Foreword

The Boston College Fact Book is a summary of significant statistics gathered from various sources throughout the University. Once again, we wish to extend sincere thanks and appreciation for the excellent cooperation and assistance received from these many sources.

The purpose of the Fact Book is to produce a single-source publication and reference document that touches upon and integrates all aspects of the institution's people and its operations. We do wish to point out to all users that the information presented herein was compiled at a specific time — July through December 1998— to reflect the Academic Year 1997-98, as well as the most current enrollment statistics for Fall 1998.

The majority of the information is extracted from management reports produced on a regular basis by the various source offices. When reviewing the figures presented we advise you always to note the time frame referenced in the individual tables, and to contact responsible offices (noted at the bottom of each table) should you have further questions.

With this 27th edition, we continue our efforts to produce a Fact Book that provides both current information and an historical perspective. We welcome your comments and suggestions for additional information that might be included or improvements in the way information is presented.

Non-Discrimination Statement

Founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863, Boston College is dedicated to intellectual excellence and to its Jesuit, Catholic mission and heritage. Committed to maintaining a welcoming environment for all people, the University recognizes the important contribution a diverse community of students, faculty and administrators makes to the advancement of its goals and ideals.

Boston College rejects and condemns all forms of harassment, and it has developed procedures to redress incidents of harassment against any members of its community, whatever the basis or circumstance. Moreover, in accordance with all applicable state and federal laws, Boston College does not discriminate in employment, housing, or education on the basis of a person's race, religion, color, national origin, age, sex, marital or parental status, veteran status, or disabilities. In addition, in a manner faithful to the Jesuit, Catholic principles and values that sustain its mission and heritage, Boston College is in compliance with applicable state laws providing equal opportunity without regard to sexual orientation.

Boston College has designated the Director of Affirmative Action to coordinate its efforts to comply with and carry out its responsibilities to prevent discrimination in accordance with state and federal laws. Any applicant for admission or employment, as well as all students, faculty members, and employees, are welcome to raise any questions regarding violation of this policy with Barbara Marshall, Director of Affirmative Action, More Hall 315, 552-2947. In addition, any person who believes that an act of discrimination based on Title IX discrimination has occurred at Boston College may raise this issue with the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights of the United States Department of Education.

The Mission of Boston College

Strengthened by more than a century and a quarter of dedication to academic excellence, Boston College commits itself to the highest standards of teaching and research in undergraduate, graduate and professional programs and to the pursuit of a just society through its own accomplishments, the work of its faculty and staff, and the achievements of its graduates. It seeks both to advance its place among the nation's finest universities and to bring to the company of its distinguished peers and to contemporary society the richness of the Catholic intellectual ideal of a mutually illuminating relationship between religious faith and free intellectual inquiry.

Boston College draws inspiration for its academic and societal mission from its distinctive religious tradition. As a Catholic and Jesuit university, it is rooted in a world view that encounters God in all creation and through all human activity, especially in the search for truth in every discipline, in the desire to learn, and in the call to live justly together. In this spirit, the University regards the contribution of different religious traditions and value systems as essential to the fullness of its intellectual life and to the continuous development of its distinctive intellectual heritage.

Boston College pursues this distinctive mission by serving society in three ways:

- by fostering the rigorous intellectual development and the religious, ethical and personal formation of its undergraduate, graduate and professional students in order to prepare them for citizenship, service and leadership in a global society;
- by producing nationally and internationally significant research that advances insight and understanding, thereby both enriching culture and addressing important societal needs; and
- by committing itself to advance the dialogue between religious belief and other formative elements of culture through the intellectual inquiry, teaching and learning, and the community life that form the University.

Boston College fulfills this mission with a deep concern for all members of its community, with a recognition of the important contribution a diverse student body, faculty and staff can offer, with a firm commitment to academic freedom, and with a determination to exercise careful stewardship of its resources in pursuit of its academic goals.

A Brief History of Boston College

Boston College was founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863, and is one of twenty-eight Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States. With three teachers and twenty-two students, the school opened its doors on September 5, 1864. At the outset and for more than seven decades of its first century, the college remained an exclusively liberal arts institution with emphasis on the Greek and Latin classics, English and modern languages and with more attention to philosophy than to the physical or social sciences. Religion of course had its place in the classroom as well as in the nonacademic life of the college.

Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, where it shared quarters with the Boston College High School, the College outgrew its urban setting toward the end of its first fifty years. A new location was selected in Chestnut Hill, then almost rural, and four parcels of land were acquired in 1907. A design competition for the development of the campus was won by the firm of Maginnis and Walsh, and ground was broken on June 19, 1909, for the construction of Gasson Hall. It is located on the site of the Lawrence farmhouse, in the center of the original tract of land purchased by Father Gasson, and is built largely of stone taken from the surrounding property.

