LAWS79702 Advanced Legal Research (Fall 2013: 3 credits)
Instructor: Laurel Davis and Mary Ann Neary  Tues., Thurs. 8:30-9:50

Prerequisites: None

This course is designed as an in-depth look at the process of legal research. Students are exposed to a wide range of legal materials and practical techniques and strategies for using these materials competently and effectively in the research process. The goal of the course is to create self-sufficient legal researchers, capable of analyzing a legal problem, and formulating and executing the appropriate and most effective research methodology. Particular attention is paid to types of legal sources and research not covered in the first year of law school (e.g. administrative law, legislative histories and legal practice materials). Both print and electronic sources are explored and critiqued. The course covers Westlaw, LexisNexis, BloombergLaw and other electronic sources. The grade is based upon several course assignments and a final exam. Enrollment is limited to 20 students.

LAWS447801 Environmental Legal Research (Fall 2014: 2 credits)  Wednesday, Thursday 10:30-11:50
Instructor: Joan Shear

Prerequisites: None

This course is designed as an in-depth look at the legal research materials and techniques used in the practice of environmental law. Strong emphasis on administrative law and the rulemaking process, legislative history, and government documents. Course will also review basic case law and statutory research. Print and electronic sources are compared and contrasted to help students learn economical and efficient research skills necessary to be a successful environmental lawyer. Ungraded weekly exercises help students to track their progress in learning the materials. Grade will be based on class participation and two graded exercises. The class will meet three hours per week for the first two thirds of the semester.
