

FOREWORD

The Boston College Fact Book captures and summarizes much of the important current and historical information about Boston College. The Fact Book is intended to serve as a reference for information about the University's faculty, students, alumni, personnel, facilities, and budget.

The 2003-2004 Boston College Fact Book reflects year-end data from the 2002-2003 fiscal and academic years. In certain instances, information relating to the fall of 2003 (academic year 2003-2004) is presented. Much of the information contained in the Fact Book is cumulative and references annual data for the preceding five- or ten-year period. Other information is presented in a single year format.

We are grateful to the many departments and individuals who provided data for this book - the 31st edition of the Fact Book. The majority of the information is extracted from reports produced on a regular basis by the various source offices. Inquiries and comments regarding specific data should be addressed to the responsible office (noted at the bottom of each item). The Fact Book is also available in its entirety at <http://www.bc.edu/factbook>. We welcome your comments and suggestions for additional information that might be included or improvements in the way information is presented.

THE MISSION OF BOSTON COLLEGE

Strengthened by more than a century and a quarter of dedication to academic excellence, Boston College commits itself to the highest standards of teaching and research in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs and to the pursuit of a just society through its own accomplishments, the work of its faculty and staff, and the achievements of its graduates. It seeks both to advance its place among the nation's finest universities and to bring to the company of its distinguished peers and to contemporary society the richness of the Catholic intellectual ideal of a mutually illuminating relationship between religious faith and free intellectual inquiry.

Boston College draws inspiration for its academic and societal mission from its distinctive religious tradition. As a Catholic and Jesuit university, it is rooted in a world view that encounters God in all creation and through all human activity, especially in the search for truth in every discipline, in the desire to learn, and in the call to live justly together. In this spirit, the University regards the contribution of different religious traditions and value systems as essential to the fullness of its intellectual life and to the continuous development of its distinctive intellectual heritage.

Boston College pursues this distinctive mission by serving society in three ways:

- by fostering the rigorous intellectual development and the religious, ethical, and personal formation of its undergraduate, graduate, and professional students in order to prepare them for citizenship, service, and leadership in a global society;
- by producing nationally and internationally significant research that advances insight and understanding, thereby both enriching culture and addressing important societal needs; and
- by committing itself to advance the dialogue between religious belief and other formative elements of culture through the intellectual inquiry, teaching and learning, and the community life that form the University.

Boston College fulfills this mission with a deep concern for all members of its community, with a recognition of the important contribution a diverse student body, faculty, and staff can offer, with a firm commitment to academic freedom, and with a determination to exercise careful stewardship of its resources in pursuit of its academic goals.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF BOSTON COLLEGE

Boston College was founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863, and is one of twenty-eight Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States. With three teachers and twenty-two students, the school opened its doors on September 5, 1864. At the outset and for more than seven decades of its first century, the college remained an exclusively liberal arts institution with emphasis on the Greek and Latin classics, English and modern languages and with more attention to philosophy than to the physical or social sciences. Religion, of course, had its place in the classroom as well as in the nonacademic life of the college.

Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, where it shared quarters with the Boston College High School, the College outgrew its urban setting toward the end of its first fifty years. A new location was selected in Chestnut Hill, then almost rural, and four parcels of land were acquired in 1907. A design competition for the development of the campus was won by the firm of Maginnis and Walsh, and ground was broken on June 19, 1909, for the construction of Gasson Hall. It is located on the site of the Lawrence farmhouse, in the center of the original tract of land purchased by Father Gasson, and is built largely of stone taken from the surrounding property.

Later purchases doubled the size of the property, with the addition of the upper campus in 1941, and the lower campus with the acquisition of the Lawrence Basin and adjoining land in 1949. In 1974 Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, a mile-and-a-half from the main campus. With fifteen buildings standing on forty acres, it is now the site of the Boston College Law School and residence halls housing 800 freshmen.

