1.0 OVERVIEW OF THE CONDUCT SYSTEM

The Office of the Dean of Students coordinates the student conduct system and oversees all matters relative to the conduct and behavior of Boston College students in order to maintain a community conducive to the overall mission of Boston College.

1.1 Statement of Purpose

The purpose of the student conduct system is to help foster an environment that promotes the intellectual, personal, ethical, psychological, social, and spiritual development of all students. In keeping with the mission of Boston College, a conduct system should be, first and foremost, educational in nature. However, the rights of others within the campus community may require severe, but appropriate responses to augment student learning and help protect the rights of others. Such a system has among its goals personal development, moral and ethical enrichment, value formation, and citizenship.

1.2 Authority of the Administration

The student conduct system is administered by the Vice President for Student Affairs through the Office of the Dean of Students, overseen by the Dean of Students. The Dean of Students or designee reserves the right to review the sanctions imposed as the result of any conduct proceeding to assure their appropriateness. Boston College reserves the right to change or supplement any policies within the Student Code of Conduct at any time, with or without prior notice.

1.3 Student Rights

If alleged misconduct violations are pursued against a student under the student conduct system, the student has the right to:

- be informed of the alleged misconduct,
- have an opportunity to respond to the allegations,
- hear evidence in support of the allegations,
- present evidence in response to the allegations, and
- be informed of the outcome of a conduct proceeding.

1.4 Jurisdiction

The Student Code of Conduct applies to all Boston College students and student groups recognized by Boston College, which include academic and extracurricular programs or organizations. A student is defined as a person enrolled or registered for study at Boston College for any academic period, irrespective of the student's presence on campus. Persons who are not officially enrolled but have been enrolled and plan to have a continuing relationship with the University are considered students. This includes, but is not limited to, students on a personal, medical, or academic leave of absence, and students suspended from the University.

The Student Code of Conduct applies to Boston College students while they are on campus, off-campus, online, or abroad. Students residing in Boston College residential facilities are also bound by the policies and procedures of the Conditions for Residency, which include fire safety and security policies. The Conditions for Residency and other residential policies can be viewed on the Office of Residential Life's Community Expectations webpage.

1.5 Standard of Proof

The purpose of conduct proceedings is to investigate the facts of the matter and to determine responsibility for alleged violations. The focus of inquiry is whether the student is "responsible" or "not responsible" for violating the Student Code of Conduct. The standard of proof for a finding of responsibility is a "preponderance of evidence," meaning that the evidence indicates that it was more likely than not that the conduct violation occurred. Formal rules of evidence are not applicable, and deviations from prescribed procedures will not necessarily invalidate a decision or proceeding unless significant prejudice to a student or the University results.

There may be instances where a student is found responsible for a "lesser-related" violation than the one listed in their notice letter. This may occur if the allegations giving rise to the lesser-related violation stem from the same or directly-related facts and circumstances as described in the notice letter. For example, a student charged with "Drug Sales" may be found responsible for the lesser-related violation of "Possession and/or Use of Drugs" or a student charged with "Physical Violence" may be found responsible for the lesser-related violation of "Disorderly Conduct."

1.6 Good Conduct Standing

Every student enters the University "in good standing." However, if a student is involved in the student conduct process and issued sanctions of University Probation or higher (i.e., University Suspension or University Dismissal), the student forfeits good standing status during the term of the probation or suspension. A student who is not in good standing may not be eligible for certain University leadership roles, employment, or other University programs, including study abroad and retreat programs.

2.0 ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES AND POLICIES

Boston College operates in compliance with legal requirements and University policies. These academic policies and procedures guide the activities of all students, faculty, and staff. The Office of Student Services will communicate any changes to these academic policies and procedures.

2.1 Student Conduct Records

When a student is found responsible for violation(s) of the Student Code of Conduct, a conduct record will be established and maintained by the Office of the Dean of Students. Student conduct records will be maintained, in accordance with federal regulations, for a minimum period of seven years following the incident. The Office of the Dean of Students may also maintain records for any pending or unresolved conduct matters. Students who receive sanctions of University Suspension or Dismissal may have their conduct records maintained indefinitely. University Suspension or Dismissal sanctions are noted on the student's academic transcript indefinitely. When a student withdraws from the University with pending conduct allegations, a hold may be placed on the student's account until the matter is resolved, or the Dean of Students or designee may proceed with an adjudication process as described in Section 4.o.

2.2 Parent/Guardian Notification

The Office of the Dean of Students or designee, at the Dean's discretion, may notify parents/guardians in writing of misconduct matters to the extent permitted by law. The Office of the Dean of Students may inform a student's parents/guardians of any finding of responsibility and related sanctions for violations of federal, state, or local laws governing the possession or use of alcohol or controlled substances.

2.3 Interim Administrative Action

The Dean of Students or designee may take interim administrative action when a student is deemed to threaten the health, safety, or well-being of other individuals threaten or impair the effective functioning of the University, or when a student has been charged with a serious criminal offense. Interim actions may include summary suspension from the University, removal from University housing, suspension of privileges, and other similar measures.

Interim administrative action is not a disciplinary sanction. It is intended to help protect the University and members of the community until a matter can be investigated and adjudicated, and remains in effect only as long as the Dean of Students or designee determines there is a need for it or until the matter has been investigated, adjudicated, or otherwise resolved.

In the case of interim action imposed as a result of criminal charges, the action may remain in effect until the matter is resolved both on and off campus.

Examples of behavior that may lead to summary suspension from the University include, but are not limited to, physical violence, sexual misconduct, disruption of the educational or civil living environment of the University, significant damage to property, and possession and distribution of controlled substances.

2.4 Temporary No Contact Order

In instances where it has been determined by a University administrator that contact between a student and one or more individuals is likely to negatively affect the safety or well-being of individuals or the University community, a Temporary No Contact Order may be issued. The order, specific to a person and/or location, prohibits the student(s) subject to the order from having any further direct or indirect contact, including, but not limited to, contact via email, mail, text messages, social media, or telephone, as well as third-party contact, for the duration of seven calendar days, but may be reasonably extended at the discretion of a University administrator. If multiple students are involved, Temporary No Contact Orders are generally mutual.

A Temporary No Contact Order may be issued by a staff member in the Office of the Dean of Students or the Office of Residential Life. During the seven-day period, the Office of the Dean of Students will determine whether the issuance of a longer-term Stay Away Order is warranted. The Temporary No Contact Order is issued as an initial response to a complaint and does not necessarily indicate that a violation of the Student Code of Conduct has occurred.

2.5 University Stay Away Order

When the Office of the Dean of Students determines that contact between a student and one or more individuals is likely to negatively affect the safety or well-being of individuals or the University community, University Stay Away Orders may be issued.

