THURSDAY, APRIL 19

Lunch with an Entrepreneur featuring Tim Telman
12:00-1:00 pm in Cushing 208
Join us for lunch with Tim Telman, President & CEO of the Bank of Cape Cod! Discuss Tim’s journey as a banker and an entrepreneur, then network with Tim & fellow students interested in entrepreneurship. Although his career has followed a mostly financial path, Tim Telman considers himself an entrepreneur first and a banker second. After receiving his undergraduate degree in Economics from Boston College, Tim continued his education at Babson College, where he earned his MBA. He spent 16 years in downtown Boston, holding positions with Bank of New England, Bank of Boston, and Brown Brothers Harriman & Co. Then, Tim took a slight detour when he left banking and became Co-Owner and CFO of Hyannis Whale Watcher Cruises. But banking was in his blood and, in 2006, Telman returned to the industry, this time as Founder of the Bank of Cape Cod, the first community, state-chartered, commercial bank to open since 1998. Lunch is provided by the Shea Center for Entrepreneurship. Please register here to attend.

SATURDAY, APRIL 21

Enabling Growth Leadership Conference
9:00 am-3:00 pm in the Heights Room
The Latin American Business Club is hosting its 5th Annual Leadership Conference, where the Head of Structured Finance of LatAm at Goldman Sachs, Partner at BDT Capital, Head of Nestle Water Latin America, Former Deputy Prime Minister of Ireland, Congressman and Presidential candidate of Chile, and many more prominent leaders will be speaking to the attendees about the changes in political climate, the ongoing trade wars, and growth in Latin America. As attendees hear about the speakers’ professional and academic experiences, they will also be given an incredible opportunity to network, and are encouraged to ask any questions to initiate a discussion on topics of personal interest. Breakfast and lunch will be served. Tickets are available now! Click here to get tickets!

TUESDAY, APRIL 24

Santiago Siri on the Future of Democracy
7:30-9:30 pm in Higgins 300
Presented by The Cryptocurrency Club, Siri Santiago will be speaking at Boston College about Democracy Earth and his thoughts on blockchain technology. Democracy Earth, a 501(c)(3) foundation, is building a decentralized, open-source voting protocol that allows citizens to securely and anonymously vote. Founded in 2015, Democracy Earth is a Y Combinator backed startup led by Siri that intends to construct a liquid democracy platform where citizens can vote for elected officials and laws. Democracy Earth’s inspiration stems from Siri and his co-founders running for a seat on the city council in Buenos Aires. Democracy Earth’s Sovereign platform allows anonymity to users, which will help eliminate voter suppression in democracies. Democracy Earth is currently planning a token sale for April. Here is the link to the event which has a description: https://www.eventbrite.com/e/santiago-siri-on-the-future-of-democracy-tickets-44374712961.

Thursday, 10:00am-12:00pm; 1:00-3:00 pm

Finance Registration

As we prepare for registration, the Finance Department is committed to addressing every student’s need and situation as best as possible and in as timely a manner as possible. Since finance classes are in very high demand and registration time slots are randomly assigned by the University, the Department administrators in Fulton 330 manage the official waitlist for all finance classes once they have closed. As sections fill up, the department does its due diligence by checking degree audits to, for example, ensure pre-requisites are met and avoid duplicate registration. Students are encouraged to stop by the Finance Department to be placed on the official waitlist once their pick time has passed and the class is closed. We remind students to register for any open section of a class at their pick time if the class is needed. Finance professors do not keep separate waitlists; the official waitlist is kept by the finance department administrators.

The Finance Department’s doors are always open to any student who has questions about courses or registration. Our hours are M-F from 9-5pm in Fulton 330. Students are also welcome to email Sandra Howe (sandra.howe@bc.edu) or Kasey Preskenis (preskenk@bc.edu) with any questions.

New Concentration - Accounting for Finance & Consulting

The Accounting Department is launching its revamped concentration, Accounting for Finance and Consulting, this fall. Students who are seeking jobs in financial services or management consulting might consider adding this concentration as way to more successfully launch their careers. As one alumnus wrote, “There is a reason why the infamous IB technical interview typically consists of a slew of accounting-knowledge questions: If you want to be a serious investment banker, you need to be serious about accounting.”

