CAREER DEVELOPMENT RESOURCES

Applying to PhD Programs Workshop
This session features both faculty and current PhD students, and addresses topics such as selecting a program and a mentor, preparing the C.V., writing your personal statement, asking for letters of recommendation, and more.

Ministry Expo
STM alumni and other ministers working in the area gather at the STM to help you explore the variety of career options available in ministry today. They are here to answer your questions, discuss their specialties, and share information about their discernment process and areas of ministry.

Preparing for the Job Search Workshop
STM staff teams up to provide helpful information on job discernment, resume, cover letters, interview tips, and resources available to students at the STM including the STM Resume Book, the STM job board, our alumni network, and individual advising.

Life Directions Retreat
This retreat occurs at the beginning of the spring semester. In addition to reflecting on the art and skill of discernment, it affords an opportunity to weigh two options that a student may be exploring in the context of discernment.

STM Resume Book
At the beginning of the spring semester, STM publishes an annual Resume Book of soon-to-be graduates, which is sent to hundreds of employers nationwide. Resumes are due at the end of January.

Job Opportunities Webpage
STM maintains a job opportunities page on its website that is updated throughout the year with postings throughout the country in all different areas of ministry.

One-on-One Consultation
There are plenty of staff, faculty, and alumni willing to support you in this process. Contact Jacqueline Regan, Associate Dean, Student Affairs, who will be happy to connect you to individuals in your field of interest.
