Boston Theological Institute

The Boston Theological Institute (BTI), a consortium of theology faculty primarily in the Boston-Newton-Cambridge area, has as its constituent members the following institutions:

- Andover Newton School of Theology
- Boston College's Department of Theology
- Boston College's School of Theology and Ministry
- Boston University School of Theology
- Episcopal Divinity School
- Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary
- Harvard Divinity School
- Hebrew College Rabbinical School
- Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology
- St. John's Seminary

This consortium offers complete cross-registration in several hundred courses, the use of library facilities in the nine schools, joint seminars and programs, and faculty exchange programs.

If you plan to register for a course through the Boston Theological Institute (BTI), you can complete a signed BTI Cross Registration form (available in the STM Service Center), take it to the appropriate BTI school registrar for their signature, and then bring the completed form to Student Services, Lyons Hall for registration. The STM cannot register you for a BTI course. STM students are expected to consult with their advisor before cross registering. You may take up to half of your courses through the BTI. This cross registration process needs to be completed by the last day of add/drop, which is September 11, 2013.

If you wish to use the library facilities at any of the BTI schools, you can pick up a BTI library card from Sharon Bryant at the STM Service Center.
