From the age of 6 he was swimming at Malibu Beaches and to this day loves to jump in the ocean whenever he gets the chance. He has been teaching swim lessons to children of all ages since he was 16. He is excited to begin teaching lessons in Boston and helping children learn how to be safe in the water.

Emma FritschAvailable: Tuesday 5:30 p.m. -8:00 p.m.

Emma is a rising sophomore who is studying neuroscience, philosophy, and theater on the pre-med track. Emma swam on her varsity swim team for four years, specializing in the 100M butterfly and the 200M IM. She has been a lifeguard since age 16 at her high school pool, her community lake, and the Plex at BC. She loves children and adores teaching swim lessons both back home at her local lake and here at the Plex! She thinks knowing how to swim is a very valuable skill and is very passionate about teaching young children this life skill.

Julia GaffneyAvailable: Thursday 5 p.m. - 7 p.m., Friday 5:30 p.m.- 6:30 p.m.

Julia is a junior majoring in Applied Psychology in the Lynch School. She swam all her life and then competitively throughout high school earning the position of captain her senior year. During the summer time, she lifeguards and gives private swim lessons to children of all ages. This will be her third year lifeguarding and providing lessons at BC. She is excited to teach any child the importance of water safety and technique as these are important skills for all children to have.

Kevin McConnellAvailable: Tuesday 5 p.m., Thursday 5 p.m. -7 p.m.

Kevin is a senior at Boston College studying Economics. He has been teaching swim lessons at BC for 2 years with experience in private, semi-private, and group lessons. Kevin has years of experience working with children of all ages. Most recently, besides working with young swimmers at BC, he has fostered a healthy mentorship with a 'little brother' at a local K-8 school through the Boston College Big Brothers Big Sisters program.

Luc RiordanAvailable: Wednesday 6pm-7:30 pm

Luc is a Junior at BC pursuing a Major in Economics. He has been swimming since he was an infant and previously swam for both his local and high school club teams. Since youth he has always enjoyed being around water, gaining his PADI advanced open water diver certification and has spent the last 4 years working as a lifeguard both in Connecticut and at BC. Swimming is a very important skill to Luc and he is excited to help others feel as comfortable in the water as he does.
