The Women’s and Gender Studies program will be screening The Price of Sex, a film depicting sex trafficking, on Wednesday, March 21st at 7:00pm in Cushing 001. The screening will be followed by a Q&A panel.

For more information on the festival visit mit.edu/wgs

Want to Work with WGS?

Calling all undergraduates! We are looking for students passionate about women’s and gender studies who are interested in:

- Event coordination and publicity
- Web & social media management
- Interdisciplinary minor awareness
- Office administrative responsibilities

To apply, please submit a cover letter and resume to gender@bc.edu by March 23rd.
The play, Saint John the Divine in Iowa, featuring two BC Alums, will be showing at Boston Playwrights’ Theatre from March 2nd through March 18th, 2012.

A humorous and moving story of attitudes towards love, Saint John the Divine in Iowa tells the story of an Episcopal priest whose liberal views are put to the ultimate test when her daughter comes out to her -- and brings home an androgynous, ultra-freethinker whose ideas about love and relationships go against everything she believes in.

Tickets

$21 Students

www.anothercountry.org

or call: 866-811-4111

The Women's Resource Center is hiring!

The WRC is looking for student staff members with a variety of ideas and experiences. Throughout the academic year, the staff will organize and participate in campus outreach, awareness programs, and a variety of events and lectures sponsored and co-sponsored by the WRC (i.e., Take Back the Night, Love Your Body Campaign, active advocacy initiatives, speakers, etc.) Applicants must have an interest in sharing their talents to plan, implement, and evaluate both small and large programs for the BC.

Applications are due Tuesday, March 20th and should be delivered to McElroy 141. Please find the link to the application below:

Every Spring, a graduating senior is granted an award for distinguished scholarship in Women’s and Gender Studies (NOTE: you do not need to be a WGS minor to apply). To be considered for the Janet Wilson James Award, submit the following to gender@bc.edu:

- A piece of scholarly writing on any gender issue. This piece can be an empirical paper, theoretical paper, or senior honor’s thesis - 20 pages or less
- A brief letter communicating your involvement with women’s issues during your college career.

The recipient of the Janet Wilson James Award will be announced at a commencement Award Ceremony at the end of the semester.

Deadline for Submission: 3/23/2012

Questions? Email gender@bc.edu

C.A.R.E Week
Though matters of rape and sexual assault are issues that college students face throughout the year, the WRC holds Concerned About Rape Education Week every year which focuses on raising awareness about sexual assault and intimate partner violence on and off campus.

For more information please visit bc.edu/wrc and find out how you can help volunteer!

An Online Feminist Journal Seeking Bloggers

Blog posts can address feminism(s), feminist issues, women’s issues, and / or gender issues grounded in any disciplinary and / or theoretical perspective. Writers can take any perspective so long as it is well argued and well written, and that information is cited where necessary.

For more information visit: http://academinist.org/archives/837

Want to submit an event to the WGS Newsletter?
Email us at: gender@bc.edu