Though incorporated as a university since its beginning, it was not until its second half-century that Boston College began to fill out the dimensions of its charter. The Summer Session was inaugurated in 1924; the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in 1925; the Law School, 1929; the Evening College, 1929; the Graduate School of Social Work, 1936; the College of Business Administration, 1938. The latter, along with its Graduate School established in 1957, is now known as The Wallace E. Carroll School of Management. The Schools of Nursing and Education were founded in 1947 and 1952, respectively and are now known as the William F. Connell School of Nursing and the Carolyn A. and Peter S. Lynch School of Education. Weston Observatory, founded in 1928, was accepted as a department of Boston College in 1947, offering courses in geophysics and geology.

The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences began programs at the doctoral level in 1952. Now courses leading to the doctorate are offered by twelve Arts and Sciences departments.

The Schools of Education and Nursing, the Carroll Graduate School of Management, and the Graduate School of Social Work also offer doctoral programs.

In 1927 Boston College conferred one earned bachelor's degree and fifteen master's degrees on women through the Extension Division, the precursor of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, the Evening College, and the Summer Session. By 1970 all undergraduate programs had become coeducational. Today women students comprise more than half of the University's enrollment.

In 1996 the Evening College became the College of Advancing Studies, offering a master's degree as well as the bachelor's degree; in 2002 the College was renamed the Woods College of Advancing Studies. The university's longest presidency, 24 years, came to an end when Father J. Donald Monan became chancellor and was succeeded in the presidency by Father William P. Leahy.

During the decade of the nineties, the Boston College campus changed in significant ways. The University completed several major construction projects, including the expansion and renovation of Higgins Hall, the home of the Biology and Physics Departments; updating of residence halls on the upper campus and Newton campus; and the construction of a new office building for faculty and administrative units on lower campus. These projects added 260,000 square feet to Boston College facilities and resulted in on-campus housing for more than 80% of the undergraduates attending Boston College.

In recent years, major advances have also occurred in student selectivity, as well as faculty research and scholarship. For instance, between 1996 and 2003, freshman applications increased from 16,501 to 22,424, and the middle range SAT scores of admitted students increased from 1200-1340 to 1260-1390. During this same period, the dollar amount of sponsored project awards received by the University more than doubled, and the number of research centers and institutes grew from six to twenty-one.

Since 1996, the University's endowment has grown from $590 million to approximately $1 billion, the result of successful investment strategies and the Ever to Excel campaign, which surpassed its original $300 million goal and raised more than $440 million in gifts and pledges from approximately 90,000 donors.

- 1991 Wing added to Campion Hall, with major renovation of the original building.
- 1992 The Eugene F. Merkert Chemistry Center dedicated. The Campaign for Boston College completed, exceeding the $125 million goal by over $11 million.
- 1993 Renovated Devlin Hall welcomed occupants: the Department of Geology and Geophysics, the Department of Fine Arts, the Art Museum, and the Admission Office. The football team beat Notre Dame at South Bend, 41-39, when Notre Dame was ranked No. 1 in the country. Renovation of Fulton Hall was begun. The Department of Theater was established.
- 1994 Graduate programs in Nursing and Education separated from the Graduate School of Arts & Sciences. Father Monan established a University Academic Planning Council to map university strategies. A garage for 900 cars was completed behind St. Mary's Hall. The stadium seating capacity was enlarged from 32,000 to 44,500.
- 1995 On October 6, 1995, the trustees elected Father William P. Leahy, S.J., to succeed Father J. Donald Monan, S.J., as president. Fulton Hall reopened, enlarged and transformed exteriorly to match the Gothic style of the early buildings.
- 1996 The Law School's new library was completed and opened on the Newton campus in January. U.S. News & World Report ranked Boston College 16th among the nation's teaching universities and 37th in the national university category. The student residence at 70 St. Thomas More Road was named Thomas A. and Margaret A. Vanderslice Hall; the nearby residence building at number 80 was named Gabelli Hall; and the Art Museum became the Charles S. and Isabella V. McMullen Museum of Art. On July 31, Father Monan's 24-year presidency ended, and on October 18 Father

William P. Leahy, S.J., was inaugurated as the 25th president of Boston College.

