

Save the Date!

Pinnacle Lecture Series

“What’s New in Self-Management Science?”

Margaret Grey, DrPH, RN, FAAN

Annie W. Goodrich Professor, Yale School of Nursing

Date & Time

Tuesday
November 17, 2015
5:00 p.m.

Location

Boston College
Yawkey Center,
Murray Room

To Register

Go to

bc.edu/pinnacle

Reception will follow presentation

*1.5 contact hours are provided for lecture attendees

For additional information, please contact the Clinical Placement Office
bc.edu/preceptors
or janet.stout@bc.edu
617.552.2833

Dear BC Preceptors,

Greetings and welcome to the fall semester. We hope that you enjoyed a wonderful summer and were able to find time to enjoy the warm weather. With classes already underway, the BC campus comes alive with new and exciting exhibits and learning opportunities. As a new or returning preceptor we hope that you have a positive experience and find your practice invigorated by the role of mentor.

New for this Fall we have been able to offer a weekly drawing to attend a BC Football home game. Winners are chosen each week, please respond to the weekly email if you would like to be included. Preceptors also have access to Boston College libraries, cultural events and museum exhibits. Currently, the McMullen Museum’s exhibit entitled “John La Farge and the Recovery of the Sacred” profiled in the Wall Street Journal is exhibiting through December 13th. Please see the below link for more information on the exhibit.

bc.edu/artmuseum

The Continuing Education Program also offers several classes designed to meet the needs of advanced practice nurses. Highlighted below are a list of some of the classes offered this fall and early winter that may be of interest:

Conversational Medical Spanish (21 contact hours), Tuition $379
Tuesdays 6:00—9:00 p.m.
November 3 —December 15, 2015

Advanced Psychopharmacology (39 contact hours), Tuition $849
Monday 4:30—7:30 p.m.
January 25—May 2, 2016

Safe Prescribing of Opioid Medications (2 contact hours), Tuition $49
On-line course

For more information on classes, please access bc.edu/ce. As a Preceptor you may select to receive a $100 voucher to apply toward a continuing education course. Thank you again for precepting BC Advanced Practice Nurse students, we appreciate your efforts!