all cultures as well as better understanding of the level of poverty faced by many throughout the world.
- Time Commitment: 10-day service trip

Cheryl Presley,
Vice President for Student Affairs, Boston College

Cutberto Garza,
Academic Vice President, Boston College