- 1997 In a rating of graduate schools, U.S. News & World Report placed Boston College Law School 22nd in its field, while the Graduate School of Social Work was ranked 14th, the School of Nursing 27th, and the School of Education 28th. In March, Father Leahy was homilist at the annual St. Patrick's Day Mass at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross.
- 1998 The formal opening of the Irish Institute and the Irish Studies Program was held at Connolly House. Work began on a three-year project to renovate and expand Higgins Hall, which houses the Biology and Physics departments. U.S. News & World Report rated the BC schools of law, education, and nursing among the top 25 in their fields. BC undergraduates won more than 20 prestigious national fellowships, including a dozen Fulbrights and a coveted Marshall Scholarship.
- 1999 BC's School of Education was named the Carolyn A. and Peter S. Lynch School of Education in recognition of the couple's gift of more than $10 million. For the fifth consecutive year, BC was ranked among the top 40 national universities by U.S. News & World Report. The McMullen Museum of Art's exhibition Saints and Sinners: Caravaggio and the Baroque Image attracted more than 65,000 visitors to the campus. BC announced a $400 million "Ever to Excel" capital campaign.
- 2000 The annual U.S. News & World Report survey ranked Boston College 38th among the nation's 228 national universities. BC, Notre Dame, and Georgetown were the only Catholic universities in the top 40. Geoffrey and Rene Boisi committed $5 million to establish the Center for Religion and American Public Life, directed by social scientist Alan Wolfe. BC appointed a husband and wife team to a joint position for a single chair: Sheila Blair and Jonathan Bloom who share the Norma Jean Calderwood Chair in Islamic and Asian Art.
- 2001 The BC School of Nursing was renamed the William F. Connell School of Nursing in honor of longtime trustee, William F. Connell, '59. After defeating Maine and Michigan, the BC men's hockey team went on to win the NCAA Championship by defeating North Dakota. A $2 million grant from the Lilly Endowment supported a BC program to encourage students to integrate faith and career. BC established a permanent Dublin home, on St. Stephens Green, as a resource for the university's Irish Studies Program, the Burns Library, and international student programs.
- 2002 Boston College received a record number of undergraduate applications for the 2002-2003 academic year, with more than 21,000 applicants for the approximately 2,200 available seats. The March issue of U.S. News & World Report cited BC as one of 20 schools recognized for overall athletic achievement, including the graduation rate of its varsity athletes. In the April issue, the magazine moved the Carroll Graduate School up two places to rank as 39th in the nation. BC's Law School remained in 22nd place nationally, and the graduate program of the Lynch School of Education, celebrating the 50th year of its founding, moved up to 21st position, the only Catholic graduate education program in the top 40. With a gift of $5 million from the family of Katherine B. and Robert M. Devlin, the former Evening College was renamed the Woods College of Advancing Studies in honor of Rev. James A. Woods, S.J., dean of the school for 34 years. President William P. Leahy, S.J., announced that Boston College will develop a "special academic focus" for the next two years to examine issues relating to the sexual misconduct scandal in the Catholic Church. The initiative, called "The Church in the 21st Century," was launched in September 2002, with an open forum that drew an audience of 4,000.

- 2003 The Boston College "Church in the 21st Century" initiative, exploring issues emerging from the sexual abuse crisis, attracted national attention and local interest with its series of conferences and seminars. BC's "Ever to Excel" fundraising drive surpassed its original $300 million goal by generating more than $440 million in gifts and pledges from approximately 90,000 donors. The 22,424 applications for approximately 2,200 places in the Class of 2007 set a school record, surpassing the previous year's total of 21,131 applications. BC announced it would withdraw from the Big East and accept an invitation to join the Atlantic Coast Conference. Smoking, banned in academic and administrative buildings at BC since 1995, was prohibited in all residence halls as well. Between November 2002 and March 2003, the Office of Information Technology replaced over 3,000 computers with new machines in University offices. Moakley Professor of Political Science Kay Schlozman and Professor Larry Wolff of the history department were elected fellows of the American Academy of Arts & Sciences. Chemistry professor Scott Miller was awarded the Pfizer Award for Creativity in Organic Chemistry. For the first time in the University's history, two Boston College students were awarded Rhodes Scholarships; Paul A. Taylor and Brett T. Huneycutt will join 30 other Rhodes Scholars for study at Oxford University.