Later purchases doubled the size of the property, with the addition of the upper campus in 1941, and the lower campus with the purchase of the Lawrence Basin and adjoining land in 1949. In 1974 Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, a mile-and-a-half from the main campus. With fifteen buildings standing on forty acres, it is now the site of the Boston College Law School and dormitories housing over 800 students, primarily freshmen.

Though incorporated as a University since its beginning, it was not until its second half-century that Boston College began to fill out the dimensions of its University charter. The Summer Session was inaugurated in 1924; the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in 1925; the Law School, 1929; the Evening College, 1929; the Graduate School of Social Work, 1936; the College of Business Administration, 1938. The latter, along with its Graduate School established in 1957, is now known as The Wallace E. Carroll School of Management. The Schools of Nursing and Education were founded in 1947 and 1952, respectively. Weston Observatory, founded in 1928, was accepted as a Department of Boston College in 1947, offering courses in geophysics and geology.

The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences began programs at the doctoral level in 1952. Now courses leading to the doctorate are offered by twelve Arts and Sciences departments. The Schools of Education and Nursing, the Carroll Graduate School of Management, and the Graduate School of Social Work also offer doctoral programs.

In 1927 Boston College conferred one earned bachelor's degree and fifteen master's degrees on women through the Extension Division, the precursor of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, the Evening College, and the Summer Session. By 1970 all undergraduate programs had become coeducational. Today women students comprise more than half of the University's enrollment.

In 1996 the Evening College became the College of Advancing Studies, offering a master's degree as well as the bachelor's degree. The university's longest presidency, 24 years, came to an end when Father J. Donald Monan became chancellor and was succeeded in the presidency by Father William P. Leahy.

In 1997, Father Leahy announced the implementation plan for Advancing the Legacy, BC's $260 million five year investment to strengthen education, reaffirm its Jesuit and Catholic mission, increase research and improve the quality of student life.

In March, Father Leahy was homilist at the annual St. Patrick's Day Mass at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston.

1998 Irish politics was in the spotlight at Boston College in 1998. Irish Prime Minister Bertie Ahern spoke at Commencement on May 18, making an appeal for the Northern Ireland peace accord that later that week was approved in an all-Ireland referendum. Members of the new Northern Ireland Assembly attended a political leadership development program offered by the Boston College Irish Institute under a major initiative unveiled at BC in September by British Secretary of State for Northern Ireland Mo Mowlam. Irish President Mary McAleese attended the formal opening of the new offices of the Irish Institute and the Irish Studies Program in Connolly House in October. Irish Studies Visiting Professor John Hume received the Nobel Peace Prize along with David Trimble.

In other news, Rev. Joseph Appleyard, SJ, was named to the newly established vice presidency for University Mission and Ministry. University of Pittsburgh biologist David Burgess was appointed as academic vice-president and dean of faculties, succeeding Rev. William Neenan, SJ, who was named vice-president and special assistant to University President William Leahy, SJ. After 10 years as head of BC's largest undergraduate school, College of Arts and Sciences Dean J. Robert Barth, SJ, announced he would step down after the 1998-99 academic year and join the English Department faculty.

As part of its $260 million investment in academic programs and resources, BC announced funding for new faculty positions in the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Education, Law School and Graduate School of Social Work. The funds also will strengthen research and student technology services, increase financial support for education, arts and sciences and AHANA graduate students, and expand the Presidential Scholars Program.

Boston College undergraduates won more than 20 prestigious national fellowships, including a dozen Fulbrights and a coveted Marshall Scholarship. The University reported its most fruitful year ever in sponsored research funding -- nearly $100 million in proposals submitted and almost $24 million in outside grants received in fiscal 1997-98.

The Social Security Administration selected Boston College as one of two university-based retirement policy research centers in the nation, to be directed by Peter Drucker Professor of Management Sciences Alicia H. Munnell. Work began on a three-year project to renovate and expand Higgins Hall. Boston College ranked 36th in US News & World Report's annual survey of universities, with the BC schools of law, education and nursing being rated among the top 25 in their fields by the magazine.

Cardinal Carlo Maria Martini, SJ, of Milan made in February the first visit by a Jesuit cardinal to Boston College in 35 years. Rev. Francis Sweeney, SJ, stepped down after 41 years as director of the Lowell Lecture Humanities Series, which has attracted literary greats from Robert Frost to Seamus Heaney. In April, Boston College's men's hockey team lost a heartbreaker in overtime to the University of Michigan in the NCAA National Championship game. Finally, Boston College mourned the passing of University Historian Charles Donovan, SJ, who served as founding dean of the School of Education and authored the History of Boston College.

