As the Thanksgiving holiday approaches, we are feeling grateful. And so, at Pop-Up Cookies this week, we are adding Pop-Up Gratitude! Stop by to write a thank you note to a professor (one you had this semester or one from previous generations of students) and be entered into a drawing for a $50 gift card to Whole Foods. The GenHERation Summer Leadership Series is an initiative created by the GenHERation team to support students in their leadership development. The series will feature a series of guest speakers who will share their experiences and ask questions. Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis. Learn more and apply here: https://genheration.com/summerLeadershipSeries/.

Next summer, Professor Matt O’Hern will be teaching a new study abroad course called UX Design, Social Media Management, and Digital Marketing. This course will count as a Marketing or Communications elective. It will be held in Lisbon, one of Europe’s most exciting and affordable capitals. You can access the BC course page using the link below.

The finance department maintains the official waitlist for all MFIN class enrollments. If a class is closed or displays a restriction, please fill out this form to be overridden or placed on the official waitlist. Before registering for classes, please be sure to check your MyBC course registration plan(s).

You will have to meet with your CSOM staff advisor to discuss how abroad fits into your 4 year plan. Now is the time to start the process of learning about the programs. The deadline for completing the Advising Questionnaire is November 21, 2022. If you have not done any of these steps, make sure to do STEPS 1 and 2 this week!

Certified career advisor office hours will be held in Fulton Hall 315 Monday through Thursday from 1-4 pm. You can stop by for questions about job/internship search, resumes, cover letters and interviews, and any other issues you need help with. Sign up for Career Accelerator this Spring term. Your Career Team in Fulton Hall (315) offers drop-in hours daily from 1-4 pm, with no appointment necessary. You can stop by for questions about job/internship search, resumes, cover letters and interviews, and any other issues you need help with.

The BC Office of Career and Professional Development (OCPD) is committed to providing quality and comprehensive services to prepare students for their careers and professional lives. OCPD offers students a range of services and programs designed to enhance students’ career potential and provide them with tools and strategies to achieve their professional goals. Students can receive career counseling, participate in career events, and access resources to help them develop their career plans.

For more information on the OCPD services and programs, please visit the OCPD website or stop by the Fulton Hall office hours. You can also contact your staff advisor to discuss your career goals and how the OCPD can support you in achieving them.

CSOM WIBcast with Allison Minogue

Now Allison is one year into her newest role at Google. This episode highlights concepts of behavioral economics in the middle and Allison gives a deep dive into what it means to be a consultant. Allison discusses her path from Columbia Business School to McKinsey and the role of behavioral economics in her work. She also shares her advice for students interested in pursuing a career in finance.

Do you hate putting your card down? Do you hate figuring out what each person owes? Split will pay for your meal. It’s like splitting the bill but with no fees and no tip. No exchanges, no tip, no fees! Just split the bill and never argue about it again.

We want you to win a $50 Whole Foods gift card! To enter, please use the luncheon series link here: https://oipstudyabroad101.youcanbook.me/.

Now is the time to start planning to study abroad during the academic year. If you have not done any of these steps, make sure to do STEPS 1 and 2 this week!

The BC Office of International Programs (OIP) is committed to providing opportunities for students to study abroad. OIP offers a range of study abroad programs and provides support and resources to students interested in studying abroad. Students can receive advice on selecting programs, applying, financing, and preparing for their study abroad experience.

For more information on OIP programs and services, please visit the OCPD website or stop by the Fulton Hall office hours. You can also contact your staff advisor to discuss your study abroad goals and how OIP can support you in achieving them.

CSOM 2024 Program Information Session

This program is designed for sophomores and juniors and will cover the core concepts in public health. The program is open to all students in any field of study and will provide an introduction to the field of public health. Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis.

O’Hern directly to find out more at matthew.ohern@bc.edu.