The Order, specific to a person and/or location, prohibits the student from having any further direct or indirect contact with certain individuals, including, but not limited to, contact via email, mail, text messages, social media, or telephone, as well as third-party contact. If multiple students are involved, the Stay Away Order is generally mutual. At the discretion of the Office of the Dean of Students, a Stay Away Order may result in mandated changes to a student's academic schedule, on-campus employment, co-curricular or other activities, and/or residential assignments. A University Stay Away Order does not necessarily indicate that a violation of the Student Code of Conduct has occurred.

2.6 Disability Accommodations

An otherwise qualified student who requires accommodations in connection with the student conduct process must be registered with Disability Services and must contact Disability Services in a timely manner to seek accommodations specifically for the conduct process. Disability Services will review the matter, consulting with other administrators as appropriate, and communicate with the student to determine whether accommodations are required to permit the student to participate in the conduct process on a non-discriminatory basis. Any approved accommodations for the conduct process will be communicated to the Office of the Dean of Students and the hearing officer.

3.0 STUDENT CONDUCT PROCEDURES

The student conduct system exists to protect the rights of the Boston College community and provide a fair process for resolving student conduct complaints.

3.1 The Complaint or Report of an Incident

A student will become involved with the conduct system as a result of the University becoming aware of alleged violations of the Boston College Student Code of Conduct. Alleged violations are usually identified in a complaint or report submitted by a Residential Life staff member, Boston College police officer, off-campus community liaison, neighbor, fellow student, University official, or local police department. Anyone who has grounds to submit a report regarding any Boston College student may do so by submitting the Office of the Dean of Students Report of Alleged Violation Form.

The Office of the Dean of Students reserves the right to not proceed with complaints not submitted within a reasonable time frame.

3.2 Pursuit of Alleged Violations

The Office of the Dean of Students reserves the right to investigate and pursue all alleged violations of the Student Code of Conduct that come to its attention, including cases in which the students or other community members affected by the violation choose not to report an alleged violation or participate in a conduct process. In such cases, a University administrator with knowledge of the matter may act as the complainant. In any case, the Office of the Dean of Students retains the sole discretion to determine whether to address alleged student misconduct and how to administer the Student Code of Conduct. If criminal charges are pending in a matter, the Office of the Dean of Students may, but is not required to defer the proceedings while a criminal investigation is pending.

3.3 Notice to Responding Student

When alleged conduct violations are to be pursued against a student, the student will be contacted by the Office of the Dean of Students or designee. Designees, subsequently referred to as hearing officers, may include, but are not limited to, staff members in the Office of the Dean of Students and the Office of Residential Life. The responding student will be sent a written, verbal, or electronic notice about the alleged misconduct that will include information about how the student must respond. The student is typically required to schedule a meeting or hearing. If a student does not respond to a request to schedule a meeting or hearing or fails to appear for a scheduled meeting or hearing, the conduct matter may be heard in their absence, or an administrative hold may be placed on the student's status until the meeting or hearing occurs.

3.4 Advisors

Students may be accompanied by an advisor of their choice at any conduct hearing or meeting related to an alleged violation. Hearings will not be scheduled or postponed based upon the availability of a student's advisor. If a student plans to have an advisor present at a hearing or meeting, the student must notify the hearing officer, in writing, at least two business days before the hearing or meeting. If a hearing or meeting is scheduled with less than two business days' notice, the student is responsible for requesting additional time to obtain an advisor if needed.

The role of the advisor at meetings and hearings is limited. Advisors may not ask questions, interject, coach, advocate for, or otherwise speak on a student's behalf. The student and advisor can confer at any point, but the advisor may not formulate specific questions, responses, or statements for the student. Violations by the advisor may result in a warning being issued to the advisor by the hearing officer. Repeated violations may result in the advisor being asked to leave the meeting or hearing.

The University reserves the right to have legal counsel present at any meeting or hearing to serve as an advisor to the hearing board or hearing officer. The chairperson or hearing officer and legal counsel may consult anytime during the meeting or hearing.

Boston College officials involved in the student conduct process will address only general procedural matters with attorneys serving as advisors; all other matters will be referred to the Office of the General Counsel. The students involved in a conduct matter are expected to communicate directly with the University on their own behalf and in their own words with respect to any substantive questions, concerns, or other matters.

3.5 Witnesses

If a student wishes to provide witnesses, the student must inform the Office of the Dean of Students, in writing, and provide the names and contact information of the witnesses. Only witnesses who can attest to the facts of the incident are permitted to be a part of the conduct process. General character witnesses are not permitted. The Office of the Dean of Students has the authority to request the presence of witnesses to provide information to the hearing officer or board. Student witnesses may be subject to the student conduct process if they fail to cooperate with the conduct process and/or knowingly provide false information.

3.6 Privacy

All parties involved in a conduct matter, including the respondent, complainant, witness, advisors, and hearing officers, are expected to respect the privacy of other participants. Disclosure of information or evidence, whether written or oral, learned through an investigation or conduct process should not be disclosed, and any such disclosure by participants to persons not involved in the matter as direct participants, advisors, or responsible administrators may be dealt with as a subsequent conduct matter being pursued or as grounds for dismissal from the hearing. As a general rule, hearings are closed to individuals not directly involved.

3.7 Notification of Decisions

The responding student will generally be sent written notification of any decisions, including sanctions, if applicable, determined as a result of a meeting or hearing within ten (10) business days after a meeting or hearing. In cases involving allegations of sexual misconduct or of a crime of violence, the Office of the Dean of Students will notify both the respondent and the complainant of the decision and the status sanction imposed.

Conduct results may be shared with relevant academic deans and other University officials having a legitimate educational interest in such results.

3.8 Appeals

Students may submit an appeal of a decision reached in a conduct matter brought under the Student Code of Conduct, whether the decision was the result of an administrative hearing, a hearing board, or any other conduct proceeding administered under the auspices of Student Affairs.

Grounds for Appeal: Appeals may not be submitted to request a review or modification of sanctions. Appeals will be accepted solely on one or both of the following grounds:

1. Violation of Procedure: An appeal will be accepted if the student demonstrates that the University committed a material procedural error that likely adversely affected the result of the conduct process. Minor or inconsequential deviations from procedure do not give rise to an appeal right.
2. Previously Unavailable Information: An appeal will be accepted if the student is able to provide evidence that was unavailable to the student at the time of the conduct proceedings and that would be likely to change the finding.

How to File an Appeal: Students must submit an appeal within five (5) business days of the student receiving notification of the resolution of the conduct matter. Appeals must be written and submitted by the student rather than an advisor or representative. Appeals can be submitted utilizing the Appeals Form.

