Dear Summer Study Abroad Participant,

Congratulations on your study abroad plans for the upcoming summer. I hope that your international experience will contribute to your development as a person, a scholar, and a global citizen. Boston College hopes for no less.

We have compiled this handbook to provide you with information you will need to prepare for your experience abroad. While you will also receive information directly from your professor or on-site coordinator, please review this handbook and share the information with your parents. We have drawn upon our expertise to provide information on everything from visas and health to packing and cultural preparation.

How might you make the most of your study abroad experience? Work to integrate into your host environment. Keep in mind that the transition into your new setting may not be seamless, and you may not have the same services that are available at Boston College. Take advantage of the strengths of the host community and try to live as the locals live. Try, as best you can, to live in and with the community which will be your home for a few weeks.

And if you face difficulties, please, let us know. Our office, and Boston College at large, is always available to help.

Best wishes,

Larry Pickener
Director, Office of Global Education

PRE-DEPARTURE CHECKLIST

TRAVEL PREPARATIONS

☐ Apply for a passport and visa if needed
☐ Make travel arrangements
☐ Plan your finances
☐ Arrange medical and dental checkups
☐ Obtain necessary vaccinations and prescriptions
☐ Register online for CISI medical insurance
☐ Make a packing list
☐ Conduct pre-departure research

AT BOSTON COLLEGE

☐ Attend summer orientation session
☐ Complete Google Form with travel information

ON-SITE SAFETY PLANNING

☐ Read health, safety, and travel recommendations for your destination
☐ Make copies of all important documents (leave one set at home)
☐ Share your travel itinerary and contact information with family members
TRAVEL PREPARATIONS

TRAVEL DOCUMENTS

PASSPORT AND VISA
To study abroad, your passport must be valid for at least six months after your US return date. Visit www.travel.state.gov for passport and visa information. If your host country requires a visa, your OGE advisor will provide you with further details on the application process. Non-US citizens will be responsible for checking with their respective consulates about passport renewal and visa procedures. Students are responsible for being in full compliance with all host country regulations. Keep copies of all application documents you submit.

If you travel through other countries en route to your final destination, even if you just switch planes, you may also need a transit visa. Verify this before departure.

TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS
You are responsible for your own travel arrangements. If you arrive before the start of your program, book accommodations for that time. Youth hostels are a less expensive alternative to hotels. Have an alternative way to secure/lock your belongings, as hostels may not have lockers available. Most rail and airline passes must be purchased in the US before departure. Read all guidelines and restrictions before purchasing airline tickets and passes.

TRAVEL PREPARATIONS

FINANCES

• In most countries you can use credit, ATM, and debit cards. Your ATM card must have access to international networks (e.g., Cirrus, Plus). If you have a PIN with letters, know the corresponding numbers. Some vendors and ATMs require a special ‘chip’ card for transactions, making it impossible to use your card in some situations. However, most US banks have switched to chip cards; if you do not yet have one you should check with your bank. Keep backup currency on hand. Check your bank’s overseas fees before leaving. Get a credit card PIN for possible cash advances.

• Some US banks have international partners that charge no ATM fees or reduced fees. Check with your bank about international partners.

• Leave copies of all bank cards in the US. Take the international customer service numbers of your bank with you.

• Notify your ATM, credit, and debit card banks before departure. Otherwise, they may think your cards were stolen once you use them abroad. If this happens they may freeze your account and you will need to contact them from abroad to reactivate it.

• Evaluate your programs’ estimated cost sheet. Prepare a budget. Bring about $150-$200 with you in local currency for arrival. You may have difficulties withdrawing or exchanging money at the airport and will want to make sure that you have enough for the first day. The recommended amount you will need varies by location.

MEDICAL INSURANCE

• All BC students will also be enrolled in the CISI Worldwide Insurance plan for the duration of their program. You are required to register for CISI medical insurance after receiving your insurance certificate number. For a comprehensive description of the CISI Worldwide Insurance Services, visit the CISI portal. Keep in mind that CISI does not cover you within the US.

• Additionally, a CISI fee will be placed on your BC bill.

• If you plan to be abroad before or after the CISI coverage dates, you are able to extend your CISI coverage through their website.

