The editors of Understanding Power: 21st Century Human Services Imperative (forthcoming publication of NASW Press) will discuss their soon-to-be-released book and will engage participants in a discussion of power and powerlessness in relation to their teaching, research and practice. ‘Power Conversations’ will provide an opportunity for participants to understand the evolution of Elaine Pinderhughes’ work on power, the novel ways in which power theories are being applied in clinical, training, policy and research settings and the possibilities for the future of social work if we can center our work in a clear and ongoing analysis of power.

Co-Editors
PATRICIA ROMNEY, PhD - Licensed Clinical and Organizational Psychologist at Romney Associates, Inc.
VANESSA JACKSON, LICSW - Soul Doula at Healing Circles.

Respondent:
MARTIN SUMMERS, PhD - Associate Professor of History and African and African Diaspora Studies at Boston College

ELAINE PINDERHUGHES is Professor Emerita and former Chair of the Clinical Sequence at the Boston College School of Social Work. She has served as Lydia Rappaport Professor at Smith College School of Social Work; Lucille Austin Fellow at Columbia University; and held the Moses Chair at Hunter College School of Social Work. Pinderhughes has received numerous awards including the CSWE 2012 Lifetime Achievement Award. She helped the BCSSW establish this Diversity Series which bears her name.
