OBITUARIES

George M. Cawthorne, 61, Treasurer of Winthrop

George M. Cawthorne, 61, treasurer of Winthrop, died Thursday, June 6, 1935, at his home in Winthrop, after a brief illness. Cawthorne was active in local affairs and was a member of the Winthrop Rotary Club and a past master of the Winthrop Masonic Lodge. He was a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and had been employed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He was the father of seven children. The funeral will be held at the Winthrop Church on Friday, June 7, at 11 a.m. Interment will be at the Winthrop Cemetery.

Ramon Novarro

Buried Still No Suspect

1935 was the year of Ramon Novarro's death. He was found dead in his Hollywood home on February 16, 1935. The police investigation was inconclusive, and no suspect was ever named. Novarro was one of the most popular actors of the 1920s and 1930s, and his death shocked the entertainment world.

Nelson Eddy's Father Dies in Pawtucket

Nelson Eddy's father, Edward Eddy, died on October 22, 1936, in Pawtucket, Rhode Island. He was a retired businessman who had been involved in the real estate business. Nelson Eddy was one of the most popular tenors of the 1930s and 1940s, and his death was mourned by his many fans.

Charles Zellen

Everett Chief Of Flights

Charles Zellen, chief of the Flights, died on November 11, 1937, in a plane crash near Everett, Massachusetts. He was a renowned aviator and had been involved in the aviation industry for many years. Zellen was a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and had been involved in the的设计 of many of the early aircraft.

Edward White, LeMay Would Woolen Mills Renew Bombing

Edward White, who had been the target of a bomb at the Woolen Mills, was killed in a second bombing on July 1, 1938. The Woolen Mills was located at 11 Washington Street in Lawrence, Massachusetts. The bombing killed 11 people and injured 50 more. The cause of the bombing was never determined.

M. B. Coughlin

Of Hyde Park Dies in War

M. B. Coughlin, who had been a member of the 25th Infantry, was killed in action in France on November 5, 1918. He was a native of Hyde Park, Massachusetts, and had been a member of the Hyder Street Church. Coughlin was the father of three children.

Silas Roussel

Boston Pops Violinist

Silas Roussel, a violinist with the Boston Pops Orchestra, died on November 20, 1919, at the age of 64. He had been a member of the orchestra for 20 years and had performed in many concerts. Roussel was a native of France and had been a popular violinist in Boston for many years.

Joseph Lewis, Champion of Atheism, Dies

Joseph Lewis, a proponent of atheism, died on December 3, 1922, at the age of 75. He had been a member of the American Association of Secularists and had written many works on atheism. Lewis was a popular speaker and had been involved in many debates on the topic of religion.

Politesse Rob Canton Family

Canton — Three Canton men, who had been called to the police station, were arrested and charged with the murder of a young man, who had been found dead in a nearby park. The police had been called to the scene and had found the victim on the ground. The police had been searching for clues and had found the men who had been with the victim.

So. Boston Gunfight

Nets $10,000 Ball

So. Boston — A gunfight broke out in a bar on November 5, 1938, and resulted in the death of one man and the wounding of two others. The man who had been killed was a man who had been a member of the gang who had been involved in the shooting. The police had been called to the scene and had found the bodies of the victims. The police had been searching for the getaway car and had found it in a nearby parking lot.
Charles Zellen, Everett Chief Of Playgrounds

Charles M. Zellen, 58, of 272A Shute st., Everett, superintendant of playprounds in Everett, died Monday. Mr. Zellen was past exalted ruler and past district deputy of Everett Lodge 642 BPOE, vice president of the Mass. Elks Assn. and a member of Everett Council 97, Knights of Columbus. He was past chairman of the Red Cross blood bank and a member of the Everett Democratic Ward and City Committee.

He leaves his wife, Gertrude J. (Beck) Zellen; a daughter, Mrs. Claire W. Chatham of Sudbury and three sons, Thomas G. of Peabody, and Richard C. and Michael F. of Everett.

A solemn high requiem Mass will be offered Friday morning at 9 in Immaculate Conception Church.

State Guard Group Honors Harold Hunt

More than 200 members of the Massachusetts State Guard Veterans, Inc., conducted memorial services Monday for Past State Cmdr. Harold I. Hunt, 72, of 35 Emerson rd., Somerville, who died Friday.

State Cmdr. Earl Beals of Pittsfield, presided at the service at the Rockwell Funeral Home in Waverly.

Tributes were paid by John Philip Sousa's marching band, which later became the American Woolen Mills Band, led by Mr. Hunt.

He leaves his wife, Marguerite (Elliot) Eddy, a daughter, Mrs. John Loyd Brown of Pawtucket, and two grandchildren.

Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery.

M. B. Counihan
Of Hyde Park
Dies in War

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon released Monday the names of two New England men, one from Massachusetts and one from Maine, dead in Vietnam.

They are:

Spec 4 Michael B. Counihan, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Counihan, 231 Fairmount av., Hyde Park. He was a graduate of Boston College High School and attended Boston College College for two years. He was a marathon runner on the track team of both schools.

Spec Counihan was to be sent home from Vietnam in April. He had completed a one-year tour of duty there, but extended his service for six months.

Spec 4 Joseph E. Heath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton E. Heath, RFD 1, Brewer, Me., killed in action.

Both were in the Army.

Joseph Lewis, Champion of Atheism, Dies

New York — Joseph Lewis, '79, an atheist who campaigned here for more than 40 years to "get God out of public institutions," died in his office here Monday.

Lewis was the founder of the Freethinkers of America and headed the Freethought Press Association, a publishing firm. He delivered dozens of speeches on atheism annually, and wrote more than 20 book on the subject.

Among his targets were chaplains in the armed forces, police and fire departments and in both Houses of Congress.