• You must maintain your US-based medical insurance coverage while abroad. Overseas-based insurance plans are insufficient. Utilize a plan through BC’s insurance carrier or arrange coverage through another carrier.
TRAVEL PREPARATIONS

- You will be provided with a CISI membership card. Carry this card at all times. You will need the card if you seek medical treatment abroad.
- In case of an emergency abroad, you should go immediately to the nearest physician or hospital without delay and then contact CISI.

HEALTH PREPARATIONS

STUDENTS WITH CHRONIC ILLNESS

- If you have a physical or psychological condition that requires ongoing treatment, it is strongly recommended that you notify the OGE and consult your physician or counselor about your plan to go abroad so that they can assist you in attaining arrangements that you may need. Seek their advice about your options and discuss your overseas medical care.
- Consider possible consequences of stress from cultural adjustment and reliance on different medical practices.
- You are strongly encouraged to inform on-site staff about any medical condition for which you may need special assistance. Do this prior to arrival.

CHECK-UPS AND VACCINATIONS

Have medical and dental exams before departure. Check that all of your vaccinations are current. Certain countries may also require or recommend vaccinations against specific diseases before departure.

Carry CDC Certificate of Vaccination against Covid-19 and also take a picture of it with your phone but you may be required to show the actually card.

TRAVEL PREPARATIONS

PRESCRIPTIONS

Bring medications in their original labeled bottles. Take copies of all written prescriptions with generic names. When feasible, bring medication that lasts your entire stay abroad. Do not ship medication overseas, as customs may retain it. Visit the CISI website for information on prescription benefits. Do not pack medication in checked luggage. If you wear contacts, you should also bring an extra pair of contact lenses and solution as you may not be able to find the kind you need abroad.

OTHER PRECAUTIONS

If you have a serious health condition or allergy, plan to wear a Medic Alert bracelet. It is also strongly recommended that you let on-site staff and travel companions know of your condition in case you have a medical emergency. Bring translations for your condition or allergy in the local language(s) where you will be traveling, so that you can explain in the event of an emergency.

PRE-DEPARTURE RESEARCH

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR EVERYONE

• Research your host country using the internet, travel books, newspapers, magazines, and international news programs. Students should also read their OGE Program Fact Sheet.
• Talk with study abroad alumni, the OGE staff, BC faculty, and international or exchange students who have studied or lived abroad.
• Be informed and capable of discussing US history and current events occurring in both the US and your host country while abroad.

DIVERSITY ABROAD

Attitudes toward women, the LGBTQ+ community, students with various levels of ability, and AHANA students vary worldwide. Customs, beliefs, laws, facilities, and social practices relating to these populations may be different than in the US. Some countries are very progressive, while others are far more conservative. To prepare for the cultural differences you may encounter, it is recommended that you:

- Speak with people who have traveled or lived in your host country.
- Research your host country. Many student travel guides have sections pertaining to special interest groups.
- Be sensitive to cultural differences. Remember that you will be subject to your host country’s laws, even if you feel they are discriminatory.
- Meet with your OIP advisor if you have any concerns. All matters will be kept confidential.
TRAVEL PREPARATIONS

COMMUNICATION

• You should have access to a cell phone while abroad and the number should be shared with your faculty leader and on-site coordinator.

• Your US cell phone can work abroad if it is a world/tri-band phone. You must unlock it to use a local SIM card. Contact your provider to see what might be possible.

• Rates are high for using a US plan abroad, though many providers offer temporary international plans, which are worth looking into in advance of your departure. If it is not feasible to use your US cell phone abroad, consider buying a cell phone/plan in your host country.

• You can bring a US phone card or use local calling cards. Check with the provider about rates and how to make calls.

• Consider using Whatsapp for international calls. You can pay for a Skype subscription or deposit a certain amount in your account. You can download Whatsapp before departure and text/call friends or family for free. Your friends and family will need to download Whatsapp as well.

• Ask returnees or locals for advice. Some methods work better than others.

• Boston College will communicate with you via your BC email account. It is essential that you read all correspondence and respond in a timely manner as necessary.

• You may need to set up a Virtual Private Network (VPN) connection while abroad, particularly in areas that restrict internet access. When using your computer in public places (cafe, hotel, etc.), connect to VPN before accessing sites that require any personal information. Visit EagleVPN and www.b.c.edu/vpn for details.

• For software and other technology questions, you can also contact the BC Help Center at help.center@bc.edu or +1(617)552-4357.
STUDY ABROAD WITHDRAWAL POLICY

You must continue to meet BC’s academic, disciplinary, and financial requirements until departure or risk losing final clearance to go abroad. You are responsible for all financial losses if you are not cleared to go abroad.

