Alma del Mar is a K-8 charter school whose mission is to put every one of our scholars on the path to college and to challenge them to be service-minded leaders. We do this by immersing our scholars in a highly demanding, highly supportive environment where they receive a content-rich education. We currently serve 280 scholars in grades K-6 and are growing to serve 450 scholars in grades K-8.

We’re located in New Bedford, a beautiful coastal city known for its history as the heart of the whaling industry and as a central hub of the abolitionist movement. This once prosperous city is now home to one of the lowest performing districts in Massachusetts. The majority of New Bedford’s public schools are among the lowest performing 20% of schools in the state.

Rich in culture and tradition, Andover is a lovely New England community of 31,200 residents located just 23 miles north of Boston. Andover is easily accessible via routes 495, 95, 93, and 133.

Andover Public Schools has five K-5 Elementary Schools, three 6-8 Middle Schools, and a Senior High School. The current total school enrollment is 6,000. The district enjoys a pupil to teacher ratio of 23:1. Andover Public Schools is committed to implementing the Massachusetts Curriculum Frameworks with locally developed benchmarks and assessments that meet community expectations for student learning and achievement.

Our Mission is to help children and young adults with Autism Spectrum Disorder learn to reach their full potential through the methodology of Daily Life Therapy®. This unique educational philosophy developed by the late Dr. Kiyo Kitahara of Tokyo, Japan incorporates a broad and balanced curriculum, including academics, art, music, physical education, technology, and social education. Students take on challenges, overcome obstacles, and gain confidence from their own success. This approach allows our students to develop a love for learning so they may fully enjoy their family, community, and all that life has to offer. As each student grows and learns, their personality and individual character matures, allowing them to benefit from and contribute to society as adults.

Boston Renaissance Charter Public School
An Urban Education Success Story

One of Boston’s original charter schools, the Boston Renaissance Charter Public School was founded in 1995 by Dr. Robert Gaudet, former Executive Director of the Horace Mann Foundation, and a group of concerned business and community leaders. Pioneers in education innovation, these leaders wished to create an alternative educational opportunity that would enable children of the city of Boston to experience “a world class education.”

Originally located in a 15-story building in downtown Boston, Renaissance was a symbol of the innovative and outside-the-box spirit of the emerging charter school sector in Massachusetts. Yet, while the downtown location was long part of Renaissance’s identity as a flagship institution, the building presented significant...

Chelsea Public Schools

Chelsea Public Schools will be a model for other school districts in the way we utilize reflective practice and leverage family and community partnerships to ensure that ALL students achieve at high levels, think critically, and graduate from our school system college and career-ready. Student success is our job and we will do whatever it takes.

City on a Hill Charter Public School

Founded in 1995, City on a Hill was the first charter public high school to open in Massachusetts. Founded on the belief that all students can achieve, CoaH founders sought to create a successful urban high school in Boston that set high standards for all students. City on a Hill is tuition-free, independent from Boston Public Schools, and open to all students in the City of Boston. CoaH does not have an entrance exam; students are admitted by a random lottery with new students admitted in the 9th grade only. Small by design, the school allows for a maximum enrollment of 280 students in grades 9-12.

City Year

City Year was founded in 1988 on the belief that young people can change the world. City Year is an education focused, nonprofit organization that unites young people of all backgrounds for a year of full-time service to keep students in school and on track to graduation. At City Year’s 27 locations across the United States and two international affiliates, teams of young people called corps members serve full-time in schools for the academic year as tutors, mentors and role models. By focusing on attendance, behavior and course performance, which identify students who are at risk of dropping out, corps members are uniquely able to help students and schools succeed.

