Dear Boston College alumni community,

We are excited to invite you to read our Boston College Alumni Association (BCAA) Annual Report to learn more about how the Alumni Association connects alumni to each other and to the traditions that make the Boston College experience so special. This report covers the BCAA’s programs and accomplishments from June 2018 through May 2019 and highlights initiatives that bring together our alumni all over the globe.

Nearly 182,000 of us share a truly special distinction: whenever we graduated, wherever we are now, wherever our lives take us, we will always be Eagles. Our goal at the BCAA is to connect this vibrant community and deepen relationships with the University and with each other.

Whether you’re based in Boston, San Diego, or Hong Kong, your BC family is never far away. Our alumni councils, networks, class-based programming, and regional chapters make it easy for Eagles to stay connected through volunteering, networking, or sharing areas of common interest. It is our hope that you’ll get involved in any way that is meaningful to you.

On behalf of the alumni relations team and the Boston College Alumni Association Board of Directors, we are most grateful to the thousands of alumni volunteers whose dedication and ongoing involvement help to create such memorable experiences for our alumni around the world.

The newly-formed Boston College Alumni Arts Circle of New York was created by Nancy Dennery Goslee '95 and Elise Morrissey ’97, after they realized that while their alma mater was offering an abundance of regional programming built on career networking and social engagement, no group focused solely on fostering alumni interaction and building meaningful relationships while utilizing the broad cultural offerings of New York. Since its formation in 2018, the Arts Circle has hosted two successful events in New York City; an exhibition at Foley Gallery, owned by Michael Foley ’86, and an afternoon at the theatre, hosted by Tony nominee Bryce Pinkham ’05.

The Wall Street Council’s first Business Leadership Forum focused on the council’s new mission of increasing programming centered on leadership and formation and featured a panel discussion with Al Kelly, P’09, ’11, ’13, ’16, CEO, Visa; Nelle Norberg ’02, managing director and market manager, J.P. Morgan Private Bank; and Jose Perez ’11, Tamroc Partners, as well as a keynote address from Vice President for Mission and Ministry Jack Butler, S.J.

The BCAA is thrilled to welcome the LGBTQ+ community as its newest identity-based affinity group. The network serves as a forum for dialogue, connection, and education among BC alumni who identify as lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, or an ally. Events celebrating the network’s launch were held in New York City and Boston.
The Distinguished Volunteer Awards Dinner was an extraordinary celebration of our honorees and the spirit of service that defines Boston College. Our seven award recipients reminded us of the joy that comes from giving back, to both our University and the broader community.