By turning in the Final Confirmation and Clearance forms online, a student commits to participate in a summer program abroad and is subject to a $300 non-refundable program deposit, to be charged to the student’s Agora account. The OGE will reserve a spot in the program and make any necessary payments on behalf of the student. Any withdrawal after the submission of Final Confirmation and Clearance Forms will result in a financial penalty of at least $300, according to the fee schedule outlined below.

To withdraw from a program after turning in confirmation forms, a student must complete a withdrawal form and return it to the Summer & Internships Advisor. Depending on the date of withdrawal, the following fees will apply, to be charged to the students’ Agora account in May.

FINANCES

Students will be billed for summer programs via their Agora account in early May, and payment is due prior to departure. Any questions related to billing should be directed to Student Services. For information on billing for non-BC students, please visit the Non-BC Summer Applicants section on the OGE website.

Four separate costs are billed to Agora:

- Tuition (consistent with BC tuition cost for a 3, 4, or 6 credit course)
- CISI international health insurance ($40-$100 depending on duration of stay)
- Program fee (varies depending on location and included amenities, but all program fees include housing, group activities, and some group meals)
- Enrollment fee ($45, a fee set by the university)

Students are responsible for coordinating and paying for their own travel to the program location and budgeting for meals and personal expenses not covered by the program fee. Details on individual program expenses are listed on the program page found on the OGE website.

ACADEMICS

Students may take up to two summer courses abroad during their time at BC and have those courses count towards the graduation requirements as well as for major, minor or core requirements. Grades appear on transcripts and are factored into students’ GPA as regular BC courses. To receive academic credit for a summer course abroad, you must receive at least a C- for the course.

- You are responsible for following all BC academic regulations while abroad.
- Summer courses have been pre-approved for certain requirements. If you wish to receive credit that has not been pre-approved for the course you are taking, it is your responsibility to obtain that approval. Contact the appropriate department or dean if you have questions about course approval.
- If you are making up for a deficiency then you must obtain a course approval form from your dean’s office.
AFTER ARRIVAL ABROAD

CULTURAL ADJUSTMENT

● Once abroad, you may face an adjustment period referred to as “culture shock.” The degree of shock depends on factors such as length of study abroad, your flexibility, tolerance for ambiguity, degree of difference between your home and host culture, prior experience abroad, and your expectations.

● Culture shock is a normal part of study abroad, even during short-term programs. It shows that you are experiencing the difference between your culture and that of the host country.

● Symptoms of culture shock can include homesickness, depression, feeling lost and out of place, frustration, irritability, and fatigue. If you experience culture shock, remember that you are not alone. Contact program staff or BC if you need further assistance overcoming culture shock.

SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR DEALING WITH CULTURE SHOCK SHOULD INCLUDE:

● “Plunge” into your host culture and wrestle with the differences.

● Keep an open mind. We all have preconceived ideas and beliefs that come into question while abroad.

● Get to know others. Do not isolate yourself.

● Find a “cultural informant,” such as a local person with whom you can discuss your frustrations and encounters with difference.

● Learn as much as you can about your host culture.

● Maintain a support structure with others, particularly those going through the same experience.

● Take time for reflection by writing in a journal or blogging. Record your impressions of new experiences.

● For some students, culture shock becomes more serious. If you are concerned by your mental and/or physical status, do not hesitate to seek help. Onsite staff can assist in helping you find medical treatment.

SAFEGUARDING YOUR DOCUMENTS/VALUABLES

● Keep your passport and visa in a secure place. Carry copies when not traveling. Leave copies in the US.

● Be careful with bank card numbers, receipts, and PINs. Exercise caution at ATM machines.

www.bc.edu/international  12
AFTER ARRIVAL ABROAD

- Handbags, backpacks, coats, and back pockets are prone to theft. Watch your belongings, especially on public transport. Be aware of ploys to distract your attention and rob you. Use luggage locks. Always secure your bags.
- Do not carry large amounts of cash or all of your money in one place. Use a money belt or neck pouch when traveling. Do not count money in public.
- Secure your belongings in hotels and hostels. Do not leave valuables lying around. Consider using a public locker if there is no safe place for valuables.
- If mugged, do not struggle with the perpetrator. Your safety is worth more than your belongings.

