THINKING IT OVER...

Living Environment: What kind of housing do I want? Suites? Apartments? Traditional? Do I want to participate in a Living & Learning Community?

Community: What type of a community do I want to be a part of? Quiet? Active? Social?

Friends: Is it important that I live with my best friends? How will living together impact our relationship? Will I meet new people?

Cost of housing: Is cost of housing important? Do I want to be on a meal plan?

Rumors: What is it actually like to live in a particular place? Rumors might not be true...do some investigating!

Have a back-up plan!

- Students who don’t complete the application will lose eligibility to live on-campus for the next year
- Agora > Other Services > MyResLife > Applications > 2024-2025 Academic Year.
- Update your roommate profile, indicate your housing intent, complete the living & learning community application, and sign the residency agreement.
All students must declare their intent as:

- on-campus
- off-campus
- study abroad
- withdrawal/transfer

Students who do not declare an intent are not guaranteed university housing for the 2024-2025 academic year.

If your housing intent changes, please contact Residential Life at placement@bc.edu.
Housing Accommodation Requests

- Students who wish to request accommodations must register and set up a meeting with the Office of Disability Services staff.
- Please visit the Disability Services Website to start the registration process.
- Supporting documentation from a physician or other health care professional must be submitted to the Disability Services Office.
- Residential Life does not review medical documentation, or approve medical accommodations for a specific type or space within housing.
Housing Accommodation Requests

- Most students with an approved medical accommodation will participate in the traditional group room selection process to select their own space.
- If a student is not able to select a space that meets their accommodation during the traditional room selection, Residential Life staff will manually assign students to a space.
- Medical accommodations do not include a group of specific friends/roommates to live with. If Residential Life needs to manually place a student in a space, we would try to provide the option to bring one friend (maximum).
STEP 3: INVESTIGATE AND PLAN

Investigate where you want to live:

- Tour different areas
- Look at floor plans available on the MyResLife Portal
- Speak with potential roommates about preferences
- Speak with RAs and RDs
- Read your hall bulletin boards
- Read emails from placement@bc.edu
- Check information available on the room selection website (Infographics, YouTube Videos, etc)
- Learn more about Living & Learning Communities
- Have backup plans in mind for Room Selection, in case your desired housing is unavailable
Step 3: Investigate and Plan

- Investigate who you want to live with
- Speak with potential roommates about preferences
- Speak with RAs and RDs
- Have many plans in mind for Room Selection

STEP 4: GROUP SELECTION
ROOM SELECTION ORDER OF DAYS

- 6-Person Apartments
- 4-Person Apartments
- 2-Person & 3-Person Apartments
- 6-Person Suites (Stayer Hall)
- 8-Person Suites
- 4-Person Suites
- 6 and 9-Person Suites (Triple Rooms)
- Traditional Style Housing

How can you use blocking to avoid breaking up friend groups?
Group Selection will begin on Monday, March 11th, and continue through Thursday, March 21st.
Each day is a different selection based on room-type and group size. See the Timeline on the Residential Life Website for the dates of different selections.
Each group should designate one Group Leader. All members of the group will give their Eagle ID to their group leader.
The group leader is responsible for selecting housing for all group members.
The group leader is the only member of the group that will log-in to register AND select housing for the group.
Each student can only belong to one group – do not give multiple group leaders your Eagle ID!
STEP 4: GROUP SELECTION OVERVIEW

● To apply for a specific type of room, the group leader must register their group between 10am-1pm of that room type day.
  ○ Example: A group of four students want a 4-person suite, so the group leader logs-in and registers the group on the morning of 4-person suite day.

● Group members must equal the number of bed spaces of the housing being requested.
  ○ Example: Only complete groups of eight students can register an 8-person suite. A group of seven would not be able to register for this space.
STEP 4: GROUP SELECTION OVERVIEW

● If your group is selected to pick a room, your will receive an email with your group pick time.

● The group leader will be responsible for selecting housing for your group at that time.

● If your group is not selected, you will be able to form a new group for a different room type selection on another day. Residential Life will delete your old group, so you can reform the new group.
  ○ You are not required to register for a room type on every consecutive day - you can wait to register for a room type later in the week.

