AADS MAJOR ADMISSIONS APPLICATION COVER PAGE

Dear applicant,

On behalf of AADS, thank you for your interest in pursuing a major in African and African Diaspora Studies. AADS is an important part of a liberal arts education, increasing students' abilities to integrate theological, artistic, and social theories to understand historical and contemporary phenomenon. By connecting interdisciplinary ideas and methodologies, an AADS major will equip students with the tools to analyze information from multiple perspectives, navigate diverse settings, and prepare students for a world that is increasingly interconnected and constantly innovating. For more information about AADS and major requirements, please see the AADS website.

Fall 2022 Application Deadline: Friday, 28 October 2022 at 11:59 pm EST
Spring 2023 Application Deadline: Friday, 10 March 2023 at 11:59 pm EST

This cover page must be signed, scanned and turned into aads@bc.edu by the respective application deadline. The remainder of the application must be submitted via Google Forms Link- https://forms.gle/wRCMRWpQHfAeZfyf8

Students will be notified by the end of the Fall/Spring semester about the status of their application.

Sincerely,

Martin Summers, PhD
Director, African and African Diaspora Studies

By signing below, you authorize African and African Diaspora Studies to request copies of your official transcript from Student Services to be used with your application.

Print Name:_____   Eagle ID #:_____

Sign Name:_____   Date:_____