

Graduate Assistant sought to assist with programming for the BC Law School Program on Innovation and Entrepreneurship ("PIE"). Among its other activities, PIE organizes conferences, panels, speakers and events broadly related to innovation, entrepreneurship, and the law. The GA will assist in interfacing with area law firms and companies in the space, planning conferences and events, researching and inviting speakers, and hosting events. The GA will also have tasks such as updating the PIE mailing list and assisting in communication and publication related to PIE. No legal experience or training is necessary. Pay is $1,100 per month or $4,400 per full semester. Interested applicants should send a resume and brief letter of interest to Professor David Olson at david.olson.3@bc.edu.