Review of Appeals: A member of the Office of the Dean of Students or designee acts as an “Appeals Officer.” The Office of the Dean of Students or designee may, in the exercise of reasonable discretion, defer imposed sanctions while an appeal is being considered.

The Appeals Officer will review the appeal to determine if it meets the required grounds. In so doing, the Appeals Officer may consult with the hearing officer, hearing board participants, investigator(s), and/or other University administrators involved in the conduct process and may review evidence.

The Appeals Officer will endeavor to make a decision on the appeal within ten (10) business days; however, the Officer may require additional time, in which case the student will be notified. If the Appeals Officer finds that the student has adequately demonstrated proper grounds for appeal, the Officer will determine whether to require the matter be re-heard in whole or in part by the original or a new hearing officer, board, or investigator(s), or may review the matter and determine that an adjustment in the findings or sanctions is appropriate.

The decision of the Appeals Officer is final.

4.0 ADJUDICATION PROCESSES

Boston College employs several types of student conduct processes. The Dean of Students or designee determines which process will be used, with consideration given to the nature of the matter and particular circumstances, including its complexity and severity, and the availability and type of evidence. All processes aim to resolve cases impartially and treat all individuals involved in the process with respect and objectivity. Any conduct process may be conducted virtually, in whole or in part, at the discretion of the Office of the Dean of Students.

Students are not permitted to record or use any type of electronic device at any hearing or meeting related to the conduct matter. Devices include, but not limited to, laptop computers, tape or digital recorders, phones, or other recording devices. In the case of a virtual conduct process, students may use a laptop or phone solely as needed to participate in the process, without recording.

The hearing officer or chairperson has the authority to maintain decorum in the hearing and has the discretion to determine whether to exclude testimony, evidence, or questions that the hearing officer or chairperson reasonably determines are not relevant to making a finding in the matter and/or are inappropriate.

Boston College has several types of student conduct processes, including:

- Administrative Hearings;
- Student and Administrative Hearing Boards;
- Sexual Misconduct Procedures; and
- Title IX Harassment Procedures

The descriptions of these processes do not limit the discretion of the Dean of Students to adjust a process to address the particular facts and circumstances of the matter. This may include, without limitation, conducting additional investigation, employing outside parties to assist the Office of the Dean of Students, and consulting with other University administrators, as appropriate.

An administrative hearing is a hearing that generally consists of a meeting or meetings with a single hearing officer to adjudicate an alleged policy violation. Alleged policy violations that involve more than one student may be resolved through an individual or group hearing(s) at the discretion of the hearing officer or the Office of the Dean of Students. The hearing officer may meet with the parties and witnesses separately, and may gather evidence separately from the meetings.

Students have a right to be informed of the allegations and hear relevant evidence gathered, present witnesses, have an advisor of their choice, and present other evidence on their behalf. A conduct matter may potentially be held for further information, referred to a hearing board, or resolved through a determination by the hearing officer.

4.2 Hearing Boards

Hearing boards determine responsibility and recommend sanctions, which are either approved or amended by the Dean of Students or designee.

Boston College has two distinct hearing boards: The Student Conduct Board and the Administrative Hearing Board. The Student Conduct Board is comprised of students, while the Administrative Hearing Board is typically comprised of administrators, faculty, and/or staff.

Chairpersons of hearing boards convene the boards, determine the order of hearing (e.g., witnesses, duration of testimony), determine the appropriateness of questions and/or testimony, and serve as the principal liaisons between the boards and the Office of the Dean of Students. The chairperson has final procedural authority during the hearing, but may consult with the Office of the Dean of Students at any time.

Click here to review the current procedures for both the Student Conduct Board and the Administrative Hearing Board. These procedures may be adjusted from time to time or for particular matters.

4.2.1 Student Conduct Board

The Student Conduct Board (SCB) is composed of student members and chairpersons. Students are selected for the SCB by the Office of the Dean of Students through an application and interview process. Chairpersons generally have at least one prior semester of service as a board member, and are selected by the Office of the Dean of Students.

A panel of a minimum of three voting members of the Student Conduct Board will hear individual cases. Decisions that can be reached by the Student Conduct Board are “responsible” or “not responsible.” A simple majority vote of the panel is required to render a decision. If the decision is “responsible,” the Board may recommend sanctions up to and including suspension from the University.

Board members must disclose any real or perceived conflict of interest between themselves and any party and may not serve on the board for a conduct matter if they are not able to be impartial.

4.2.2 Administrative Hearing Board

The Administrative Hearing Board (AHB) is typically composed of University administrators, faculty, and/or staff selected and trained by the Office of the Dean of Students. The Office of the Dean of Students staff members may serve as chairpersons or board members on the AHB, and may also serve as non-voting participants in AHB proceedings.

A panel of a minimum of three voting members of the Administrative Hearing Board will hear individual cases. Decisions that can be reached by the Administrative Hearing Board are “responsible” or “not responsible.” A simple majority vote of the panel is required to render a decision. If the decision is “responsible,” the Board may recommend sanctions up to and including suspension or dismissal from the University. In addition, the Board, when appropriate, may recommend other administrative measures or remedies.

Board members must disclose any real or perceived conflict of interest between themselves and any party and may not serve on the board for a conduct matter if they are not able to be impartial at its hearing.

4.3 Title IX and Sexual Misconduct Procedures

The University’s Title IX Harassment Policy and the Student Sexual Misconduct Policy describe how allegations of Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct are addressed, and the scope of conduct addressed under each policy. The policies also provide information regarding the University’s response efforts related to sexual harassment and sexual misconduct by students, including descriptions of prohibited conduct, reporting options, supportive measures, the complaint process, the informal resolution process, possible remedies and sanctions, and other information. To the extent either of these policies do not address an issue, the policies and procedures in the Student Code of Conduct apply.

5.0 SANCTIONS

Sanctions will be designed to deter students from similar future behavior, prevent further misconduct, address the misconduct's effect on the community, promote safety, and provide education. Sanctions are commensurate with the severity of the violation, at the sole discretion of the University.

Certain behaviors may be so harmful to the University community or individuals that they may require serious sanctions, such as removal from University housing, removal from specific courses or activities, suspension, or dismissal from the University. Such behaviors may include, but are not limited to, incidents of sexual assault, hazing, serious drug policy violations, fire safety violations, bias motivated conduct, and physical violence.

5.1 Status Sanctions

Students found responsible for violations of the Student Code of Conduct will typically have a change in their conduct-related status. This change can take many forms based upon the nature of the violation, and typically progress in seriousness with subsequent violations. All status sanctions are issued at the discretion of the Dean of Students or designee. These sanctions refer to a student's University conduct status and may be imposed for a specified period of time. A student's previous conduct history is a factor in determining appropriate sanctions for subsequent violations of the Student Code of Conduct. Subsequent violations of the Student Code of Conduct will generally result in a higher level status sanction being imposed. See Section 1.6 for more information about conduct standing.

