THURSDAY, APRIL 11

Last Lecture: Professor Robert A. Taggart of the Carroll School of Management
5:30 - 6:30 pm in Higgins Hall 300 (Auditorium)
Professor Robert A. Taggart of the Carroll School of Management will present Travels on a Long, Winding Road. He will reflect on the question of how do you get from point A to point B over the course of a lifetime? For him, this journey “is not a straight line, and GPS isn’t much help, but the communities that take you in along the road can help you find your way.”

Real Estate Club X WIB: WS Development Event

6:00 pm in Stokes S195

We will be hosting Yanni Tsipis, Senior VP of WS Developments. Yanni headed the company’s Seaport Square project, a transformative development for the city of Boston. WS Developments was also the creator of The Street Development in Chestnut Hill (home to Shake Shack. LuluLemon, and Davio’s). There will also be a presentation on WS Development’s CORE rotational job program. Please see this link for information on the development. All are encouraged to attend!

WIN E Board Info Session

7:00-7:30 PM Cushing 208

Join the current WIN executive board on Thursday April 11th in Cushing 208 to learn about the upcoming application process. We will be briefly discussing what positions are available and what we are looking for in candidates. We highly recommend attending this event if you are interested in joining the board for next year. Please RSVP at https://tinyurl.com/WINboardinfo if you can attend. The 2019-2020 application will be released in the coming weeks.

LABC Presents: Agents of Innovation

10:00 am - 4:00 pm in the Heights Room

This Saturday, April 13th, the Latin American Business Club of Boston College is hosting their 6th annual Leadership Conference: Agents of Innovation. In the past, our conferences have featured industry leaders from all over South America, including former presidents, billionaire businessmen and bankers, and renowned economists and writers. This year, our conference will feature Bertha Gonzalez, CEO of Casa de Dragones Tequila and Top 50 Most Influential Women in Mexico; Juan Pablo del Valle, CEO of Mexichem; Ricardo Ibarra Senior Vice President and General Manager of Bic LatAm; and Cesar Hidalgo, author, entrepreneur, and director of the Collective Learning group at The MIT Media Lab.

This is an excellent networking opportunity for CSOM students interested in major global business corporations to learn more about different industries and fields. You will have the chance to hear and speak with distinguished professionals, and learn from their experiences. JOIN US in the HEIGHTS ROOM in lower dining hall at 10:30 AM out our amazing conference. Breakfast and lunch included. Tickets @ $5 in Robsham. Any questions, please email latinamericanbc@gmail.com.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT REGISTRATION

As we prepare for registration, the Finance Department is committed to addressing every student’s need and situation as best as possible and in as timely a manner as possible. Since finance classes are in very high demand and registration time slots are randomly assigned by the University, the Department administrators in Fulton 330 manage the official waitlist for all finance classes once they have closed. As sections fill up, the department does its due diligence by checking degree audits to, for example, ensure pre-requisites are met and avoid duplicate registration. Students are encouraged to stop by the Finance Department to be placed on the official waitlist once their pick time has passed and the class is closed. We remind students to register for any open section of a class at their pick time if the class is needed. Finance professors do not keep separate waitlists; the official waitlist is kept by the finance department administrators.

The Finance Department’s doors are always open to any student who has questions about courses or registration. Our hours are M-F from 9-5pm in Fulton 330. Students are also welcome to email the finance department (findept@bc.edu) with any questions.

The Theology core has changed!
If you still need to take the Theology core requirements, you will see the offerings have changed beginning in the fall 2019. See details on their website: https://www.bc.edu/content/bc-web/schools/mcas/departments/theology/undergraduate/core-in-theology.html
If you have already completed your Theology core, you will still have fulfilled the requirements through your previous Theology core classes.

Announcement for students who are interested in taking MFIN1021 Basic Finance in the fall:
ACCT1021 Financial Accounting is a pre-requisite for Basic Finance. Make sure you complete ACCT1021 prior to MFIN1021.

New Course: Business Applications of Blockchain and Cryptocurrency
The objective of this course is to introduce the business of blockchain - a technology that has the potential to drastically alter the way value is stored, exchanged, shared and distributed. It is the backbone of the next iteration of the Internet: “Web 3.0” or “The Internet of Value”. This course doesn’t require any technical knowledge or prior knowledge of the subject, and is designed to give students a foundational knowledge of blockchain technology and a familiarity with the basic principles that govern blockchain protocols. Students will obtain a fluency in the terms and concepts required to understand how this powerful technology works. Most importantly, students will study real-word applications of the technology, which will range far beyond blockchain’s original use case (cryptocurrency) and hear from a number of influential guest speakers who are using or investing in blockchain technology at their companies today. Students who complete the course will understand blockchain and cryptocurrency's game-changing potential, be able to separate fact from hype, and be effective leaders in the space. Taught by Bennett Collen, BC grad and founder of blockchain startup, Cognate. Questions? Reach out to samir@bc.edu.

AMA Announcement

The Carroll School of Management (CSOM) would like to announce the reestablishment of the Boston College collegiate chapter of the American Marketing Association (AMA) effective with the Fall 2019 semester. This collegiate chapter will be affiliated with both the National AMA organization and the Boston chapter of the AMA. The aim of the AMA Boston College chapter is to expose member students who are committed and passionate about a marketing career to industry professionals, organizations, and events that will further their Boston College educational experience.

Membership is open to all marketing majors and minors, plus any member of the Marketing Academy of Boston College (MABC) that has been a member in good-standing in that organization for one complete academic year. The AMA student chapter dues are $50 per year. The CSOM Marketing department will reimburse to student founder members, $15 of the annual membership fee for academic year ’19/’20. In addition, BC chapter members who wish to join the Boston regional chapter of the AMA (which is recommended) may do so for an additional $10 per year. A BC chapter president has been appointed for year 1, with additional officer elections to follow in the Fall of 2019.

If interested in becoming a founding member of the Boston College chapter of the AMA, please contact Faculty designate, John Fisher, (Fulton 452A) at fisherjs@bc.edu or Chapter President, Ms. Jennifer Downing at downinjf@bc.edu by April 19th for more information and application details.

Looking for an internship for next fall?

Capstone Communities is a leading Real-estate and development company in the Boston area. They are looking for one or two interns for this upcoming fall for a total of about 15-20 hours per week. The company develops affordable and market rate housing and works on many interesting and exciting projects. The office is small so there are lots of opportunities for learning and growth. Capstone Communities is located near the Newton Highlands and Eliot Green Line Stations.

Please see the attached flyers for the job description! If you had trouble viewing the job description, please email broeffle@bc.edu or sbcbostoncollege@gmail.com and we can send you more information.
