Hello BC Students!

Can you believe that it's the end of the semester already? I hope you all had a great final week and that you had some time to relax and recharge over the weekend.

Now that a new term is underway, here are some opportunities that you might consider exploring:

LinkedIn Learning

Whether it's a technical skill or a soft skill, chances are, LinkedIn will have a course here. Did you know that BC has a partnership with LinkedIn Learning and the platform is now free and available to all students? Step 1 - visit BC's page to connect and access LinkedIn Learning (click here).

Forage - Simulation Projects that are Resume Adds!

One of the best hidden (and free!) resources sponsored by the BC Career Center is Forage. It's a virtual experience program with top employers - which walks you through a practice problem, complete with the training you need to tackle the project. Think case study, but a little more background info on Forage?

Handshake

Check out this Highlighted Career Opportunities in Handshake.

As the semester begins to wrap up, exams, group projects, and papers start to pile up. The beginning of the year is a great time to think about career planning and think about some opportunities you might want to pursue. The Career Center is here to help you navigate your career planning.

Contact Professor Rita Owens (rita.owens@bc.edu) for more information or with questions.
