BC Software/Copyright Disclosure

Please include with this submission (software):

- · A copy of any accompanying material, such as a user guide
- Any published articles, poster presentations or other materials you have available that describe the functionality of the software

OTTL will not review this Disclosure for potential patentability. If you believe that the software may contain commercially valuable, patentable subject matter (such as an algorithm), please complete and submit a separate invention disclosure, available online at the OTTL website.

PLEASE APPLY THE FOLLOWING COPYRIGHT NOTICE TO ALL EXISTING COPIES OF THE SOFTWARE OR INVENTIVE WORK:

© [YEAR(s) OF DEVELOPMENT/PUBLICATION] the Trustees of Boston College. All rights reserved.

The above copyright notice should be placed at the bottom and top of source code, and regularly throughout; on the title screen or title page; labels on diskettes, CDs, or hard copy materials; documentation, user's manuals, or printed materials.

1.	Title of Software/Inventive Work:
2.	Please attach a detailed description of the software or inventive work. This may be in the form of a draft manuscript in addition to any drawings, photos, or other figures that help describe the invention

3. Please list all those who contributed to the creation of the inventive work. (Additional can be listed on an attachment.). An author of a copyrightable work is anyone who has written any of the text or code, even if only a very small contribution, or provided any text, graphics, photos, video, sound effects, voice recording or other intangible or tangible item ("Material") that has been incorporated into the software.
