

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER SERIES

BOSTON COLLEGE

Center for Work & Family

We are pleased to be continuing our Distinguished Speaker Series, which features leading scholars from the country's top universities discussing their cutting edge research and engaging conversations with our corporate partners.

Peter Cappelli

George W. Taylor Professor of Management, The Wharton School at UPenn

Professor Cappelli will present on The Future of the Office: Here's What's Truly Changing About Work based on research from his new book.

Wednesday, January 26, 2022 at 1:00PM EST

Alison Koslowski

Professor of Social Policy, University College London

Professor Koslowski will share her insights on Parental Leave in Global Perspective: The Dynamics of Culture and Policy.

Thursday, February 17, 2022 at 12:00PM EST

Caitlyn Collins

Assistant Professor of Sociology, Washington University in St. Louis

Professor Collins will be sharing insights from her book Making Motherhood Work: How Women Manage Careers and Caregiving.

Wednesday, March 23, 2022 at 1:00PM EST

Robin Ely

Professor of Business Administration, Harvard Business School

Professor Ely will present Kanter-Award winning research on gender inequality and work-family.

Wednesday, April 13, 2022

Rohini Anand

Senior Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Advisor, Rohini Anand LLC

Dr. Anand will share insights from her new book Leading Global Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion: A Guide for Systemic Change in Multinational Organizations

Thursday, April 14, 2022

Register for these events here.

Leslie Hammer

Professor of Psychology, Portland State University

Professor Hammer will present research on the role of manager empathy and support for wellbeing in the workplace.

Thursday, April 14, 2022

Anne Bardoel

Professor of Management, Swinburne University of Technology

Professor Bardoel will discuss research on and insights on employee wellbeing from a global perspective.

Wednesday, May 18, 2022 at 4pm EST

BCCWF Father's Day Virtual Event

Sarah Thébaud, Brad Harrington, Tina Lawler McHugh

Brad Harrington and Tina Lawler McHugh of the Center for Work & Family and Sarah Thébaud of UC Santa Barbara will share their latest findings on gender and caregiving.

Thursday, June 16, 2022 at 1:00PM EST

About the Distinguished Speaker Series

The Distinguished Speaker Series was launched in September 2020 in response to the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, which prevented Roundtable Members from gathering twice annually for the Roundtable Meetings. In lieu of those in-person meetings, the Distinguished Speaker Series was conceived to allow Roundtable Members and leading scholars from the country's top universities to continue sharing cutting edge research, trends, and best practices with one another. In the intervening two years, the Boston College Center for Work & Family has hosted more than 20 speakers specializing in a wide array of topics, including mental health; diversity, equity, and inclusion; and the future of the workplace. We look forward to continuing this series and will announce new speakers as they are confirmed and scheduled.