* References to presidents and Board of Trustee chairmen are minimized in this chronology since they are listed elsewhere in this Fact Book.

The Jesuit Community at Boston College

With nearly 130 members, the Jesuit Community at Boston College is among the largest in the world and is certainly the largest in any college or university. Fifty-three Jesuits work full-time at Boston College, 30 on different faculties and 23 in administrative positions. One third of the community consists of Jesuits nominally retired from academic work at Boston College, but many of these still teach and work in administrative posts on a part-time basis. A number of Jesuits in the community also offer Ignatian retreats and spiritual direction to faculty, staff, and students. Also part of the community are some 22 Jesuits from 10 different countries who are studying for graduate degrees at the University and several visiting scholars from other institutions. The main community residence is St. Mary's Hall, but there are also communities at Roberts House and Manresa House (both on Beacon Street) and at Barat House (on the Newton Campus). The Jesuits who staff St. Ignatius Parish are also a part of the Boston College Jesuit Community.

¹This statistic includes estimated regular university scholarships and grants (through the operating budget), faculty kin tuition remission, athletic grants, Jesuit Reduction, Alumni Association Scholarships, and endowed monies for scholarships.

²State scholarship funds to students from Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Maine, New Hampshire; Gilbert Grants; and Herter Scholarships.

³Pell Grant eligibility is determined directly by the federal government.

⁴These loan funds (formerly called "National Direct Student Loans") are obtained by federal government contributions, Boston College contributions, and collections of previous loans awarded.

⁵This is a duplicated total since some students receive more than one type of aid.

Important Note: The above data do not include Boston College student assistance for graduate and professional students (approximately $13.03 million in tuition remission, grants, or scholarships and $10.28 million in stipends during 1997-98) administered by the various schools and departments. Also, excluded are the Nursing Loan Program ($317,450 during 1997-98), a variety of grants and scholarships from fraternal organizations and clubs ($3,379,175 during 1997-98), and loans processed by the Financial Aid Office ($67,407,035 during 1997-98) for undergraduate students, graduate students, or their parents.

* FY1996 figures do not include a one-time curtailment charge of $8.3 resulting from a change in accounting for the University's Postretirement Health Care Plan.

Special Library Services

Quest – Library Information System

The Quest system includes BCAT, the Boston College Online Catalog, which provides access to approximately 5.2 million items including books, media materials, microforms, newspapers, and periodicals. BCAT may be searched by author, title, call number, subject, or keyword from workstations throughout the libraries or from remote locations, both on and off campus. FACP is a database of publications by current BC faculty. A separate file, NEWT, lists items recently cataloged for the collection. A major attraction within Quest is LIST, which links to over 25 periodical indexes covering a wide range of disciplines. Rounding out the Quest offerings are two major bibliographic databases, WCAT and RLIN. WCAT, or WorldCat, is the OCLC union catalog containing more than 30 million records of items located in OCLC member libraries. OCLC can be used by researchers to locate materials in other libraries around the world. RLIN is a union catalog of nearly 88 million items held in comprehensive research, special, and some corporate libraries. Quest may be searched through a World Wide Web interface, accessible from the Libraries' home page (<http://www.bc.edu/libraries.html>).

Computer Searching

A growing number of general and specific databases are available for searching via the Web. A complete listing of all online databases available through the libraries can be found by clicking on Online Databases from the Libraries' home page (<http://www.bc.edu/libraries.html>). The list includes both subject groupings and an alphabetical listing by title along with a designation for full text databases. Many of the databases may then be launched directly through a hot link. All other listings provide information explaining exactly where to access the database, usually in the Electronic Information Center in the O'Neill Library or the Law Library. Databases range in coverage from very general to very specific and cover a wide range of research topics in the humanities, social sciences, sciences, health science, business, law, and public affairs. A few databases must still be accessed from dedicated workstations in the library, but most are now available through the university's computer network delivering the databases directly to the researcher's desktop.

The librarians offer training classes in how to search databases effectively, by arrangement with professors, and also provide individual coaching at various library service points or by appointment.

Researchers who cannot locate resources they need through the materials available to them through the libraries may contact a librarian to develop a search strategy to locate relevant information.

Finally, the libraries facilitate access to many computerized numeric databases in business, economics, and the social sciences on magnetic tape. Contact the O'Neill Reference Desk (refer@bc.edu) or one of the special libraries for more information about these services, or to arrange demonstrations, workshops, and classroom presentations.

