Boston College Career Center Graduate Assistant Role

Division: Boston College Career Center
Role: Graduate Assistant

General Overview of the Graduate Assistant Role:
The Graduate Assistant (GA) role within the Career Center is designed to develop skills that will aid them in their careers as higher education professionals in all functional areas, including career services, admissions, enrollment management, and other leadership roles within a university. GAs will develop skills in coaching students through one-on-one drop-in sessions, an understanding of group dynamics, coordination of large and small scale programs, presentation experience, the ability to maintain external partnerships, experience with assessment and data-driven decision-making, and the opportunity to develop resources for specialized needs and populations.

About the Boston College Career Center:
The Boston College Career Center is the centralized career office for approximately 9,000 undergraduate students and 5,000 graduate students at Boston College. Our goal is to empower all Boston College students to lead meaningful personal and professional lives. We work closely with a broad array of partners to ensure that vocational discernment and career readiness are a university priority and work to integrate career development across the student life cycle.

Competencies that the Graduate Assistants will develop:
There are several competency areas that future employers will be looking for that students will develop in the GA role, including:

- Teamwork and Collaboration: GAs work together on team projects in addition to building collaborative relationships with professional staff.
- Oral and Written Communication: Through conducting coaching appointments and facilitating workshops, GAs will develop interpersonal and public speaking skills. They will also develop their written communication skills through project work and professional email communication.
- Career Management: GAs will be trained extensively on the career development process and will have exposure to a variety of industries and their hiring practices. They will develop career-related skills that will prepare them for future opportunities.
- Intercultural/Global Fluency: GAs will work with students from a diverse range of backgrounds and will receive ongoing training on diversity and inclusion issues.
- Leadership: GAs will develop leadership skills in working with other partners across campus, for example with the Office of Student Involvement, roles across campus and with students.
- Critical Thinking/Problem Solving: GAs will work on projects that require them to assess and review resources and develop new processes.
• Professionalism and Work Ethic: GAs will experience a professional office work environment and will be expected to demonstrate accountability and effective time and project management.

Key Responsibilities:
The Boston College Career Center employs five graduate assistants each academic year. While each position will have unique responsibilities, there are shared experiences that will help Career Center GAs develop into entry level professionals:

- Coach students one-on-one in drop in coaching sessions
- Manage projects under the supervision of the Career Center staff
- Create and update relevant resources for specific partnerships
- Develop and maintain relationships with Peer Career Coaches (PCCs)
- Report to a member of the Career Center professional staff

Currently the Career Center is hiring for a Career Education/Employer Engagement Graduate Assistant for the 2019-2020 year. Please see below for specific role details:

Collaborating with Career Center staff and other academic and administrative departments to coordinate and implement large- and small-scale programs for undergraduate students at Boston College. The GA will have the opportunity to develop resources, engage in special projects, and assess programs and services, when appropriate. In addition, this opportunity will allow a GA to help develop large scale events by working on the career fairs that occur on campus and develop a working knowledge of unique software platforms. Past projects have included reviewing the self assessment tools used by the Center, developing a series of workshops delivered to student leadership, researching potential employers to target for recruiting of students, and involvement in the recruiting of new GAs. (1 role available)
