We are pleased to be continuing our Distinguished Speaker Series, which features leading scholars from the country's top universities discussing their cutting edge research and engaging conversations with our corporate partners.

Peter Cappelli
George W. Taylor Professor of Management, The Wharton School at UPenn

Professor Cappelli will present on The Future of the Office: Here’s What’s Truly Changing About Work based on research from his new book.

Wednesday, January 26, 2022 at 1:00PM EST

---

Alison Koslowski
Professor of Social Policy, University College London

Professor Koslowski will share her insights on Parental Leave in Global Perspective: The Dynamics of Culture and Policy.

Thursday, February 17, 2022 at 12:00PM EST

---

Caitlyn Collins
Assistant Professor of Sociology, Washington University in St. Louis

Professor Collins will be sharing insights from her book Making Motherhood Work: How Women Manage Careers and Caregiving.

Wednesday, March 23, 2022 at 1:00PM EST

---

Robin Ely
Professor of Business Administration, Harvard Business School

Professor Ely will present Kanter-Award winning research on gender inequality and work-family.

Wednesday, April 13, 2022 at 2 pm EST

---

Rohini Anand
Senior Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Advisor, Rohini Anand LLC

Dr. Anand will share insights from her new book Leading Global Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion: A Guide for Systemic Change in Multinational Organizations

Thursday, April 14, 2022 at 9 am EST

Register for these events here.
Anne Bardoel
Professor of Management, Swinburne University of Technology, Australia
Professor Bardoel will discuss research on and insights on employee wellbeing from a global perspective.
Wednesday, May 18, 2022 at 4pm EST

Leslie Hammer
Professor of Psychology, Oregon Health & Science University
Professor Hammer will present research on the role of manager empathy and support for wellbeing in the workplace.
Thursday, April 14, 2022 at 3:45 pm EST

BCCWF Father's Day Virtual Event
Sarah Thébaud, UCSB and Brad Harrington, BCCWF
Professors Brad Harrington of the Center for Work & Family and Sarah Thébaud of UC Santa Barbara will share their latest findings on gender and caregiving.
Thursday, June 16, 2022 at 1:00PM EST

Stephen Courtright
Professor of Management and Entrepreneurship, University of Iowa
Professor Stephen Courtright, past Kanter Award winner and Roundtable meeting presenter, will share his latest research on burnout and turnover in organizations, and what leaders can do to address these critical issues.
Wednesday, September 21, 2022 at Noon EST

Courtney McCluney
Professor of Organizational Behavior, Cornell University
Professor McCluney will share her latest research on the effects of racial code-switching and how this should influence efforts to create a culture of inclusion and belonging.
Thursday, October 20, 2022 at Noon EST

Register for these events here.