These statuses are as follows:

- Conversational Resolution is a sanction generally utilized for first-time, low-level violations. Conversational Resolutions are meant to provide students an opportunity to discuss behavioral expectations of Boston College as well as to strategize ways to prevent further misconduct through student decision-making. Students are generally afforded the Conversational Resolution only once during their tenure.
- Administrative Warning is a formal notification to a student documenting that a violation of the Student Code of Conduct has occurred. It serves as an official warning to the student that subsequent violations of the Student Code of Conduct may result in higher-level sanctions.

- Probationary Statuses remain active for a specified period of time and serve as a formal notification that the conduct in question is unacceptable. During this time, the student is given the opportunity to modify unacceptable behavior, to complete specific assignments, and to demonstrate a positive contribution to the University community. Probationary statuses remain part of a student's conduct record even after the probationary period ends.

The hearing officer may, at their discretion, limit or exclude certain privileges available to a student on probation. Depending on the seriousness of the violation and/or the prevalence of the behavior, the following probationary statuses may be issued:

- Disciplinary Probation is the lower level probationary status, which indicates that similar or more severe violations of the Student Code of Conduct may result in University probation and/or loss of privileges. A student on Disciplinary Probation is considered by the University to be in good conduct standing during the probationary period.
- University Probation is the highest level of probationary status, which indicates that similar or more severe violations of the Student Code of Conduct may result in deferred suspension, suspension, deferred dismissal, or dismissal from the University, and/or loss of privileges. A student on University Probation is not considered by the University to be in good conduct standing during the probationary period.
- Deferred University Suspension indicates that a student is placed on notice that any subsequent violations of the Student Code of Conduct will generally result in suspension or dismissal from the University. A student on Deferred University Suspension is not considered by the University to be in good conduct standing during the Deferred University Suspension period.
- Deferred University Dismissal indicates that a student is placed on notice that any subsequent violations of the Student Code of Conduct will generally result in dismissal from the University. A student on Deferred University Dismissal is not considered by the University to be in good conduct standing during the Deferred University Dismissal period.

- University Suspension requires that the student not participate in any University-sponsored programs, services, or employment, or take courses to advance his or her Boston College degree for a specified period of time. While on suspension, a student may no longer be present on any Boston College owned or leased property. Students cannot be readmitted until after the date their suspension ends, nor may they register or pre-register for the following semester's courses or housing.

In addition, students who have been suspended from the University may lose certain privileges upon their return at the discretion of the hearing officer. Students returning from University Suspension will generally have a sanction of University Probation for a minimum of one semester upon their return to campus. A notation will be indicated on the student's transcript. A student on University Suspension is not considered by the University to be in good conduct standing during the University Suspension and University Probation period.

- University Dismissal requires that the student completely and permanently sever any and all connection with Boston College; this includes all Boston College activities, services, facilities, grounds, and undergraduate, graduate, and professional schools. A notation will be indicated on the student's transcript. A student dismissed from the University is not considered by the University to be in good conduct standing.

5.1.1 Organizational Sanctions

Student groups recognized by Boston College, which include academic and extracurricular programs or organizations, that are found responsible for violations of the Student Code of Conduct and other University Policies or Handbooks may be sanctioned and may experience a change in the group's status as a result. Sanctions can take many forms based on the nature of the violation(s) and typically progress in seriousness with subsequent violations.

All status sanctions are issued at the discretion of the Office of the Dean of Students, Office of Student Involvement, or designee. These sanctions refer to a Student Organization's conduct standing and are generally imposed for a specified period of time. A Student Organization's previous conduct history is a factor in determining appropriate sanctions for subsequent violations. Subsequent violations while on an active probationary status will generally result at a minimum in the next higher level of probationary sanction being levied. Organizational Status Sanctions are outlined here. The individuals involved may also be subject to individual process and/or sanctions.

5.2 Other Sanctions

- Alcohol and Drug Education Program: Students who have a drug and/or alcohol violation or a violation where alcohol and/or drugs may have been an aggravating factor may be sanctioned to an Alcohol and Drug Education (ADE) Program. Students sanctioned to an ADE Program will pay the associated fee for the provision of the program. See the Murray Center for Student Wellness for descriptions of ADE programs.
- Psychological and/or Substance Abuse Evaluation and Treatment: This referral requires that the student meet with a licensed mental health clinician to undergo a general psychological and/or substance abuse evaluation. The evaluation should include recommendations for subsequent treatment and the student will be required to comply with these recommendations. The student will need to sign a release so the clinician can confirm that the evaluation was completed and share any recommendations for subsequent treatment.
- Revocation of Privileges: This is a limitation on, or ban on participating in, one or more University activities, services, and facilities for a specified period of time. Privilege revocations include, but are not limited to, loss of leadership positions, exclusion from study abroad programs, loss of guest privileges, exclusion from student event participation (i.e., Senior Week), and loss of social gathering registration privileges.
- Revocation of Housing Privileges: This is a limitation on or loss of a student's ability to live in University housing. Revocation of housing privileges may include loss of University housing temporarily or permanently, restriction from certain buildings or areas of housing, and other housing-related restrictions.
- Deferred Revocation of Housing Privileges: This indicates that a student is placed on notice that any subsequent violations of the Student Code of Conduct or Conditions of Residency will generally result in a revocation of housing privileges.
- Administrative Placement: A student may be administratively placed, assigned to a room, and/or required to relocate to a different residence hall or area.
- Fines: Certain offenses may result in monetary sanctions. These sanctions will be applied to a student's account.
- Financial Restitution: Payment for damages and restitution for stolen property.
- Delay of Degree: The University reserves the right to delay the awarding of a degree.
- Revocation of Degree: The University reserves the right to revoke any degree, and such revocation would be noted on the student's academic transcript.

- Failure to Complete Sanctions: If a student fails to comply with or fails to complete an imposed sanction by the established deadline, the student may face additional action, including more progressive sanctioning, a hold on the student's account, and/or a fine of $100 (per incomplete sanction if applicable).

5.3 Formative Sanctions

Formative sanctions are used alone or in conjunction with status sanctions to hold students accountable for their behavior as well as to provide a venue for education, follow-up conversations, reflections, and meaningful contributions to the greater community.