The concentration, targeting students who are NOT interested in the CPA route, consists of four courses and includes one required course (Intermediate Accounting), one course in the area best matching their career interests (Financial Statement Analysis or Managerial Cost), and two electives from a broad set of offerings both in and out of the Accounting Department.
New Courses for 2018:

MFIN2270: Data Analytics in Finance
Offered MW 12PM and MW 3PM
Corporations, investment banks, and asset management firms increasingly base their operational and investment decisions on the statistical analysis of “big data.” In this course, you will be introduced to Python, a popular modern programming language, and learn how to use Python to extract data from SEC filings, estimate univariate and multivariate regressions on real-world financial data, and perform Monte Carlo simulations. This course is taught by Professor Jon Reuter. (Prerequisite: MFIN1021)

Please see attached list for descriptions of fall electives or refer to the Finance Department website: www.bc.edu/finance.

Intermediate Accounting for Finance and Consulting
The Accounting Department is offering a new course this fall, “Intermediate Accounting for Finance and Consulting”. As the title states, this course is geared for non-CPAs but those who want to further their understanding of accounting beyond ACCT 1021. (This course is in lieu of ACCT 3301 and 3302, which are intended for the CPA track.) The approach to the material will be taking the “user” perspective of financial reporting and understanding how the financial statements convey information about the firm. There is less emphasis on rules and debit/credits and more emphasis on cases and applications. For information, please see the attached course description or contact Mary Ellen Carter (carterma@bc.edu).

Dive, Dissect and Decide with Big Business Data
The world of business is deluged by data and there is an increasing demand for individuals who are able to dive into, dissect and drive decisions with it. This course uses data analytics and research in financial reporting and economics to understand fundamental business issues. You will be introduced to the framework of dealing with big data in a business, and to understand problems and evaluate solutions using data and research findings. You will also acquire practical skills such as exposure to Structure Query Language (SQL) and data visualization tools, and learn to analyze structured and unstructured data to drive decisions. We will apply the newly acquired data skills to understand these core business issues: How should compensation be set? Why is one company’s governance structure different from another company’s? How do we identify internal control weakness and minimize the risks associated with it? How can we prevent and detect frauds? For external parties such as investors, bankers, auditors and regulators, how can they protect their interests? We will answer these questions and more using data to understand problems and evaluate solutions.

Details for ACCT 6640: This course will fulfill the elective requirement for the Business Analytics concentration, the Accounting concentration, and Accounting for Finance & Consulting concentration.

Prerequisites: Financial Accounting (ACCT1021 or equivalent) and Statistics (OPER1135 or equivalent)

For more information, please contact Professor Lian Fen Lee at lianfen.lee@bc.edu.

Quality Management in Fall
Beginning in 2018, Quality Management will be offered in the fall with Joy Field. This course focuses on quality management as a core applied capability that crosses all industries and functions. Students will explore a variety of quality programs and tools with an emphasis on the Six Sigma (DMAIC) approach to quality analysis and process improvement in both services and goods producing operations. During the course students will have an opportunity to pursue Six Sigma Green Belt certification. The course emphasizes interactive learning using in-class exercises and cases. Contact Joy Field (fieldjo@bc.edu) if you would like a syllabus or for further information.

OPER 6614 (which is being offered instead of OPER 3304 during the 2018/2019 academic year and ONLY in the fall term) counts as an elective in the Operations Management concentration and Business Analytics co-concentration but is appropriate for all students.

Details:
OPER 6614 Quality Management
Fall 2018
Th 7:00-9:30 pm

Communication for Consultants BCOM368801
If you're planning on a consulting or any client-facing career, consider registering for this course. You'll have the opportunity to study and write as an external or internal consultant, and you'll hear from a variety of guest speakers in the industry. Professor Rita Owens will help you boost your business writing skills through the lens of a consultant as you explore various cases and scenarios. Seats are available for juniors and seniors in CSOM and other schools. For more information, email rita.owens@bc.edu.