Interlibrary Loan

The Interlibrary Loan Service is offered to students, faculty, administrators, and staff to obtain materials not available in the Boston College Libraries. Books, photocopies of journal articles, microfilm, theses, and government documents may be borrowed from other libraries. Except for unusual items, the waiting period is from one to four weeks; for anyone willing to use the material at the holding library, a computerized system at the reference desk will provide locations. Requests can be made by using electronic forms available on the Libraries' web site or by visiting a library.

Boston Library Consortium

The library is a member of the Boston Library Consortium, a group of area libraries which includes Brandeis, Boston University, Brown University, Tufts, Wellesley, Northeastern, MIT, Massachusetts State Library, Boston Public Library, the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole, and the University of Massachusetts System. Faculty and graduate students may apply for a Consortium borrower's card at the Reference Department in the O'Neill Library. Further information may be found in the User Guide and the Consortium Handbook, available in all libraries. A gateway to the BLC member library on-line catalogs is available on the Libraries' web site.

United States Government Publications

Boston College is one of 1,365 Federal Depository Libraries located throughout the United States. This status entitles the O'Neill Library to receive, on a selective basis, United States government publications at no cost with the stipulation that they be made available to the general public. Most of the material circulates in the same manner as books. Inquiries related to the use of government documents should be directed to Government Documents and Microforms staff on the first floor of the O'Neill Library.

Media Center

The Media Center on the second floor of O'Neill Library houses information in many nonprint formats — videocassettes, laserdiscs, 16mm films, compact discs, audiocassettes, phonodiscs, and CD-ROMs. All media may be used by patrons within the Center, in individual carrels. Faculty may conduct their classes in each of our two media classrooms. There is a Faculty Preview Room for faculty meeting with small groups or previewing media materials. Loans of videos are restricted to BC faculty. The Center also includes the Vision Resource room which holds adaptive equipment for patrons with vision impairments.

New England Library Information Network/OCLC

Through membership in the New England Library Information Network (NELINET), our users have on-line access to publishing, cataloging, and interlibrary loan location information from the data bank of OCLC, Inc. which contains over 39 million bibliographic records from the Library of Congress and other national libraries and from over 27,000 other libraries worldwide.

John J. Burns Library of Rare Books and Special Collections

The University's special collections, including the University's Archives, are housed in the magnificently appointed Honorable John J. Burns Library, located in the Bapst Library Building, north entrance. These distinguished and varied collections speak eloquently of the University's commitment to the preservation and dissemination of human knowledge. The Burns Library is home to more than one hundred thousand volumes, some twelve million manuscripts, and important collections of architectural records, maps, art works, photographs, films, prints, artifacts, and ephemera. These materials are housed in the climate-controlled, secure environment of Burns either because of their rarity or because of their importance as part of a special collection. While treated with special care, these resources are available for use at Burns to all qualified students, faculty, and researchers. Indeed, their use is strongly encouraged, and visitors to Burns are always welcome, either simply to browse or to make use of the collections.

Though its collections cover virtually the entire spectrum of human knowledge, the Burns Library has achieved international recognition in several specific areas of research, most notably: Irish studies; British Catholic authors; Jesuitana; fine print; Catholic liturgy and life in America, 1925-1975; Boston history; Caribbeana; Balkan studies; and Congressional archives. Academic Development Center

The Academic Development Center (ADC) exists to support and enhance all aspects of academic excellence by helping undergraduates, graduate students, and faculty improve learning quality and teaching effectiveness. The ADC, which opened its doors in September 1991, is located on the second floor of O'Neill Library in the Eileen M. and John M. Connors, Jr. Learning Center.

The ADC is a comprehensive, inclusive resource serving all of the University's students and faculty. To address the needs of the great majority of Boston College students, the Center provides tutoring for more than 60 courses, including calculus, statistics, biology, chemistry, nursing, accounting, and classical and foreign languages. In addition, graduate students in English serve as writing tutors. (All ADC tutors are recommended and approved by their relevant academic departments; most are graduate students, juniors, or seniors.)

The Center offers programs designed to challenge the most academically talented, highest achieving students — as well as programs designed to support those who are least prepared and most academically challenged. One of the ADC's three professional staff members assists students with learning disabilities, helping to ensure their academic success at Boston College.

Tutoring, and all other academic support services, are free of charge to all Boston College students and instructors.

The Center also sponsors seminars, workshops, and discussions for faculty and graduate teaching fellows on strategies for successful teaching and learning. Through these and other activities, the Academic Development Center plays an increasingly important role in enhancing the quality of academic life at Boston College.