- Conversation Project: The Conversation Project is a collaborative effort to organize and systematize how students meet with faculty and professional staff to have informal, meaningful conversations. The Conversation Project aims to provide a resource for students and to give them an opportunity to share in a “safe environment,” reflect upon their experience and identify pathways to foster future success.
- Educational Project/Paper: A student is required to engage in a specific educational project, such as writing a reflective paper, conducting research or a project, or creating a bulletin board in an area relevant to the offense.
- Friday Night Heights: Friday Night Heights is a collaborative workshop between the Office of the Dean of Students and the Boston Police Department. The workshop promotes citizenship, civility, and responsibility by educating students on their civic responsibilities, the risks, and the consequences of enabling underage drinking, and helping them to devise strategies for preventing problematic behaviors off-campus.
- Restorative Practices: Restorative Practices may be utilized as a result of the student conduct process, generally in situations where students take responsibility, and there is a need for restoration or repair. Restorative Practices include a spectrum of practices that respond to harmful incidents, seek to repair the harm that was caused, and rebuild trust. These practices can be reviewed in more detail here. Any resolutions developed and agreed upon by participants in a Restorative Practice will be reflected in an agreement signed by participants (a “Resolution Agreement”). Resolution Agreements may include, but are not limited to, letters of apology, participation in educational programs, and University Stay Away Orders. The Office of the Dean of Students or designee will enforce any terms and action items included in the Resolution Agreement.
- Roads Retreat: The Roads Retreat is a formative sanction that provides students the opportunity to reflect on their experience at Boston College thus far. In particular, students are provided an opportunity to think about ways that their behavior may be inconsistent with their core values and belief system and may affect their communities. The retreat includes talks from BC alums, small-group discussions, a staff panel, reflections, journaling, and an opportunity to speak with a conversation partner.

6.o OVERVIEW OF BEHAVIORAL EXPECTATIONS

Being a member of the Boston College community is a privilege, which comes with the responsibility to act in accordance with all institutional rules and policies. The Student Code of Conduct exists to make students aware of these behavioral expectations and to articulate the process of addressing violations of these expectations.

As a Jesuit, Catholic institution, Boston College is committed to the holistic development of its students, and part of this commitment is instilling integrity, encouraging right decision-making, and fostering self-accountability.

Consistent with Boston College's commitment to student formation, students are expected to engage in self-reflection and to grow intellectually, socially, and spiritually. The goal of the Student Code of Conduct is to facilitate this growth by educating and fostering the civility, community, and social decorum expected at an institute of higher education.

7.0 GENERAL PROVISIONS

7.1 Academic Policies

Students are expected to maintain high standards of integrity in their academic work and comply with the University's academic policies and procedures. See the University's Academic Integrity Policies within the University Catalog.

7.2 Complicity

Students shall not assist, facilitate, or encourage a violation of the Student Code of Conduct or other applicable University policy.

7.3 Conditions for Residency

Students residing in Boston College residential facilities are bound by the policies and procedures of the Student Code of Conduct as well as the Conditions for Residency. These documents, along with other Residential Life policies, can be found on the Office of Residential Life's Community Expectations webpage.

7.4 Guest Policy

Students are responsible for ensuring their guests know and adhere to the Student Code of Conduct and all other applicable University policies and procedures. Students are responsible for the behavior of their guests and may be held accountable for violations committed by their guests, including restitution for damage to University facilities and other restitution as necessary. The host may be found responsible for a guest's conduct even if the host is not a participant in the activity or has left the guest(s) alone. Students residing in Boston College residential facilities must follow all Residential Life policies regarding guests.

7.5 Immunization Requirements

Students are responsible for complying with Massachusetts State Law and Boston College policies requiring proof of required immunizations by specified dates. Immunization requirements are managed by University Health Services.

7.6 Social Media

Students who make use of any social media platform must abide by the platform's user terms and conditions, this Student Code of Conduct, and all other applicable University policies. The University may hold students accountable for any violations of those terms and conditions or policies of which it becomes aware, though the University is not obligated to monitor social media.

7.7 Off-Campus Expectations

Students living off-campus are responsible for the conduct and activities occurring at their residences at all times, including the conduct and activities of guests, whether or not the students are active hosts or direct participants in the conduct or activity. Students must comply with the requests and directives of University officials, law enforcement, and other public officials. Students must also submit their local (off-campus) addresses to Boston College and attend mandatory meetings.

7.8 Other Violations

The University reserves the right to pursue conduct proceedings against a student for alleged behavior or conduct that is not specifically identified in the Student Code of Conduct. This may include, but is not limited to, violations of the general expectations of students outlined in this document as well as violations of any other published or posted University rule or University policy.

8.0 SUBSTANCE USE AND MISUSE POLICIES

Boston College abides by all local, state, and federal laws with regard to alcohol and drug use and requires that all students do the same, in addition to adhering to the University's policies. In some cases, the University has established greater restrictions on drugs and alcohol than what the law may permit; in such cases, students are expected to comply with the University policy.

8.1 Alcohol Policy

Students under the age of 21 years are prohibited from possessing, using, being in the presence of, purchasing, transporting, selling, and/or distributing alcohol.

Regardless of legal drinking age, all students are prohibited from:

- possessing or consuming an open container of alcohol in on- or off-campus public or common areas (e.g., Campus Green, outdoors, lounges, hallways, etc.),
- consuming alcohol resulting in the need for medical attention. Situations where an individual seeks medical attention for him/herself or for another Boston College student will be handled according to the "Seeking Help for Alcohol- and Drug-Related Emergencies Policy" outlined in Section 8.3,
- engaging in drunken and/or disorderly conduct,
- possessing, furnishing, consuming, or serving from a large quantity or common source of alcohol (i.e., borgs, kegs, punch bowls),
- hosting or participating in the rapid consumption of alcohol, including high-risk drinking games,
- enabling underage alcohol consumption. Students will be considered to be enabling the underage consumption of alcohol if they possess or have alcohol present in their residence for use by others, regardless of who purchased or acquired the alcohol. Students are also responsible for misconduct if they passively allow illegal alcohol use within their residence hall room or off-campus residence, or otherwise provide a setting that allows for the underage consumption of alcohol, and
- driving while under the influence of alcohol.

For specific guidelines pertaining to alcohol use and abuse within the residence halls, refer to the Conditions for Residency.

8.2 Drug Policy

The University prohibits the possession and manufacturing, use, consumption, being in the presence of, providing, sale, or distribution of drugs as well as the possession, manufacturing, use, or sale of drug paraphernalia, including vaporizers. Additionally, the intent to purchase, facilitate a purchase, sell, deliver, or manufacture drugs is prohibited. Driving while under the influence of drugs is also prohibited.

Students are also responsible for misconduct if they passively allow drug use to occur within their residence hall room or off-campus residence, or otherwise provide a setting that allows the possession, use, consumption, manufacturing, providing, sale, or distribution of drugs or drug paraphernalia.