OBEYING LOCAL LAWS

- Remember that you are a representative of the US and BC. Learn the local laws and obey them.
- Laws and legal proceedings vary worldwide. You are subject to the laws and legal system of the host country.
- Illegal or unacceptable behavior may result in BC disciplinary sanctions. The OGE and on-site staff can dismiss you from the program if necessary.

STREET SMARTS

- Be aware of your surroundings. Walk confidently. Stay in populated, well-lit areas. Travel with friends at night.
- Pay attention to the local health, safety, and travel recommendations.
- Avoid checking your map on the street. Go into a café or shop.
- Blend in with the local culture in terms of language, behavior, and dress (for example, do not wear clothing with university logos).
- When crossing streets, remember that in some country’s vehicles drive on the left side of the road.
- Do not drive while overseas. Use caution when riding in vehicles. Driving behavior and laws vary by location. Abide by local laws.
- Know the local phone system, emergency numbers, and how to say “help”.
- Avoid demonstrations or large political gatherings.
- In some locations, exercise caution with water and dairy products. Avoid raw or undercooked food. Be wary of food available at street vendors.
- Always carry your Vaccination Card and CISI insurance card.
- If you need assistance, notify your on-site contact, BC, and/or CISI.
- Let relatives know your travel plans. Contact them upon arrival.
AFTER ARRIVAL ABROAD

IN AN EMERGENCY
If you encounter an emergency abroad such as a natural disaster, severe illness or injury, physical or sexual assault, or political disturbance, students should:

● Contact on-site staff immediately
● Contact the OGE at +1 617-552-3827 during business hours (Monday-Friday 9 am - 5 pm EST) or the Boston College Police Department (BCPD) if outside of business hours at +1 617-552-4444. BCPD is available 24 hours/day and will contact the appropriate university personnel to assist you.
● Contact your family in the US/abroad

The Emergency Response Preparedness Guidelines were designed to help students manage and respond to emergency incidents that occur overseas.

SEXUAL ASSAULT
Boston College takes all reports of sexual misconduct and discrimination very seriously, regardless of where such incidents occur. Cultural norms may mean that actions are interpreted differently in other countries. Regardless of these norms, you are encouraged to utilize BC support resources and report any incident of harassment or sexual violence.

The OGE works closely with BC’s Title IX Coordinator to ensure survivors receive the privacy and support they need both overseas and upon their return to campus. In the case of an incident of sexual assault, get to a safe place, seek medical care if necessary, and take time to decide how you wish to proceed, i.e. reporting the incident to the local authorities, reaching out to BC, or speaking with someone you trust. Your on-site coordinator and faculty program leader are always available as a resource, and you should not hesitate to contact the OGE directly as needed.

Any student who is a victim of sexual assault is strongly encouraged to utilize the services of the Sexual Assault Network at Boston College, a 24-hour/7-days-a-week private and anonymous resource that is staffed by advocates who are trained to listen, provide options, and support the survivor. Resources are available to you while overseas and when you return to campus. Call +1(617)552-BC11(2211) for assistance.
“GOLDEN RULES” FOR STUDY ABROAD SUCCESS

● KEEP AN OPEN MIND
● GET OUT OF YOUR COMFORT ZONE
● GET INVOLVED WITH SOMETHING LOCAL
● COUNTRIES HAVE DIFFERENT LAWS AND CUSTOMS REGARDING ALCOHOL USE. BEHAVE RESPONSIBLY.
● EXPLORE YOUR HOST CITY AND REGION AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE
● KEEP A JOURNAL OR BLOG

WHAT TO DO IN AN EMERGENCY

If you encounter an emergency abroad such as a natural disaster, severe illness of injury, physical or sexual assault, terrorist attack or political disturbance you should:

● Contact on-site staff immediately.
● Contact the OGE at +1 617-552-3827 during business hours (Monday-Friday 9 am-5pm EST) or the Boston College Police Department (BCPD) if outside business hours at +1 617-552-4444. BCPD is available 24 hours a day and will contact the appropriate university personnel to assist you.
● Contact your family in the US/abroad.

