Ph.D. / Formative Education (Direct Admit)

Residency Requirement (select one of the following options)

- I will take three or four graduate level courses for two consecutive semesters (fall and spring) in the academic year 20__ - 20__.
- I will take two graduate level courses and have a full-time assistantship for two consecutive semesters (fall and spring) in the academic year 20__ - 20__.
- I will fulfill a minimum of three years of full-time doctoral study.
- I will participate in all available academic and professional activities associated with the Formative Education Program during the academic years 20__ - 20__.
- I will take two graduate level courses per semester for the academic year 20__ - 20__ while employed half time or more in a professional position relevant to the intended area of doctoral study. At least one course must be seminar based, linking theory, research, and practice in the intended area of doctorate.
- I will petition the Associate Dean for an exception to the above options. (You must obtain prior approval for the exception from your academic advisor.) Please detail in the space below how the exception fulfills the intent of residency requirement, or attach a statement.

Proseminar and Colloquium Requirement

The PhD in Formative Education requires students to participate in a Proseminar Sequence as well as a Colloquium Sequence. Students will complete the Proseminar Sequence in their cohort over their first two years in the program. The Colloquium Sequence carries 1 credit each semester and students must register for each fall and spring term for their first three years in the program.

The overarching objective of the Proseminar is to offer apprenticeship in specific scholarly traditions support while the Colloquium brings all in the department together to talk across paradigms about topics/questions of general concern. The colloquium will be a venue for visiting speakers, faculty and student presentations of work in progress, and discussions of readings that cut across disciplines and have a more topical focus.