The University reserves the right to sanction students in cases in which indicators of drug use are present, whether or not drugs are recovered. These indicators may include, but are not limited to, symptoms of drug intoxication, the odor or residue of prohibited drugs, the presence of drug paraphernalia, attempts to mask odors, or other evidence of behavior designed to avoid detection.

The term “drugs” broadly includes, without limitation, any stimulant, intoxicant (other than alcohol), nervous system depressant, hallucinogen, or other chemical substance, compound, or combination when used to induce an altered state, including any otherwise lawfully available product used for any purpose other than its intended use (e.g., the misuse of prescription drugs, over-the-counter drugs, or household products).

The term “drug paraphernalia” broadly includes any material, product, instrument, or item used to create, manufacture, distribute, use (ingesting, inhaling, or otherwise introducing any drug into the body), or otherwise manipulate any drug and includes, but is not limited to, hypodermic needles, syringes, bongs, vaporizers, or pipes.

The University generally classifies drugs into three broad categories:

- marijuana
- illicit drugs
- misused prescription drugs

Marijuana: Although Massachusetts law permits the recreational use of marijuana by adults over the age of 21, Boston College does not. The possession, use, consumption, manufacturing, sale, or distribution of drugs, including marijuana, by students is prohibited. Federal law prohibits the possession, use, purchase, or sale of marijuana or THC, including edibles. This policy complies with the requirements of the federal “Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act.” Under this federal law, as a condition of receiving federal funds, an institution of higher education such as Boston College must certify that it has adopted and implemented a program to prevent the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees on campus and as part of its activities and programs. Under federal law, this includes any amount of marijuana.

Illicit Drugs: Cocaine, heroin, ecstasy (MDMA), amphetamines, methamphetamines, hallucinogens (i.e., LSD, psilocybin mushrooms), and similar substances are considered to be illicit drugs due to the severe negative health and safety outcomes associated with their use.

Misuse of Prescription Drugs: Misuse of prescription drugs, including opiates/pain-killers (i.e., morphine, oxycodone), stimulants (i.e., Ritalin), sedative-hypnotics (i.e., barbiturates, anxiolytics), and other psychoactive drugs, is prohibited. This includes taking a medication that is not prescribed to you, taking more than the prescribed dose of a medication, sharing or distributing medication with individuals who are not prescribed such medication, or taking a prescription medication for a reason other than the intended use (i.e., to produce a “high”).

8.3 Seeking Help for Alcohol- and Drug-Related Medical Emergencies

The health and safety of Boston College students is of paramount concern. As a result, all students are expected and encouraged to seek immediate assistance for themselves or others in situations where help is needed due to intoxication or drug use.

Boston College will support and encourage this help-seeking behavior by treating the situation as a health and safety matter, rather than a conduct matter, when students contact emergency responders or University officials (e.g., Resident Assistant, Boston College Police) for assistance. Additionally, anyone who seeks help or calls for help on behalf of another student may not be subject to action through the conduct system.

- Students who seek and receive medical attention in such situations will be required to complete certain educational and/or counseling interventions and will also be subject to all costs related to their medical care. Failure to complete these referrals would be treated as a conduct matter.
- Students who demonstrate consistent and repeated patterns of alcohol- and drug-related medical emergencies may require further medical review and/or treatment, and may be subject to disciplinary action.

Regardless of help-seeking behavior, students may be held accountable for misconduct accompanying or incidental to the use and/or abuse of alcohol or other substances. For example, disorderly behavior, hazing, violence, property damage, or distribution or intent to distribute may be treated as conduct violations and responded to accordingly.

For immediate medical assistance, contact the BC Police at (617) 552-4444.

9.0 RESPECT FOR PERSONS

To foster the sense of community that is vital for an educational institution to function as a marketplace of ideas, to foster student development, and to encourage cognitive growth, all members of the campus community must respect the rights and contributions of other members of the community. Students are expected to be open to learning, meaningfully engage with difference, and care for others. Boston College expects its members to honor the inherent dignity of members of our community and others by being considerate, sensitive, understanding, and concerned for themselves and the welfare of others.

9.1 Bias Motivated Conduct

Bias motivated conduct is prohibited. The term “bias motivated” refers to behavior and/or language that demonstrates bias against persons or groups because of those persons’ or groups’ actual or perceived race, religion, disability, sexual orientation, nationality, gender, ethnicity, or status as a member of any other protected class.

Under this Student Code of Conduct, bias motivated conduct is any conduct, whether verbal, written, or physical, that constitutes a violation of the Code of Conduct and is in whole or in part motivated by bias, or is coupled with evidence of bias motivation. Examples may include defacement of posters or signs, threatening comments or messages, vandalism to personal or University property, or similar acts.

If bias is found to be present, bias motivated conduct will generally be deemed to be an aggravating circumstance to the underlying violation of the Student Code of Conduct. Consequently, a finding of bias motivated conduct may result in a more severe sanction than would be given for the conduct violation without evidence of bias motivation. In some cases, bias motivated conduct may constitute discriminatory harassment or sexual misconduct and may give rise to other conduct allegations accordingly.

9.2 Discriminatory Harassment

Discriminatory harassment is prohibited. See the Discriminatory Harassment Policy for definitions of prohibited conduct. Sexual harassment is defined and addressed under Section 9.7.

9.3 Hazing

Any form of hazing is prohibited by University policy and Massachusetts State Law.

9.4 Physical Violence

Physical violence includes, but is not limited to, any physical contact that results in harm or was intended to cause harm, and any fighting/brawling, slapping, spitting, shoving, and restraining. Students are expected to avoid physical conflicts at all times. Under no circumstance is physical violence an acceptable means to resolve problems, disputes, or interpersonal relations.

9.5 Retaliation

Boston College prohibits retaliation of any kind against any individual filing a report or participating in an investigation or conduct process involving a Boston College student. Behavior that may be considered retaliatory includes, but is not limited to:

- discouraging an individual from reporting an incident,
- discouraging witness participation,
- threatening, harassing, or intimidating a participant in a conduct process, or
- intentionally causing negative consequences for a participant in a conduct process or for a participant's personal relationships or social circles

9.6 Threats

Threats are direct actions that cause a reasonable fear of physical harm to another person or that would be likely to significantly compromise a reasonable person's emotional or mental well-being. This includes instances where the conduct would be reasonably interpreted as a threat, regardless of the individuals' actual intent or ability to carry out any threatened action(s), or whether the threat is made on a present, conditional, or future basis. Threatening actions may include, but are not limited to, verbal communication, physical gestures, written or electronic communications, imagery, and property damage.

