imagination at work
You’re smart, you’re prepared, and above all, you’re responsible. And you want to work for a company who’s responsible, too. That’s where Liberty Mutual comes in. For us, responsibility means letting you actively apply what you’ve learned to a position where your contribution really counts. It means providing you with the training, on-the-job experience, and support so that you can succeed. It means professional growth and promotions based on your contribution. And, it means fostering a culture of integrity and upholding our distinct mission to help our customers live safer, more secure lives.

You deserve to be recognized – so introduce yourself to us on campus this semester and please visit us online at www.LibertyMutualGroup.com/LookInside.

Inclusion is the answer. Liberty Mutual is an equal opportunity employer.

NEED HELP?

- Speak with a member of the Career Center wearing BC colors and a name badge at the Information Table, at the Concourse near the student entrance, and throughout Conte Forum.

VISIT US

- At the Career Center, 38 Comm. Ave., or on the web at http://careercenter.bc.edu/.
- We work with students in all BC schools and understand that finding work that is challenging, meaningful, and draws on your best abilities and aspirations, requires an investment of time and energy.
1) The Space
   - The Career Resource Library is located in the garden level of the Career Center at 38 Commonwealth Ave., and is open Monday thru Friday from 9-5, with extended hours until 7:30pm on Tuesdays & Wednesdays. The library’s print and electronic resources and Internet access are open to all BC students, alumni and staff members. Our librarian may be reached any time at kelly.robinson@bc.edu or 617.552.4768.

2) The Computers
   - Several computers with MS Word are available to access the Career Center website, create resumes, find job & internship opportunities, research companies, and explore opportunities!
   - Black and white printing on regular office paper is also available at no cost.

3) The Books
   - The Career Resource Library contains hundreds of books and publications available for your browsing. Our materials cover every aspect of researching majors, occupations, employers, graduate programs, and scholarships. Find information on full-time employment, seasonal jobs, internships, study or working abroad, and volunteer opportunities.
   - Due to the continuous use of materials, items cannot be checked out of the Library; however a copier is available for use in the Library at no cost.

4) The Subscriptions
   - The Library subscribes to several print periodicals for your career and industry-related needs, such as The Boston Business Journal, Fortune Magazine, Business Week, The Chronicle of Higher Education, ArtSEARCH, Career Development Quarterly, and Job Choices Magazine.

5) The Website
   - Visit http://bc.edu/careers for information on workshops and programs offered by and through the Career Center.
   - Join our Facebook and LinkedIn Groups or follow our Blog or Twitter account for up-to-date information on events, career advice, articles, and other information.
   - View a comprehensive listing of Career Fairs and conferences in the New England area and the top events for your career field.
   - Learn about choosing a career or major, how to apply for internships, resources for specific populations, how to dress for an interview, and so much more!

Welcome to the 2011 Boston College Career Fair

Not sure about your career plans?

Some advice on how to take advantage of the Career Fair

If you are determining your career direction, wish explore career possibilities, or want to gather information about targeted employers:

✓ Visit over 100 potential employers to learn more about their organizations and discuss job or internship possibilities.
✓ Learn more about graduate programs offered at Boston College.

1. Have a very brief presentation statement ready (name, class year, etc.; "I'm interested in learning more about . . .").

2. Determine what questions you want answered before you approach a company representative.

   Some examples:

   "Can you tell me what a typical day in your job is like."
   "What skills, education and experience are required in this field?"
   “What are typical entry-level jobs in this field?”
   "What advice do you have for a student considering this field?"

<thead>
<tr>
<th>INTERVIEWS</th>
<th>Employers do not conduct formal interviews at this event, so it’s a great chance for you to meet a variety of employers and learn about potential opportunities.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>YOUR MAJOR</td>
<td>Many of the organizations who are here are looking for students with any major.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>INTERNSHIPS</td>
<td>Several organizations are looking for interns as well as full-time employees. Ask about internships, even if internships are not listed on an employer’s profile.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Welcome to the 2011 Boston College Career Fair

Have a clear idea of your career plans?

If you have or are developing a focused career direction and would like the opportunity to present yourself to employers as a potential candidate for a job or internship in a particular field:

A. PRIORITIZE AND STRATEGIZE
   1. Review List of Attendees -- With whom do you most want to speak? Plan to approach your top choices after you've spoken to a few other employers.
   2. Research on the Run -- If you haven't already researched the organizations, review the information that employers have with them today and provided in this booklet before approaching them.
   3. Think about Your Strengths -- Which of your skills and personal qualities most closely match an employer's needs or business?
   4. Develop a Commercial -- Practice a brief introduction highlighting your relevant strong points. Think about practical examples you can give of each characteristic. Have a conversation!

B. CONNECT WITH POTENTIAL EMPLOYERS
   1. First Impressions Count -- Approach employers with a firm handshake, make eye contact and smile. Look your professional best, and carry a quality folder (with resumes) and working pen.
   2. Be Positive! Be Confident! -- Emphasize your skills and personal qualities. Do not dwell on any qualifications the employer wants that you may not have.
   3. Be Assertive -- Hand your resume to employers and request a business card. Note: Some employers will decline resumes – This is not a personal reflection upon you or your qualifications but related to their own internal compliance policies. If a company representative will not take your resume, simply ask how you can forward one to them or the appropriate person for consideration. They may offer a business card, refer you back to the Career Center, EagleLink, or their own web site. Regardless, simply follow-up as instructed and realize that you have just made a valuable connection.
   4. Collect Your Thoughts -- Leave the area periodically. Write notes on conversations you've had thus far, and decide whom you will approach next.

C. NEED HELP?
   Speak with a member of the Career Center wearing BC colors and a name badge, located at the Career Center Information table, on the Concourse at the student entrance, and throughout Conte Forum.

D. AFTER THE CAREER FAIR
   1. Follow up with employers by sending a thank-you note or a cover letter and resume.
   2. Full contact information for all employers is available on EagleLink: www.bc.edu/eaglelink.