Attention Business Analytics Concentrators:
One of the required courses for BA has changed codes and names. The former "ISYS 6640, Analytics and Business Intelligence" will now be "ISYS 3340, Data Analytics in Practice". It will be offered both in the fall and the spring. Note: there are also a couple of new electives—one in Accounting and one in Finance. You may count one course toward both your primary concentration and your Business Analytics co-concentration.

See below for some updates on the course offerings!

- Predictive Analytics (OPER 3384) can now be taken in the fall or spring
- Programming for Business and Analytics (ISYS2157) is now teaching Python
- Geographic Info Systems (ISYS6625) is now a BA elective

The most up-to-date list of electives can be found at:
https://www.bc.edu/bc-web/schools/carroll-school/academic-departments/operations-management/concentration-academics.html#business_analytics_co_concentration.

Seeking a marketing job or internship? Make sure that you’re ready, well positioned and differentiating yourself.

Meet with Prof. Jean Mojo to learn more about career paths in Marketing and how to position yourself to get the job. Prof. Mojo was the CEO of a WPP Group Agency and started her career in Brand Management for a Consumer Goods Company. She’ll help you explore various marketing careers, better understand the marketing recruitment process and guide your search process. Prof. Mojo meets with students on campus every Thursday between 11-2. Schedule a meeting at goo.gl/7ztyKM. If those times don’t work for you, contact her at mojo@bc.edu.

Interested in Investment Banking or Consulting?
If you wait until fall to prepare, you will not have sufficient time. Sign up for office hours with Raffi:
"Raffi Grinberg is a former Bain & Company management consultant. He's also written the published math textbook The Real Analysis Lifesaver, worked as a product manager at Vanguard as well as a startup, and built the financial education app DollarsEd. Raffi currently consults for leading EdTech companies and higher ed organization.

Management Consulting
Some consulting companies recruit sophomore spring for leadership events that take place in sophomore summer. These are excellent opportunities to get a foot in the door (and a good chance of an offer) before the official junior internship recruiting, which can be extremely competitive. Many of these opportunities involve case interviews. Whether you plan to apply to one of these or just to the junior internship, now is the time to start preparing! In order to have a decent chance, most people need to practice out-loud case interviews 20-30 times. You can learn more about case interviews and how to prepare here. Then, you can sign up for a mock case interview with Raffi here.

Investment Banking
Many investment banks begin recruiting for junior internships at the end of sophomore summer, and some are now starting to recruit during sophomore spring. In addition to standard behavioral interviews, many banks use technical interviews. These require not only a decent understanding of accounting and finance, but also some knowledge of the format itself: the types of questions that are frequently asked, the level of depth they want, the most common mistakes... Now is the time to start preparing. You can sign up for a mock interview with Raffi here.

You also have access to the Breaking Into Wall St. Guide at a significant discount. See these instructions for the download. Go to checkout page using this link: https://ym931.infusionsoft.com/app/orderForms/Investment-Banking-Interview-Guide Fill out the form on this page copy and paste the discount code BC-BIWS-IBIG-2017 into the Promo Code field to make the product $25.00, enter Credit Card information ($25 will be charged). Retail for this product is $175 so this is significantly reduced for BC CSOM Undergraduates.

2018 Shea Center Internship Program
The Edmund H. Shea Jr. Center for Entrepreneurship has a goal to foster collaborations between students, and the greater entrepreneurial ecosystem of Boston and beyond. Interning at a start-up provides a unique opportunity for a student to do many tasks, make valuable contributions to a small team, and experience company growth and failures. The start-ups need our students as interns as much as the students need the valuable experience of working for a company in its early stages. At the Shea Center we recognize that many start-up companies are small and just taking off, which means their resources to pay our students is limited. The Shea Center will work closely with the start-up company to ensure our students receive monetary compensation along with gaining great experience.

REQUIREMENTS: Current undergraduate freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are eligible to apply. Student must obtain their internship on their own. Once the student has secured the internship, they will fill out the form here. Internships must be a minimum of 6-weeks or 200 hours. If accepted into the program, the student will receive a stipend of $1000.00 and is required to check in once during the internship with a Shea faculty member and write 3 blog posts throughout the internship discussing what they learned. Students must also provide us with an official offer letter. Applications accepted on a rolling basis.