9.7 Title IX and Sexual Misconduct

All forms of sexual harassment and sexual misconduct including, without limitation, sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking, are prohibited by Boston College. The University maintains a Title IX Harassment Policy which addresses conduct constituting sexual harassment under Title IX, as well as the Student Sexual Misconduct Policy, which addresses non-Title IX sexual harassment and misconduct. Each policy includes explanations and definitions for the conduct covered under the policy, as well as the adjudication process for conduct covered under the policy.

10.0 RESPECT FOR PROPERTY

The efficient and mutually beneficial functioning of an educational community requires the responsible use of all property, including buildings, green spaces, tangible goods, intellectual property, technology, and equipment. Respect for property also involves helping to foster a positive and supportive environment. A sense of security, tranquility, and accomplishment are all essential to the learning endeavor. This principle requires students to respect personal and institutional property inside and outside the Boston College community.

10.1 Information Technology Use

Students must abide by all University policies governing the use of technological resources, including the Use of Technological and Information Resources Policy and the Copyright Compliance Policy.

10.2 Property Damage

Property damage includes any damage, destruction, vandalism, or defacement of property, regardless of intent. A student found responsible for property damage may be required to reimburse the University and/or the property owner for the damage or loss, in addition to receiving conduct sanctions.

10.3 Theft/Possession of Stolen Property

Theft is the unauthorized taking, appropriation, use, or possession of property belonging to another person or entity. Failing to tender payment for services rendered, and the unauthorized taking of food and package deliveries, may also constitute theft. Found property should be presumed lost and delivered to an appropriate University authority immediately. Failure to return found property to an appropriate authority may constitute theft.

10.4 Posting Policy

All signage and postings on Boston College property must be approved and be consistent with Boston College community standards. Only registered clubs, organizations, and academic or administrative departments are permitted to post on Boston College property, and for student groups, each posting and the proposed posting location(s) must be approved and stamped by the Office of Student Involvement or the Office of Residential Life in advance.

11.0 RESPECT FOR THE COMMUNITY

Students are expected to conduct themselves with the social decorum and respect for the rights of others required of an educational institution. Upholding the reputation of the University through proper citizenship within the community is essential in maintaining the educational and developmental reputation of the institution, which is vital in preserving the standing of Boston College within our wider community.

11.1 Community Disturbance

Each student is expected to demonstrate responsible citizenship and to not participate in or create conditions that disrupt the peace of the University or the larger community. Community disturbances include, but are not limited to, excessive or unreasonable noise, excessively large parties, and behavior that interferes with the normal operation of the University or University-sponsored events.

11.2 Disorderly Conduct

Disorderly conduct is any behavior that is reasonably likely to disturb the peace, disturb or infringe the rights of other people, damage property, or result in harm to others or the community. Disorderly conduct may include, but is not limited to, unreasonable, reckless, disruptive, lewd, or unruly behavior, and may include the use of rude or abusive language.

11.3 Failure to Comply

Students must comply with the requests and directives of University officials, law enforcement, and fire or other public officials acting in the performance of their duties, and they must identify themselves to these persons when requested to do so. Boston College identification cards are the property of the University and must be presented to authorized University officials upon request. Students are expected to comply with all applicable University and departmental policies and directives, whether or not expressly included in the Student Code of Conduct. Students are also required to complete all sanctions issued as part of the conduct process by the specified due dates.

11.4 Fire-Related Misconduct

Any conduct that creates a fire or creates a foreseeable risk of fire is prohibited, even if no fire is intended or does occur, including, but not limited to, smoking, burning trash, starting a bonfire, igniting door decorations or materials on a bulletin board, or possessing or using fireworks. In residential spaces, fire safety expectations are documented in the Conditions for Residency, and includes additional prohibited items, such as candles. Students found responsible for this conduct may be placed on Deferred Housing Probation or have their housing privileges revoked, in addition to receiving other applicable status and formative sanctions. In addition, the misuse, disabling, covering, or tampering with fire-protection devices such as extinguishers, smoke detectors, and alarms is prohibited. Setting off a false alarm and tampering with fire/safety equipment may result in University suspension. Failure to evacuate during a fire alarm is also prohibited.

A complete and current list of safety and security policies for the residence halls, is available on the Office of Residential Life's Community Expectations webpage.

11.5 Gambling

All forms of illegal gambling are prohibited. Under Massachusetts (MA) law, no one under the age of 21 is permitted to engage in any form of gambling or wagering. MA law also prohibits individuals of any age from participating in many gambling activities, including, without limitation, betting on MA college teams, bookmaking or pool setting for profit, promoting or setting up a lottery for money or property, or winning or losing money or other valuables by play or hazard at any unsanctioned game.

Further, the NCAA prohibits student athletes and anyone else who has any responsibilities for or within the Athletics Department from participating in any form of sports wagering, including with respect to any college, amateur, and professional sports. The University also prohibits the sharing or use of any non-public information about any student athlete, team, or University athletics competition in connection with any gambling activity, whether legal or not. Boston College expects that students who participate in any form of legal gambling demonstrate responsible and ethical decision-making.

11.6 Misrepresentation of Identity

In Massachusetts it is a felony to falsely make or alter a driver's license or other form of identification. It is also a criminal offense in Massachusetts to use or carry a false identification card. It is considered a misrepresentation of identity or information for any Boston College student to:

- alter, deface, or falsify an identification
- obtain, conspire to obtain, or possess fake identification
- manufacture or distribute fraudulent IDs (including attempting or assisting)
- implicitly or explicitly present themselves as another person or affiliated entity

Additional conduct that may be considered a misrepresentation of identity or information include, but are not limited to, forgery, the alteration/misuse of any University document, fraudulent acts, or the creation and use of fake online accounts to harass or harm others.

11.7 Providing False Information

Students may not intentionally provide false or inaccurate information or records to a University official or other authority. This includes, but is not limited to, providing a false report of an emergency, crime, or code violation, falsely denying an affiliation with the University, providing false statements during a conduct or other University proceeding, or falsely activating a campus Emergency Blue-Light Call Box.

11.8 Sexual Activity

All students have a responsibility to respect the values and traditions of Boston College as a Jesuit, Catholic institution, including adhering to the Church's teachings with respect to sexual activity. Consequently, incidents of sexual intercourse outside the bonds of matrimony may be referred to the student conduct system.

11.9 Smoking

Students are required to abide by the University Tobacco and Smoke-Free Policy, which prohibits the use of tobacco and smoking on University property. According to the policy, smoking includes the burning, inhaling, or exhaling, by means of any kind of lighted pipe, cigar, cigarette, hookah, vaporizer, or other device, of any tobacco or other plant product, including marijuana.

