Join the BC Flute Ensemble!!

Rehearsals:  Monday evenings from 8:00 - 9:30 in Lyons Hall 423, beginning Sept. 16.

Concerts: The Flute Ensemble performs throughout the semester in conjunction with the Chamber Music Society. Members of the ensemble who are also in private lessons are eligible to perform flute solos with piano. Students have also enjoyed partnering with one another to play duos and trios in addition to the larger flute ensemble repertoire.

Eligibility: Open to any flutists from BC. Come and play with us!

Auditions: Auditions will take place on Monday September 9 from 7:30 - 9:30. You should be prepared to play two contrasting pieces and scales representing your skill level, and you will also be asked to sight-read. Since students are often out of shape after the summer, the director will work with you during your audition, and will take into account flexibility and potential. Sign up for an audition time on the Music Department home page (bc.edu/music). For further information or questions, contact director Judy Grant: jeg1245@aol.com

About the Ensemble: Directed by Judy Grant, the Flute Ensemble ranges in size from 6 - 12 players, and encompasses freshmen through graduate students. The ensemble performs a wide variety of repertoire, reflecting a broad range of time periods and styles. The music is used as a vehicle for developing flute and ensemble skills as well as overall musicianship. The players have always been friendly and supportive, creating a positive atmosphere for growth and music making.

Honors Quartet: Some Flute Ensemble members may choose to audition for the Honors Flute Quartet if they would like to work on more challenging repertoire. The Quartet performs regularly in concerts with the Flute Ensemble, and has also been invited to perform at special events on campus. Audition date will be announced.