University Archives

Archives are the official noncurrent papers and records of an institution that are deemed worthy of preservation for their legal, fiscal, or historical values. The University Archives, a department within the John J. Burns Library, contain the office records and documents of the various University offices, academic and otherwise, copies of all University publications, including student publications, movie footage of Boston College football, some audiovisual materials, and tape recordings of the University Lecture Series and other significant events. A significant collection of photographs documents the pictorial history of Boston College. Alumni, faculty, and Jesuit records are also preserved. In addition, the Archives are the repository for the documents of Newton College of the Sacred Heart (1946-1975); the Jesuit Education Association (1934-1970); the Catholic International Education Office (1952-1976); and the documents of the Jesuit Community of Boston College (1863-).

The Language Laboratory

The Boston College Language Laboratory, serving all the language departments, students of English as a foreign language, and the Boston College community at large, is located in Lyons 313. In addition to its 32 state-of-the-art listening/recording stations and teacher console (installed in Summer 1998), the facility includes video viewing rooms, multimedia-equipped Macintosh workstations, and a CD listening station. The Lab's audio and videotape/laserdisc collection, computer software, other audiovisual learning aids, and print materials including mono- and bilingual dictionaries, as well as laboratory manuals for elementary through advanced language courses, directly support and/or supplement the curriculum requirements in international language, literature, and music. The Lab's collection is designed to assist users in the acquisition and maintenance of aural comprehension, oral and written proficiency, and cultural awareness. Prominent among the Lab's offerings that directly address these goals are international news broadcasts and other television programming available through the Boston College cable television network and made accessible to Lab users via EagleNET connections and/or via videotaped off-air recordings. These live or near-live broadcasts from around the world provide a timely resource for linguistic and cultural information in a wide variety of languages. Students (undergraduate and graduate), faculty, and BC community members who wish to use the Language Laboratory facility and its collection will find the Laboratory staff available during the day, in the evening, and on weekends to assist them in the operation of equipment and in the selection of appropriate materials for their course-related or personal language needs.

The McMullen Museum of Art

The Charles S. and Isabella V. McMullen Museum of Art aims to increase understanding of the visual arts, to encourage inquiry, and to enrich learning through the display of a notable permanent collection and special exhibitions of international importance. The Museum occupies two floors of Devlin Hall. Spacious galleries with movable walls provide flexible exhibition spaces that rival venues in larger museums.

Begun in the nineteenth century, the University's permanent collection contains masterpieces that span the history of art from Europe, Asia, and the Americas. Outstanding among them are Gothic and Baroque tapestries, Italian paintings of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, American landscape paintings of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, and Japanese prints. The collection is displayed on a rotating basis in the Museum's galleries on the ground floor. In keeping with the teaching mission of a university museum, accompanying text explains the significance of each work in its historical context and addresses questions from the current scholarship. The Museum maintains an active special exhibition program, bringing outstanding works from around the world to Chestnut Hill. The Museum also contains a Micro Gallery, an innovative computer system which visitors to the Museum may use to display information and images of works in the permanent collection, as well as photographs of related works. The Museum organizes public lectures, symposia, workshops, film series, and gallery tours in concert with current exhibitions.

Information Technology

Information Technology manages Boston College's computing, communications, and electronic information resources. It provides leadership in shaping technology plans and strategies to support the mission and goals of the University. Boston College's campus technology environment is a highly integrated voice, data, and cable television network with high speed connections to all classrooms, offices, and residence hall rooms. The University's network infrastructure is currently being enhanced to double the speed of its connection to the Internet, improve its capacity to intelligently and selectively pass or deny access to network resources, and provide better support for off campus users accessing the network through internet service providers or the University's modem pool. Information Technology has a staff of approximately 140 employees and has recently reorganized and expanded to deal more effectively with the challenges of new technologies and customer needs. The new organization focuses on rapid implementation of internet, intranet, and extranet applications on an expanding and evolving network computing infrastructure.

Student Learning and Support Center

The Student Learning and Support Center (SLSC) brings together students, staff, faculty, customer service, and technology. The SLSC, located in O'Neill Library 250, is Boston College's main computer laboratory. The facility holds 100 Macintosh and 50 IBM-PC computers, 2 color scanners, 6 networked email stations, 2 music stations, 9 Laserwriter printers, a typewriter, and Notary Services for the use of currently active Boston College students, faculty, and staff. Within the facility, users have access to a wide variety of software applications and full access to the internet. Remote printing is also available. For more information about the SLSC facilities, see its web page: <http://www.bc.edu/slsc>
