The regulations of the U.S. Immigration authorities require all international students to provide evidence that they have sufficient financial resources to meet their expenses while studying at U.S. universities. In addition, U.S. universities are required to report biographical and immigration information to U.S. Immigration authorities on all international students and any dependents who will be accompanying them to the U.S. These requirements must be met before a university can authorize any documents for a prospective international student and his/her dependents. Students usually satisfy the financial requirement through personal/family resources, support from their home governments, or other sources.

We have enclosed a Confidential Declaration and Certification of Finances Form which must be completed and certified in order for us to award an I-20 form which you will need to obtain an F-1 Student Visa (or a DS2019 form needed to obtain a J-1 Exchange Visitor Visa). Students who plan to bring dependents with them to Boston College should contact us immediately for additional certification forms. All documents must be postmarked by May 1, 2013, in order for Boston College to provide you with the necessary documents in a timely manner. (We recommend sending this form via courier.) The estimate of student expenses for the 2013-2014 academic year is $67,854. A breakdown of student expenses is detailed below. You must show that you have access to these funds in order to enter the United States as a student.

We are keenly aware that the financial requirement may pose serious difficulties for many international students, but unfortunately, the University has no alternative in this matter. We sincerely hope that this will not prove to be an insurmountable barrier to your pursuit of education at Boston College.

The purpose of this form is to certify that you will have the sum of $67,854 for your first year of study at Boston College, exclusive of travel expenses, and to obtain your biographical and immigration information. Students planning on remaining in the States for the full calendar year (12 months) should add $4,500 to this total. Students will be required to submit an updated financial certification annually. A Certificate of Eligibility (Form I-20 for an F-1 Visa or Form DS2019 for a J-1 Exchange Visitor Visa) and immigration forms will not be issued unless this form is completed and the necessary certifications are obtained. It is strongly recommended that you make copies of this form and required documents before returning them to Boston College as you will need to show proof of adequate funding to U.S. Consular officials when applying for a visa. Students who plan to bring dependents with them to Boston College should contact us immediately for additional certification forms.

In computing expenses, you should remember that students holding a Student (F-1) or an Exchange Visitor (J-1) visa will not be authorized to work except under extraordinary circumstances. Therefore, the applicant should not look to employment, either part-time during the academic year or full-time during the summer, as a means of support while at Boston College. Spouses who accompany students to the U.S. on the F-2 visa are not permitted to accept any kind of paid employment in the U.S.
