Or, you can make an appointment with your advisor on Navigate.

Take a summer class abroad!

The Ethics of Capitalism: Flourishing in a Commercial Society in Copenhagen

Join Prof Jeremy Evans for a 4 week seminar in one of the most beautiful and lively cities in the world to examine the relationship between human happiness and the institutions of commercial life. Denmark is often rated as one of the happiest nations in the world, so it provides an ideal backdrop to explore how its unique economic and social institutions contribute to human well-being. This course also satisfies a Philosophy elective for majors/minors. Reach out to Prof Evans with any questions (evansjv@bc.edu).

Marketing for Digital Nomads: Building the Skills You Need for the Remote Work Revolution in Madrid

Digital Marketing is evolving and changing the way companies do business. Hence, knowledge workers have more freedom than ever before to live and work wherever they wish, thanks to the development of exciting new digital tools and collaboration approaches. One of the most accessible and affordable growing hubs for these international remote workers (i.e., digital nomads) is Madrid, Spain where this course will be based. Class is taught by Prof. Peter Nunziata.

Find out more about these courses (and many more) on the OGE website.

Spring+Summer2024: Schiller Institute international project-based course opportunity

A sequence of two, 1-credit courses featuring 1) weekly meetings in Spring 2024 taught by faculty experts in community-engaged collaboration, project management, leadership, and intercultural competence; and 2) a three-week immersive in Quilpué, Vina del Mar, or Santiago, Chile or Zanzibar, Tanzania over three weeks in late May through mid-June.

Students must apply for this course. Selected students will work on these projects in small interdisciplinary teams. More information about the course and projects can be found on the linked application.

Rolling deadline. Apply by December 4th for priority consideration.

Need a study break? The Schiller Institute is hosting two interactive sessions featuring BC's COP 28 delegation, reporting live from Dubai.

COP is organized by the United Nations and is the largest international climate change conference in the world. December 4th and 11th, 11am-12pm 245 Beacon St, Room 501 (free lunch included)

Who are you grateful for?

This is a great time of year to reflect on mentors -- both professional and personal -- who have supported you. Whether it's a professor, Portico TA, work supervisor, someone you networked with earlier this year, take some time to write a thank you note (or text or email) to let them know you appreciate their help. It's a perfect way to show your appreciation and keep in touch with your network.

LEADERSHIP THIS WEEK

Sign up for the Klein Ethics Case Competition - win $1000!

The Carroll School of Management and the Boston College Center for Corporate Citizenship are excited to announce the 13th annual Walter H. Klein Business Ethics Case Competition.

When is it? The Klein Ethics Case Competition will have two rounds. Students receive the case in December, prior to winter break. Teams will prepare an executive summary over winter break to submit on Friday, January 19, 2024. From there, judges will select the teams that will compete in the final round on Friday, February 9, 2024 in Fulton Hall.

Who can participate? Students must be in the class of 2025, 2026, or 2027 at Boston College.

Students will compete as a team of two where at least one member of the team must be in the Carroll School of Management.

What do the winners receive? The first place team will receive a cash prize of $1000 to share and the opportunity to represent Boston College at a national case competition

Deadline to sign up is Friday, December 8, 2023. Sign up here.
