Making History Public: Righting Historical Wrongs at the Turn of the Millennium

Student-generated infographics connecting 20th c. local and global history

Spring semester exhibition in the History Department

Pesky Terminology: Conceptualizing “Redress” in Historical Justice Discourse

- The Historical Justice Research Buzz Around the Globe
- Japanese Internment: Public Memory, Civic Activism, State Compensation
- Mea Culpa: Papal Apologies at the Turn of the Millennium
- Addressing Enduring Injustices: Indigenous Rights Movements in Okinawa and the World
- National Historic Landmarks: A Method of Acknowledging Injustices in the United States
- Rethinking the Peace Museum in an Age of Global Human Rights Abuses
- Breaking the History of Silence: The Women’s Int’l War Crimes Tribunal for Sexual Slavery
- The Truth and Reconciliation Commission, Republic of Korea
- Truth and Reconciliation Commissions Worldwide
- Transitional Justice in Post-dictatorial Regimes: South American and African Truth Commissions
- Now it is YOUR Turn to Weigh In: What Un-redressed Mass Atrocities Need Our Attention?
- Future Justice?