Students are responsible for their own health, safety, and security, in preparation for, and throughout their time abroad. While there are some situations that are out of anyone’s control, by being knowledgeable about your host country, making educated decisions, knowing the available resources, and asking for assistance as necessary, you can help to mitigate adversity. Taking the following actions will ensure that you are well prepared:

Required / Critical Actions:

● Complete the Emergency Contact Information form in your OGE online account

● Know how to access your CISI health insurance and keep a copy of the card (you have to log into myCISI and print your card) with you at all times along with the 24/7 assistance phone number

● Keep the on-site faculty or coordinator’s numbers, OGE, and BC and your host university emergency numbers with you at all times.

● If there is an emergency, you should immediately contact, or respond to contact from the on-site faculty member or coordinator. It is their responsibility to make sure that you are safe; you must follow their instructions. If there is not an on-site BC faculty or staff person, you should contact your OGE Advisor at BC and the international office staff of your host university as soon as possible.
• Develop a plan for telephone or e-mail contact with your family, so that in case of emergency you will be able to communicate directly about your safety and well-being. It is your responsibility to be in touch with your parents in the case of an emergency; the OGE will only contact families in the case of a major emergency or crisis (in which students are directly involved or face significant risk or danger) once the response is underway and/or the incident is resolved.

• If there is an emergency in your host city and/or country, it is likely that BC OGE Advisors or other OGE staff will contact you, often just to ensure your safety and well-being. It is imperative that you respond to any e-mail correspondence from OGE staff as soon as possible, as we must verify that we have accounted for all students.

THE OGE AND THE EMERGENCIES ABROAD

• We care deeply about events that occur throughout the world, including those that may impact our students abroad, international exchange students currently studying at BC, and our extended university community. In the event of an emergency, political crisis, or natural disaster in a city or country in which the OGE currently has a program in session, OGE staff will be in close contact with our on-site colleagues, students, and emergency contacts as necessary. Our staff will also be in contact with our international exchange students regarding events that occur in their home countries.

• The OGE monitors a variety of sources on international safety and security on a daily basis, including the U.S. Department of State (DOS) travel advisories, OSAC, local media, peer groups, and updates from partner universities and on-site staff around the world. We recommend that students and their parents also stay informed. Please note that, as of January 2018, the U.S. Department of State launched improvements to the way information is shared with U.S. citizens traveling abroad. Under the new system, every country has a Travel Advisory, providing levels of advice from 1-4. Travel advisories replace the warnings and alerts used in the past. As of April 2021, DOS advisories also take into consideration the Center for Disease Control (CDC) Covid19 Travel Health Notices.

• The OGE operates programs in countries with an active Department of State Level 3 and 4 advisory on a case-by-case basis; if we do have a program in a country with an active Level 3 or 4 advisory, students will be informed and asked to sign a waiver prior to confirming their participation. Boston College undergraduate students are typically not permitted to travel to Level 4 countries. Students should also be aware of countries with varying levels of advice that apply to specific locations or areas within a country. Higher-risk areas designated within Level 1, Level 2 and Level 3 countries are to be strictly avoided. Conditions in any country may change rapidly and at any time. The Department of State Travel Advisories also provide clear reasons for assigned levels, using established risk indicators, and offer specific advice to U.S. citizens who choose to travel there, such as Health, Crime, Terrorism, Civil Unrest, Natural Disaster, Time-Limited Event and Other. Please be sure to thoroughly acquaint yourself with the advisory for the country you plan to study in, as well as any other countries you plan to visit. Note that non-program related travel is only encouraged before or after official program dates and that Boston College does not take responsibility for students who chose to travel independently outside their designated program dates.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

AS A STUDY ABROAD STUDENT, YOU ARE EXPECTED TO:

1. Educate yourself about, and fully integrate yourself into, your host country’s culture; fully participate in all the academic and optional events and explore the local community in your free time.
2. Be an exemplary BC ambassador to your host country and university by taking full responsibility for your personal conduct and academic performance.
3. Learn about and obey the local laws and customs of your host country and understand their implications for you as an individual.
4. Maximize your personal safety by taking all reasonable precautions, safeguarding your belongings, and keeping emergency contact information at hand.
5. Be aware of any existing disabilities, chronic illness, or mental health issues and share that information with your OGE advisor who can help you plan for a safe and healthy experience.
6. Consider host country culture, attitudes, and laws regarding personal relationships, sexuality, race, religion, gender, etc.
7. Achieve your own study abroad goals by carefully reading all program materials and responding in a timely manner to communications from the OGE, onsite staff, and program provider.