Internship Opportunity: Galehead Development

Galehead is looking for a Summer Intern! Galehead Development is a market and project mobilization platform for cost-effective clean energy resources. We are growing rapidly and working with leading developers and vendors in the solar industry to originate projects and contribute meaningfully to solar penetration in the United States. The Boston-based startup (founded by 3 BC alums) is looking for one full time summer intern that can learn and support Business Development, Project Development & Management, Market Research, and Big Data Analytics & Operations. Either Business, Computer Science/Technology, or Science/Environmen tal majors preferred, but not required - any candidate with a passionate interest in cleantech should apply. Interested applicants should submit a resume & a short introduction to john.clifford@galeheaddev.com.

Internship @ Startup Consulting Agency

Want to research exciting new markets, redesign old products, or work on other business development initiatives? At Gen Z Insights, you’ll have the opportunity to join a small team working term-time with top startups to dream up new solutions to big problems. It’s perfect for getting work experience while you’re still in school. Gen Z Insights was co-founded by undergraduates with work experience spanning venture capital, finance, and software engineering. Stephanie Guo (Harvard ‘18) worked in investment banking at J.P. Morgan and co-founded a Thiel Fellowship Finalist augmented reality surgical imaging startup; Jessica Zhao (Harvard ’18) has extensive data science experience and worked in infrastructure investing at Macquarie. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis, but the sooner you apply, the sooner you can get started! Upon completion, you should receive an email from us confirming your submission and informing you of the next step of the process. Please email any questions or comments to genzinsights@gmail.com. To join the team, check out: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSe2xD0gnEFA-Ms72wSOyyKODG_kPobRwEeHuaFSEbgQ7TF3KQ/viewform?usp=sf_link.

BC Team Competes at the Women's Case Competition

Maddie Marshall, Jazzy Singh, Kailee Di Vico, and Lexie M undo traveled to Austin, Texas last week to compete in the Women's Case Competition at the University of Texas at Austin. Our team analyzed an extremely challenging case sponsored by Shell on Shell lubricant products and the best strategy to cut CO2 emissions, while doubling sales domestic and abroad. We competed against 12 other schools from across the country including the University of Washington, the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Southern California. Our all-sophomore team was the youngest team there, competing against several all senior teams who had competed in multiple competitions.

Take Home Professor is back: 11 left!

Invite a professor to dinner in your residence hall or apartment and you will receive a $100.00 allowance to pay for the ingredients. Contact the professor and come up with a date and time for the dinner.

- Once the plans are set, send one email to all the participants and Terry Rezzuti (rezzuti@bc.edu) with the date, time, and location.
- Students must be sophomores, juniors, or seniors in the Carroll School. There must be at least three Carroll School students attending the dinner with the professor.
- If you have a kitchen in your apartment on or off-campus, students will cook the professor dinner. If you don’t have a kitchen, you can get take-out for the professor.
- Professors can only attend one dinner per semester. So act fast if you want to invite a particular professor!
- A picture must be taken and submitted to Terry at rezzuti@bc.edu for proof.

Lunch with a Professor

Grab a few of your classmates and take your professor to lunch (on us!) The Carroll School of Management will give you a dining card to use at any of the on-campus dining hall locations to have coffee or lunch with one of your professors. Space is limited so reserve yours today!

Here is how you do it:

1. Only one person can reserve the card each day. Before you invite your professor to lunch, first check out the availability of the card on this Doodle schedule. Make a note of a few dates that are available.

2. Invite your professor to lunch and give her/him some available dates.

3. Reserve the dining card on the Doodle schedule at least 48 hours in advance.

4. Stop by Fulton 315 to pick up the card after 10:00 am on the morning of your lunch.

5. Enjoy your lunch at any of the on-campus dining locations!

6. After lunch, return the card to Fulton 315 along with a receipt from the dining hall by 3:00 pm on the same day.

7. Take a picture with you and the professor and send it to Erica Graf.

Open to all freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors in the Carroll School of Management. Each “Lunch with a Professor” can have a maximum of five students in attendance.

Sponsored by the Accenture Fund at Boston College
