

The McGillicuddy-Logue Fellows Program

In line with the mission of Boston College's McGillicuddy-Logue Center for Undergraduate Global Studies, the McGillicuddy-Logue Fellows Program is designed to develop a small cohort of undergraduate students into thoughtful and engaged global citizens who are prepared to act with humility and in solidarity with others. Fellows are expected to gain three primary attributes upon completion of the program: a greater awareness of their intellectual, social, and intercultural development and skills; a deeper understanding of their place in an ever-changing and increasingly interdependent world; and the development of tools for becoming agents of change.

Photo credit: Patrick O'Donnell, Nick Gozik

The Program

Sponsored by the McGillicuddy-Logue Center for Undergraduate Global Studies, and in coordination with the Office of International Programs, the program offers a combination of coursework, study abroad, and experiential learning, and takes place over a period of five semesters.

Requirements

Academics

- Introductory course, Global Ethics and Pragmatic Solidarity: Taking Action towards Transformative Change, 3 credits, spring semester of sophomore year
- Semester study abroad during the fall, spring, or academic year of junior year
- McGillicuddy-Logue Fellows Senior Seminar, 3 credits, fall semester of senior year

Service

- One weekend of the sophomore spring semester is dedicated to a weekend service learning retreat
- International service during a semester abroad

Individual & Community Development

- Retreat in the spring semester of sophomore year
- Retreat in the spring semester of senior year, directly following the Senior Seminar
- Ongoing roundtable discussions organized by the Fellows

Application

Apply online by October 15 at www.bc.edu/international/mcgillicuddylogue/mlfellows.html

For more information, contact MLFellows@bc.edu

McGillicuddy-Logue Center for Undergraduate Global Studies
Hovey House
140 Commonwealth Avenue
Chestnut Hill, MA 02467-3926