● Students with financial holds or conduct holds are not eligible to participate in room selection and cannot be added to groups.
  ○ Be sure to address any account holds prior to your desired room selection day!
GROUP SELECTION DAY

10 am – 1 pm: The group leader creates & verifies the group.
- The group leader logs into the housing application and follows the steps to add (or remove) group members.
- Once the group is full, the group leader will verify the group. Verified groups cannot be changed.
- The group leader can register the group anytime between 10 am and 1 pm but no later.

1 pm – 3 pm: Groups are assigned lottery numbers and pick times.
- The group leader receives an email stating if their group is selected to pick housing that day. If the group is selected, the pick time will be included in the email.
- Room selection begins at 4pm EST the day after groups register.
GROUP SELECTION DAY

- 4 pm – All Spaces are Selected: Group leaders log-in during their assigned pick time and select housing for their group.
  - The group leader will select the specific suite, apartment, or room(s) for the group.
  - The group leader will assign group members to specific bedrooms.
  - The space your group leader selects is your room for next year.
  - Be sure your group leader knows who should be direct roommates and who should be in which room.

- The group leader should click save after finalizing the selection. Group members can view their assignment once it is selected.

- If a group receives a pick time, they must select on that day. If they do not select, Residential Life will place the group into the available openings.
Groups are weighted based on the class year of students. Each class is assigned a different eligibility code:

- Juniors (and Seniors) = 1
- Sophomores = 2
- Freshmen = 3

The sum of the group’s eligibility codes determines the group’s category.

- See the Residential Life website for a complete breakdown of categories.
- Who lands into what category changes for each room type/housing selection day

Groups with lower eligibility codes will receive preference over students with higher eligibility codes.

- Example: A group of four juniors will receive preference over a group of four sophomores.

Groups within the same category are assigned random lottery numbers to determine pick times.
Blocking

- Blocking allows several groups to select housing together at the same time.
- Groups may block with one, two, or three other groups (depending on the selection day).
- Groups must be the same size, applying for the same type of housing, and fall within the same eligibility category.
- Blocked groups have one group leader and register once for everyone.
- Blocking does not improve or hurt chances of selecting housing.
- Groups that block may be co-ed (but suites and rooms are still single-gender).
- Information about blocking can be found in the housing assignments section of the room selection website.
TIPS AND TRICKS

- Pick a primary roommate for the selection process
- Register for a room type that meets your group size instead of editing your group size to meet a room type
- Use blocking when it helps you, not when it hurts you
- Instead of kicking people out of your group to select for a particular room type, you can:
  - Block with other groups
  - Or wait for another day when your entire group can select together
- Contact your RD if you need help finding roommates OR use the Facebook Finder group.
Step 5: After Room Selection

- If you wish to move off-campus after selecting your room, you must do so by completing a Housing Cancellation form.
  - The form is available at all times through Agora > Other Services > MyResLife > Forms.
  - You have until May 31st to cancel housing and receive a full refund.

- Students must move into the room selected at Room Selection or assigned through Open Selection.

- Residential Life will not start reviewing or approving any room change requests until 2 weeks into the fall semester.

- Students choosing to change bedrooms or suites/apartments without approval may be referred to the student conduct process.
STUDYING ABROAD

- Students who are confirmed to study abroad will be cancelled out of housing assignment for the entire academic year and lose claim to space they have chosen during room selection.
  - Residential life will then assign other students to the space for the entire academic year.
  - If a student wishes to live on-campus in the spring when they return from abroad, Residential Life will assign them to a vacancy on-campus.

- We do not hold spaces for students if they are studying abroad and plan on returning.

- Students also cannot hold spaces for prior roommates with the goal of students returning within the semester.
Housing Options

- Class year is provided to Residential Life from Student Services, and is therefore based on credit.
- Locations are not class specific; however, most locations become class based through the selection process.
- Cross-class groups are allowed, but will impact eligibility category.

- Students caught tampering or manipulating the Room Selection Process risk immediate removal from housing and conduct referral.
- Students are asked to be civil and courteous to each other to make the process as stress-free as possible.
Some Things to Remember

- 8-person suites are popular, but they may not be the type of environment you’re looking for.
- 20-25% of the sophomore class lives on College Road. Your social life will exist if you live there too.
- The only factor impacting selection and pick times is class year.
- The process is designed to be as fair as possible and allow for equal participation for all students.
- Room selection can be stressful, but we are here to help!
