Bowman Art Collaborative Request for Proposals

Open Call to Artists: With Authorization from the Thea Bowman AHANA and Intercultural Center, the Bowman Art Collaborative is seeking proposals for artwork that showcase the Power of Youth Movements in Black History. All undergraduate and graduate students are welcome to apply.

Art works will be showcased during a two hour Art at O’Neill Library in the Level One Gallery. The event will occur on Monday, February 2, 2015 with an installation date of January 31, 2015.

Purpose: This collaborative is to provide students with the opportunity to express their identity through artwork, as well as engage their peers in identity exploration through art.

Project Description and Site: The committee is instituting a new initiative to highlight the arts within the AHANA community. The selected art pieces will be subject to approval from administrators from the Thea Bowman AHANA and Intercultural Center, the graduate assistant for Ethnic Heritage Months, the Exhibit Specialist, and office of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Project Goals:
By participating in the Bowman Art Collaborative:
1. The artist will be able to communicate important aspects of Black* cultural identity through art and social justice; and
2. Student participants will be able to identify a cultural similarity between themselves and art displays

*Artist does not have to be of African, African Diaspora, African-American, or Black descent

Process: An honorarium of $100 will be awarded to the finalist(s)

The selected finalist will meet with the Selection Committee, to review dates, provide critiques, and begin planning.

Budget: The selected design and artist will be central to a capital campaign with a goal of $75 to cover the cost of design, creation, and installation

Incentive: Honorarium, web publicity, article in Heights, and social media
