Summer 2020

Faculty-led programs and summer internships for professional, academic and personal growth
Each year, approximately 300 students participate in Boston College (BC) summer faculty-led programs and internships, allowing them to extend their learning on campus to an overseas destination while earning academic credit and building critical skills. Program offerings represent a range of academic subjects from art history to science in geographic settings spanning from Quito to Hong Kong.

Why go abroad during the summer?
- Fulfill requirements in your major/minor/core
- Earn grades toward your GPA
- Gain cultural competency and skills employers are looking for
- Explore a new culture with a BC professor, in a small class setting
- Fit an international experience alongside academic year commitments on campus
- Go abroad as early as the end of freshman year and any time before senior year
- No GPA minimum requirement

“We are able to study art, in situ, with all our senses in a holistic way. In this environment, students take a closer look at works of art and observe their textures, brush strokes, volume, lighting, and nuances with the naked eye. The benefit of this style of learning is that the pieces of art are seen unobstructed and the works are analyzed in their most natural context.”

Ana Peláez, BC in Madrid
Internships

An internship abroad affords students the opportunity to develop skills that are highly valued in careers in both the public and private sectors, including:

- Intercultural competency & awareness
- Global perspectives
- Foreign language proficiency
- Adaptability
- Problem-solving skills
- Communication skills
- Increased confidence and initiative

Eight-week summer internship programs are offered in:

- Dublin
- Hong Kong
- Madrid
- Paris
- Prague

“What really sets my experience apart from those of dozens of other applicants is the fact that I interned in a foreign country. It shows that I can adjust to new and different environments well. It also demonstrates my ability to communicate and work with people from very different backgrounds.”