Community Charter School of Cambridge

Community Charter School of Cambridge combines challenging academics with creative use of technology and real-world experience to prepare a diverse student body, grades 6-12, for postsecondary success and productive citizenship. CCSC students are excellent problem solvers and communicators who contribute to their community through internships and other field experiences.
Cristo Rey Boston High School

Cristo Rey Boston is a member of the Cristo Rey Network, a thriving association of 26 high schools that utilize an innovative work-study program to provide affordable, Catholic education to more than 8,000 students nationwide. We exclusively serve families with limited financial resources. Every one of our students works five full days per month at more than 125 companies in Greater Boston to pay for most of the cost of their education and to gain professional experience. By working, students learn about the corporate world, connect academic coursework to the work they do at their corporate placements, and gain skills that will serve them beyond high school.

Our mission is to educate young people to become men and women of faith, purpose and service. We provide our students with the...

NativityMiguel Schools break the cycle of poverty through faith-based education. Our schools, many of which are sponsored by the Jesuits, provide a quality, accessible education that prepares students from economically-poor families in underserved communities for the next level of education and beyond. Our schools educate the whole child and emphasize the social, emotional, spiritual, moral and physical development of each child in addition to academic growth. Our students thrive in a small school community that cares for the needs of each individual. Parent engagement and an extended school day and year are also core to our educational design. Our 44 member schools across the country depend on talented, mission-driven individuals to contribute as teachers and in other capacities.

SAGA Innovations

SAGA’s mission is to help transform high need schools and districts by providing full-time, professional math tutoring in the school day, with three goals to be achieved: a substantial gain in student achievement, especially but not only in math, that will occur because students will generate effort and student efficacy will grow due to the intensive relationship between the full-time tutors and their students; a re-engagement of parents, whom SAGA tutors contact weekly; and a new talent pipeline of skilled tutors who, after their service year, may be hired by the district to become teachers or other essential school staff.

A sponsored ministry of the Sisters of Saint Joseph Boston, Saint Joseph Preparatory High School is a co-educational, college preparatory high school founded upon academic excellence, personal integrity, and Catholic tradition. The School seeks to educate the whole person-intellectually, morally, relationally, physically, and spiritually-with a commitment to scholarship at the highest level. A community of mutual respect and reconciliation, Saint Joseph Preparatory High School is a diverse, multi-cultural family centered on lived Christian gospel values. At Saint Joseph Preparatory High School, each student is known and loved, prepared for success in college, and called to make a positive difference in our world through compassionate leadership and selfless service.
At Success Academy, we are redefining what’s possible in public education. Since opening our first Harlem school in 2006, we have swiftly grown to 34 high-performing schools, from Bed-Stuy to the Bronx, serving approximately 11,000 kids. We are scaling to 100 great schools serving 50,000 children across New York City, bringing transformational change here and across the country. We believe all children, regardless of zip code or family income, deserve the life-changing opportunities that a world-class education brings.

In all grades, pre-K through 12, our exploration-driven curriculum focuses on the whole child and includes chess, art, and other specialized subjects that bring excitement to the school day and foster a lifelong love of learning. To achieve exceptional resul...
UP Education Network is a nonprofit school management organization whose mission is to rapidly transform chronically underperforming district schools into extraordinary schools that sustain high achievement over time. Our network of schools ensure that students previously enrolled in underperforming district schools acquire the knowledge, skills, and strength of character necessary to succeed on the path to college and achieve their full potential.

Walden Behavioral Care was founded by Stuart Koman, Ph.D., in 2003 as a healing institution that would provide individuals and their families suffering from eating and psychiatric disorders with treatment close to home. Over the past 12 years, more than 15,000 individuals received treatment at Walden Behavioral Care and currently 185 patients are cared for each day at Walden’s locations across Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Walden’s staff has learned that successful treatment begins with an in-depth understanding of the patient and a comprehensive plan for treating the whole person - body, mind and spirit.

The mission of the Waltham Public Schools is to provide each student with values, knowledge, and skills needed to achieve full potential. We ask all students to actively participate in their own education. We challenge all students to become capable, confident, life-long learners: critical thinkers, effective communicators, and ethical contributors to society; respectful and appreciative of differences among people; and aware of their responsibilities and rights in a democratic society.