11.10 Student Commercial Activity and Solicitation

No student may sell, solicit orders for, or distribute goods or services, collect funds for any commercial or charitable purpose, or act as an agent or sales representative for a person or business not affiliated with the University on the University campus (including in the residence halls) without prior written permission as set forth below, unless otherwise permitted in connection with a University-sanctioned institutional activity.

Prior written permission is also required for student personal commercial activity that uses University resources, including, but not limited to, University grounds and facilities, campus phones, University network connections, University email accounts, and student mailboxes. No student commercial activity, including in connection with sanctioned academic activities, may be specifically directed to a University operation or interfere with, hinder, or otherwise affect University operations without prior written permission as provided below. Additionally, no student personal commercial activity, including when approved, may be conducted in any manner that would lead the University community, alumni, parents, or the public to believe that the activity is officially sponsored or endorsed by the University or its student and alumni groups.

Requests for permission to conduct student commercial activities covered by this policy must be submitted to the Vice President for Student Affairs or a designee, who may consult with other University officials, as appropriate. Decisions regarding such requests and activities are at the sole discretion of the University. Permission, when granted, may be subject to change, limitations, and restrictions. In all cases, permitted activities remain subject to and must comply with applicable law and other University policies and procedures. Students who are uncertain about the applicability of this policy to an activity may consult with the Office of the Dean of Students.

The insignia of Boston College, including all names, logos, seals, and mascots associated with the University, are trademarks of the University and protected by trademark law, as well as University policy. University permission is required for the use of Boston College trademarks.

Violation of this policy may result in referral to the student conduct process, termination of the Residency Agreement under the Conditions for Residency (where the prohibited conduct takes place in University housing); and/or legal action.

11.11 Student Demonstrations

Students organizing or participating in a demonstration are required to abide by the Student Demonstration Policy, which requires registration and approval.

Boston College has a long-standing commitment to protecting the right to free expression, including the right to protest. Discourse is central to the life of the University, and students engage in dialogue in a spirit of mutual respect, civility, and care. At the same time, the University prioritizes the safety and well-being of students who take part in demonstrations and rallies and of other members of our campus community who are affected by these events. Additionally, Boston College must seek to carefully balance the sometimes-competing interests of the University and its community to engage in learning, teaching, research, and other University-sponsored activities, and to promote the distinctive mission of Boston College without undue disruption or interference.

To ensure that public demonstrations do not violate directly or indirectly the rights of others by preventing or disrupting the ordinary operation of the University, all activities in the nature of a public speech, rally, demonstration, march, protest, or other coordinated event ("demonstrations") must be registered and approved in advance by the Associate Vice President for Student Engagement & Formation or designee.

Boston College reserves the right to condition the time, place, and manner of proposed demonstrations, and to withhold approval of proposed demonstrations which reasonably appear to be organized by or on behalf of persons or organizations that are not affiliated with Boston College, or which are intended or deemed likely to disrupt or interfere with University operations, or to adversely impact the mission of Boston College, especially its Jesuit, Catholic dimensions.

Process of Approval: To ensure they are organized by and for members of the University community, all demonstrations must have a University-affiliated Organizer, whether one or more enrolled students or an authorized officer of a recognized student organization. The Organizer must meet with the Associate Vice President for Student Engagement & Formation or designee to coordinate the event and is encouraged to schedule this meeting well in advance. The planned demonstration may be scheduled no less than three business days after this meeting. The purpose of the meeting is to review the details of the proposed demonstration, including proposed time, place, manner, and size of the event. If the Organizer is planning the event on behalf of a recognized club or organization, the advisor to the club or organization is expected to have consulted with the student leaders and should attend this meeting as well.

Reservation of campus space for any approved event is contingent upon availability. To maintain an academic environment free from disruption during class time, the University has established a policy on amplified sound (which may be found in the Student Involvement Handbook). Under this policy, amplified sound may not be used in areas near academic and administrative buildings or worship and reflection spaces - including O'Neill Plaza - until after 5:00 p.m. If a student wishes to register a demonstration and use amplified sound prior to 5:00 p.m., this request will be considered and, if approved, an alternative location that is not located near academic and administrative buildings or worship and reflection spaces will be identified.

The Organizer of the event is responsible for all associated costs with the event (including security if deemed necessary by the University). If the Organizer requires budget assistance, the Organizer should reach out to the AVP for Student Engagement & Formation or designee as early as possible to plan for event costs.

If approved, the event must be conducted in accordance with any special conditions outlined in the approval, the guidelines set forth below, all applicable policies set forth in the Student Code of Conduct as well as local, state, and federal law. The Organizer is responsible for taking reasonable steps to ensure compliance with these requirements by all participants, and may be held accountable for violations of them by any persons involved in the demonstration.

By way of example only, demonstrations involving any of the following activities will be deemed disruptive and unacceptable:

Obstruction or disruption of the affairs of the University or daily operation of the University, including, without limitation, teaching, research, public presentations, administration, conduct procedures, worship activities or events, athletic or dramatic events, special University-wide or alumni events, or placement or recruitment services.

Unauthorized entry to a University facility or grounds and/or failure to leave a University facility or grounds when requested to do so by a representative of the University.
Obstruction of the entrance or exit to a University facility or a campus roadway.

Organizing or participating in a demonstration without prior authorization may result in conduct action.

11.12 Unauthorized Entry

Students may not intrude on or enter into another person's property without permission. This includes unauthorized entry into restricted University buildings or areas, including athletic facilities, construction sites, and student rooms or offices, even if unlocked, as well as any restrictions that the University imposes for specific events (e.g., during tailgating, Marathon Monday, and Senior Week events). Tampering with locks to University buildings, unauthorized possession or use of University keys, and alteration or duplication of University keys and access cards is prohibited. Climbing on any University building or University-owned structure or being present on building roofs is prohibited.

11.13 Violations of Local, State, or Federal Law

Any violation of local, state, or federal law may be considered to be a violation of this Student Code of Conduct.

11.14 Weapons, Firearms, and Dangerous Devices

Possessing or carrying on campus a firearm, loaded or unloaded, ammunition, or any other weapon, including, but not limited to, a knife, taser, bow, gun, BB gun, paint ball gun, soft air gun, slingshot, or laser beam is prohibited. The possession of chemical sprays (e.g., Mace, pepper spray, or their derivatives) on the Boston College campus without the authorization of the Chief of the Boston College Police is also prohibited. Improper use or possession of any weapon off-campus is also prohibited.

Prop/Theatrical Weapons: Possession of a device that could be reasonably mistaken for a weapon (such as a toy gun, starter gun, or theatrical prop) is prohibited on campus, unless approved in advance by the Boston College Police and the Office of the Dean of Students.
