Lunch with an Entrepreneur featuring Steve Fox & Noel Ntabanganyimana

12:00 - 1:00 pm in Cushing 2018

Join us for lunch with Steve Fox, CEO of Impact Global Education, and Noel Ntabanganyimana, the Rwandan Country Director at The Women’s Bakery, Inc. Come hear about their career journeys, current roles, and then network with Steve, Noel, and others interested in international social entrepreneurship.

Lunch is provided by the Shea Center for Entrepreneurship. Space is limited, so please register here to reserve a spot!
Steve Fox is the CEO of Impact Global Education, a company that manages the international education brands ThinkImpact and Winterline. At ThinkImpact, Steve helps the team manage a portfolio of nearly 200 social enterprises, at varying growth stages, in sectors ranging from agriculture and health, to tech and education. Steve comes from an international investment background previously as Managing Director at Sunizarro Investments in sub-Saharan Africa. His work at Sunizarro encouraged local stewardship of private enterprise bolstered by niche international expertise. Steve is also an impact investor and philanthropist with interests in protecting the climate and encouraging girls equity in developing countries. He has an MSc in Political Economy from the University of London, School for Oriental and African Studies, and a BA in International Economics from the University of Richmond.

Noel Ntabanganyimana is the Rwanda Country Director for ThinkImpact at The Women’s Bakery, Inc. In his work at ThinkImpact over the years, he has combined his project management and human resource skills with his ardent enthusiasm for education. He also held a Business Development role and later became a Managing Director at Atikus Incorporated, Inc., a company that advocates for financial inclusion for the underserved through insurance and technology-based risk solutions for credit lenders. Noel studied Architectural and Construction Engineering, and has an MBA.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29

Lunch with an Entrepreneur: Alex Moulle-Beautraux, CMO, Starry Inc.

12:00 - 1:00 pm in Cushing 208

Join us for lunch with Alex Moulle-Beautraux, CMO of Starry Inc and Boston College alum! After hearing about Alex’s journey as an entrepreneur, you’ll have the opportunity to network with Alex and fellow students interested in entrepreneurship.

Lunch is provided by the Shea Center for Entrepreneurship. Space is limited, so please register here to reserve a spot!
Alex Moulle-Beautraux is a BC alum and the Chief Marketing Officer for Starry, Inc., a Boston- and New York-based technology company focused on re-imagining and revolutionizing how consumers connect to the internet and by developing an eco-system of products designed to make a broadband access simple and affordable.

Prior to joining Starry, Alex served as Chief Commercial Officer (CCO) for Aereo, Inc., the groundbreaking online television platform. As Chief Commercial Officer, Alex oversaw the company’s marketing initiatives, customer care, distribution partnerships and product management, and played a critical role in helping develop Aereo’s overall business and its nationwide expansion efforts.

Before joining Aereo, Alex served as Global Head of Marketing and Public Relations for Rockstar Games, the leading development and publishing label of publicly-traded Take Two Interactive. At Rockstar Games, he led the game launch efforts for the company, including the record breaking 2008 launch of Grand Theft Auto IV, heralded as the biggest entertainment launch in history.

Prior to Rockstar Games, Alex served on the management team of Media Arts Lab/Chiat Day, Apple’s marketing agency out of Los Angeles and London. While there, he led the day-to-day management of the global marketing campaigns for the Apple account across products including the Mac, iPod and iTunes, Apple TV, and the launch of the iPhone. Prior to joining Media Arts Lab, Alex worked in various New York-based advertising agencies on a wide variety of global brands.
